MEMBERS OF LOWELL TROOPS OFF FOR BOY SCOUT CAMP

SCOUT EXECUTIVE MELLON, LOWELL COUNCIL MEMBERS AND SCOUTS READY FOR TRIP TO CAMP AT HUDSON, N. H.

The Lowell Boy Scout camp officially opened this morning, when a group of 24 boys and officers left Lowell for Robinson's pond, Hudson Centre, N. H. Eleven Eagle scouts and some of the officers went to camp on Monday to put everything in readiness for the arrival of the main body today. The camp will extend over a period of four weeks; some of the boys will stay the whole time while others will change from time to time. The largest group is expected next week when 100 scouts will go into camp. Throughout the season the boys will be under the watchful guidance of Edwin Mellon, Lowell Scout executive, and a competent staff of assistants. Mr. Mellon has arranged a program that includes in addition to the regular scope of scout activities, swimming under the care of expert lifeguards, boating, bugling, sports, nature study, treasure hunts, and stunt camp fires. For those who can not swim there will be special instructions by experts. While the scouts are in the water the leaders will maintain patrol service on the shore and in boats to safeguard against a possibility of accident. Ideal conditions are offered for passing Scout tests, including merit badges and the court of honor will hold special sessions in camp to advance all Scouts who are qualified to pass the examinations. Mail should be addressed to Lowell Council, Boy Scouts of America, Hudson Centre, N. H.

Big Break-Up Came on the 101st Ballot, When Delegates Left McAdoo and Smith to Hop on the Davis Bandwagon

RESULTS OF TODAY'S BALLOTS

Seven ballots were taken at the convention session which began at 9 o'clock last night and continued until 4 o'clock this morning. Just before the beginning of the 100th ballot McAdoo released his delegates. At a long conference earlier in the balloting between McAdoo and Smith, McAdoo turned down Smith's proposition to have both retire. Following the 99th ballot, which gave McAdoo 353½ and Smith 353, a letter from McAdoo to Chairman Walsh releasing his delegates was read. The letter was so phrased as not to put McAdoo in the position of formally withdrawing from the race. Pronounced drifts to J. W. Davis, Meredith, and Walsh, came on the 100th ballot, which resulted in McAdoo dropping to third place, with Smith holding the lead and Davis moving into second position. After the 100th ballot the convention adjourned until noon today. The vote on the 100th attempt to nominate was as follows:

Smith	351½	121
J. W. Davis	203½	316
McAdoo	190	52
Meredith	75½	130
Walsh	52½	98
Robinson	46	22½
Underwood	41½	229
Glass	35	59
Owen	20	23
Ritchie	17½	½
Saulsbury	6
Daniels	24	1
Gerard	10	16
Houston	9	9
Baker	4	1
Bryan	2
Berry	1	1
Cummings		9
Hull		2
Murphree		4

UNDERWOOD IN SECOND PLACE

Big Break-Up Today—Davis and Underwood Move to Front

Meredith to Whom McAdoo Leaders Tried to Deliver Vote a Poor Third

Bulk of Smith Support Went Over to Underwood—Delegates Released

Vote on 101st Ballot, Davis 316; Underwood, 229; and Meredith, 130

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 9.—John W. Davis of West Virginia, sprang into the lead in today's balloting in the democratic national convention, with Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, close behind him.

In the break-up of the McAdoo and Smith forces which began on the 101st ballot today, Davis sprang into the lead and many of the Smith votes were transferred to Underwood, putting the Alabama man second.

E. T. Meredith of Iowa to whom many of the McAdoo captives were attempting to deliver their strength, was a slow third.

101st Ballot

On this ballot, the first of the day, the new order of candidates was: John W. Davis, 316; Oscar W. Underwood, 229; E. T. Meredith, 130.

Smith was fourth with 121, Sen. Thos. Walsh, fifth with 98.

The other votes were scattered as follows:

Glass 59, McAdoo 52, Robinson 22½, Ritchie 15, Owens 23, Murphree 4, Berry 1, Houston 9, Cummings 9, Hull 2.

SIMPLE FUNERAL SERVICES FOR CALVIN COOLIDGE, JR.

Washington Pays Tribute at Brief Services in East Room of White House—Body Will Be Taken to Northampton, Tonight—Burial at Plymouth, Vt.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Only the setting of the historic White House East room with its profusion of banked flowers, might distinguish the simple funeral service today for Calvin Coolidge, Jr., from that for any other youth of his country. The government of nations, with his own, were permitted their wish to pay respect to the president's dead son, but the desire of the bereaved family for simplicity ruled in every detail of arrangements. A prayer by the Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational church which the president and Mrs. Coolidge attend here, his reading of Scripture and the singing of favorite hymns by a quartet, was the simple rite for the late afternoon service.

Tonight the body of the youth, whose

Sweating humanity, unmercifully pestered by three days of extreme torridity and intense humidity, breathed sighs of genuine relief today, when they scanned the home and down-town thermometers and read the news.

The "heat wave" appears to be departing, although to most folks suffering from a plethora of heat and humidity since last Sunday, it seemed just as hot and sticky, and generally uncomfortable this morning as it did yesterday, all day and evening.

Yesterday's maximum mercury reading in Lowell was 92. Boston's highest was 80, but an easterly breeze from the Atlantic lowered the Hub temperature slightly.

Lowell's second hot wave of the 1924 season reached its full strength yesterday.

LOWELL DOUGHBOYS DO THEIR STUFF ON CAMP DEVENS RANGES

C and D Companies of 182nd Infantry Now in Full Stride at Summer Encampment—Good Rifle Scores Turned In—Snappy Comment and News

(Special to The Sun)

CAMP DEVENS, July 9.—Cheerfully sweltering in dungeons through an all-day program that included continuous target practice with rifles and pistols and also machine gun instruction in quick-firing, Lowell national guardsmen, numbering more than 100 members of Companies C and D, 182nd Infantry, last night biked smartly back over the two-mile Camp Devens trail to Eleventh street barracks, tired but happy.

The day's work brought numerous bulls' eye scores and better grand totals than were recorded in Monday's official target records on the Cranbury pond ranges.

Today, the boys from the Spindle City are back again on the ranges, eager to increase their final score averages.

OUT OUR WAY

REDMOND CASE ON TRIAL IN BOSTON

BOSTON, July 8.—The Redmond case went to trial before Judge Lowell in the federal court yesterday. A jury was quickly impaneled after the plea of not guilty entered by George F. Redmond of the defunct G. F. Redmond & Co., Inc., and Ray F. Sheridan. The charge was conspiracy to defraud and fraudulent use of the mails.

At the afternoon session Sheridan withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded not to two indictments.

Mrs. E. M. Downes of 25 Everett avenue, Winchester, was the first witness. She testified that she telephoned the Redmond concern in August, 1922, and made a purchase. She identified receipts and literature mailed to her. Asst. Dist. Atty. Essex Abbott read a copy of the Redmond partial payment booklet. Mr. Abbott is assisted by Asst. Dist. Atty. Carroll.

In his opening, which went into considerable detail on the plan of 20 per cent. down and 5 per cent. monthly payments, Mr. Abbott said that in order to do an honest business on that basis the concern would have needed the resources of the Bank of England and the United States government. He estimated the losses of the company at $12,000,000 at the time it went into bankruptcy.

Mrs. Downes testified she received one batch of stock, but was unable to secure other shares she thought she was entitled to. She was cross-examined by Attorney Leo Rogers as to whether she had paid all she had agreed to before being entitled to stock. Her monthly statements from the company were then examined.

The witness admitted that when she asked for certain stock that was paid up she could not get it, the agent saying that other stocks had depreciated and that she could not withdraw certain paid-up stock. She named a radio stock as having been paid for but which the Redmond concern would not deliver.

Violent H. Goodwin of Chelsea testified she purchased stock of the Redmond company and received certain communications through the mail. Witness said she received certain stock and other stock remained in accordance with her agreement.

Richard H. McElroy of Malden was another witness. He said he never paid in full for his stock and knew the receivers took over the concern.

Richard Helander of Squantum was another Redmond customer. He bought certain leather and oil stocks on the partial-payment plan.

PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD SESSION IS BRIEF

The board of public service in short and spirited session yesterday afternoon again criticized the superintendent of streets, this time for failure to provide the work progress charts which the board ordered many weeks ago. As usual the superintendent agreed to remedy the board's complaint and promised to show some speed in applying the remedy.

The tangle over the award of the contract for sealing oil for road work was definitely settled when the board decided to make no award. The purchasing agent will be asked to advertise anew for bids when such material is needed. On the last bid the American Oil Products, at 16 a gallon, was the only bidder. The board claims it can buy this material without bids at 12 or 13 cents.

The Buckland Printing Co. was given the contract for printing the annual report of the water department. Their price was $184.50 as against $322.50 for Sullivan Bros. The water department was authorized to buy a 3 1/2 ton truck to replace the horses in use at the West Sixth street pumping plant.

Monthly bills as follows met approval: Ashes and waste, $662.37; street sprinkling, $532.60; street maintenance, $594.50; Oakland sewer, $602.56; moonbeam, $1620.85; new sidewalk, $1123.48; paving, $10,568.53; sewer construction, $1511.00; street lighting, $11,763.32; sewer maintenance, $135.91; transfers, $1261.68 and water department, $8803.51.

MOBILIZATION SEPT. 12

Col. Goodale in Charge of Defense Test Throughout
New England

BOSTON, July 8.—Col. George S. Goodale has been selected by Maj. Gen. Andre W. Brewster, commanding general of the 1st Corps Area, as officer in charge of plans for the coming defense test throughout New England.

Col. Goodale has been in charge of the Reserve Officers' training corps affairs in the 1st Corps Area during the past year.

In discussing plans, Col. Goodale said: "The so-called 'Defense Test' is merely a part of the regular training of the various components of the army of the United States. It is no different in this respect than training in close and extended order drill, target practice or any other of the many forms of training prescribed both by custom and regulations."

"The war department feels that while the people of the United States do not want a large army, they do want an efficient and well trained army."

"The defense test, or mobilization test which has been planned for the entire United States on Sept. 12, is merely the inauguration of a routine system of training which will hereafter become as much a part of the education of officers and men of the army as squads right and left."

"It is in no sense intended as a threat or show of military strength; in fact it is, as the name implies, simply a test or exercises to demonstrate the plan for defense mobilization and to be in the nature of a patriotic celebration."

Col. Goodale has prepared tentative plans for putting into effect this new training feature. It is expected that many defects in the present mobilization plans will be disclosed by this practice test and that yearly defense tests will provide a means by which such defects may be discovered and remedied.

VETERAN SUES TOWN FOR LOSS OF JOB

A suit for $500 has been brought against the town of Billerica by Edward McMillen, World War veteran who was discharged from the town street department by Highway Surveyor Twombly, and will be heard July 25 in the superior court in Cambridge. McMillen was discharged in February and was reinstated. Shortly after his reinstatement he and Twombly engaged in a fist fight and the latter claimed McMillen hit him over the head with a club in the town stables. McMillen was arraigned in district court in Lowell and appealed the finding. In superior court Judge Fosdick ordered him to pay the costs of the action, amounting to about $20. McMillen is attorney for McMillen and Harvey, Harvey and Walsh for the town of Billerica.

ADAMS HARDWARE CLERKS OUTING

"Gone for the day," will be in order tomorrow when the Adams Hardware clerks will be the guests of Mr. George Runnels, president of the firm, at Provincetown. Arrangements have been made to accommodate twenty persons. The clerks will take the 8 o'clock train to Boston and make the trip from Boston to Provincetown by boat. On arrival at Provincetown a fish dinner will be served. Later there will be an excellent program of entertainment. The clerks will return to Lowell late in the evening.

EARLY MORNING FLASHES BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

William F. McAdoo releases his delegates as democratic national convention commences 100th ballot for presidential nominee, but notwithstanding this move, delegates again fail to agree upon candidate, and adjourn until noon today.

While his friends at democratic national convention planned final drive for his nomination as presidential candidate, Senator Ralston of Indiana wires his flat refusal to accept honor.

Bill introduced by bishop of Oxford, restricting trade in liquor by means of popular control, is defeated in house of lords, after principle of prohibition is denounced in speech of bishop of Durham.

Insurrection at Sao Paulo, Brazil, which threatened to become nationwide, has been virtually suppressed, official Brazilian advices report.

PROHIBITION UNSOUND, SAYS BISHOP

LONDON, July 8.—(By Associated Press.)—The bill introduced in the house of lords by the Bishop of Oxford to restrict the trade in alcoholic beverages by what was termed popular control, to be exercised by periodical voting of the inhabitants of the different boroughs, was defeated yesterday, 156 to 50, after a three days' debate.

The government supported the bill on the understanding that it would be considered in detail in committee, but its fate was sealed by a remarkably vigorous speech by the Bishop of Durham who denounced the bill because he said it enshrined the principle of prohibition, which was thoroughly unsound and could not be limited in application, as America had shown.

He added that it would involve inequality between the rich and poor and would breed enmity among the latter.

Tactful fanatics, the Bishop of Durham concluded, constituted the only faction which could defeat the victory of temperance in England.

CHELMSFORD WATER DISTRICT MEETING

A meeting of the Chelmsford water district was held last night in the town hall with Walter Parham as moderator. Very little interest was shown in the several articles of the warrant and the only discussion was on the article calling for the reimbursement of George W. Day for work done by him under orders of the board. It was finally voted to pay him for his work. It was also voted to extend the water service 450 feet in Dalton road, and a sum of $425 was voted to pay for the extension and to reimburse Mr. Day.

MISSIONARY TO USE AIRPLANE

NEW YORK, July 8.—For the first time in the history of missionary activities of Africa, an airplane will be used by a missionary in covering his territory. It was announced today. The missionary who will employ this means of transportation, is Dr. E. A. Late, who with his wife and son sails today on the Aquitania for his post in Liberia. The Lutheran foreign mission board of Baltimore, which is sending Dr. Late abroad, will send the airplane at an early date.

REPORTS OF CAPTURE WERE PREMATURE

BUENOS AIRES, July 8. (By the Associated Press.)—Latest advices from Rio Janeiro indicate that the previous announcement of the capture by government forces of the rebel positions in Sao Paulo, was premature. The positions now are being bombarded by heavy artillery, with airplanes co-operating. It is stated, and the official word is that "all is ready for the final assault."

The uprising has already cost several hundred lives and much property damage.

McADOO FELL TO THIRD PLACE

Last Night's Session Continued Until 4 O'Clock This Morning

Just Before 100th Ballot McAdoo Released Delegates—Flop Followed

NEW YORK, July 9.—With the supporters of William G. McAdoo released and Gov. Alfred B. Smith's withdrawal, contingent upon similar action by the Californians, before them, the delegates to the democratic national convention had until noon today to survey the new situation in which they were left at 4 a. m., after passing the century mark in the balloting for a presidential nominee.

The Smith announcement which followed a futile conference arranged between the two contenders in an effort to get them together on a compromise candidate, was made at the beginning of the long night session. The only answer was a McAdoo drive that put him once more in the lead. Meanwhile, however, in his listening post nearby, he was conferring with a steady stream of advisers, and intimations of his impending action were passed around during the 90th roll call. Then a letter from Mr. McAdoo to Chairman Walsh releasing his delegates was read and the 100th ballot was taken.

Not Formal Withdrawal

The McAdoo leaders said the letter was in no way connected with the Smith announcement and it was so phrased as not to put him in the position of formally withdrawing from the race. The Smith leaders held their lines, waiting to determine whether their condition for withdrawal had been met in fact or not in words. "Pro-nounced drifts set in toward E. T. Meredith of Iowa, secretary of agriculture in the Wilson cabinet, and Chairman Walsh of Montana. John W. Davis of West Virginia, nominated in the night session after the final withdrawal of Senator Taft from Indiana, at the peak of a similar drive during the day, held most of his gains.

On the 90th ballot, McAdoo had 353.5 votes and Smith had 353. On the next roll call after his letter was read, McAdoo dropped to 190, while Smith held 353.5. Davis, whose total had been driven up from 63 to 100 in the day session to 210 on the 93rd ballot, was in second place with 203.5 on the 100th ballot.

Meredith, who had been receiving a favorite son vote from Iowa, from the 80th ballot through the 95th and had lost it back to McAdoo during the evening drive, returned on the 95th with 17 and advanced on the 100th to 75.5. Chairman Walsh's total jumped from four to 52.5. Senator Robinson of Arkansas, also gained, going from 25 to 46.

Senator Underwood of Alabama, who started the day with 25 on the 85th ballot, ended with 41.5. Senator Glass of Virginia, given a tryout on the 100th before dropping from 15 to 35. Senator Owen of Oklahoma, who gained his state's 20 votes, Gov. Ritchie of Maryland, starting with 22.5, wound up with 17.5, and former Senator Saulsbury held his six from Delaware.

Six others were named on the last ballot. Former Secretary Daniels of North Carolina's 24, former Ambassador Gerard was given the 10th of Dakota's ten, David F. Houston got nine, Newton D. Baker four, Gov. Bryan of Nebraska two and Major Barry one.

That was the situation on the surface, with 17 candidates on the list. Twenty-six had received votes during the day, and night, when the 101st ballot fell due and was put off until today.

Under the surface, however, were many portents, but only impending developments could disclose their real meaning. Reports circulated that McAdoo and some of his leading advisers wanted his strength to go to Meredith; others said David Ladd Rockwell, his campaign manager, favored Chairman Walsh. All agreed that, in releasing his delegates, McAdoo was not attempting to divert their course to any specific column.

The Meredith boom, however, had gained momentum while Rockwell was passing the word of the impending letter during the 95th roll call, and during the 100th prominent McAdoo men were working in his behalf.

Where the Smith supporters would go, once they were satisfied McAdoo was definitely out of the race, was still another question.

The standing of the leaders on the 97th, 98th, 99th and 100th ballots follows:

Ninety-seventh: McAdoo 415 1/2; Smith 259; Davis, W. Va., 183 1/2; Underwood, 37 1/2; Glass 29.

Ninety-eighth: McAdoo 407 1/2; Smith 354; Davis, W. Va., 194 1/2; Underwood 37 1/2; Glass 29.

Ninety-ninth: McAdoo 353 1/2; Smith 353; Davis, W. Va., 210; Underwood 39 1/2; Glass 25.

100th: McAdoo 190; Smith 353 1/2; Davis, W. Va., 203 1/2; Meredith 75 1/2; Walsh 52 1/2; Underwood 41 1/2.

Drain on Funds

NEW YORK, July 9.—The long deadlock in the democratic national convention has proved a severe drain on official as well as private funds.

The New York convention committee, which practically financed the big show for the first two weeks, turned this task over to the democratic national committee this week after exceeding about $300,000, not including $25,000.

RALSTON WITHDRAWS ALLIES DENY AND PUTS END TO BOOM GERMAN REQUEST

NEW YORK, July 9.—Senator Ralston telephoned Thomas Taggart, during the convention recess last night, that under no circumstances would he accept the democratic presidential nomination. Taggart said he would withdraw Ralston's name immediately.

Taggart made the announcement 20 minutes after a dozen of Ralston's friends, including Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, had gone into conference to lay plans for a final Ralston drive.

While newspaper men were waiting for the results of the conference, Taggart suddenly came from behind the locked doors and declared the senator was out of the race finally and definitely.

"I have just heard from Senator Ralston by phone that under no circumstances will he accept the nomination," he said. "In the light of his positive declaration, there is nothing for me to do but withdraw his name. I shall do this as soon as we go into session again."

Taggart said he had done his best to induce the senator to remain in the race, but that it was futile.

"While we were conferring," he said, "Uncle Sam called me on the phone and declared he would not accept the nomination. I told him we had it arranged to nominate him to-night, but he said that made no difference. He said he had no desire for it and that his family did not want him to take it."

"I meant it the other day when I said I did not want the nomination and I mean it now," he said.

Taggart said he had not the slightest idea who would be nominated now. He did not know, he added, where the Ralston strength would go. He returned to the conference for further suggestions from other Ralston supporters.

Other members of the conference expressed the opinion that "Davis now has a very good chance."

"I almost cried when the senator declined," he said. "He indicated today in a telegram that he would not make the race, but despite this, I did not lose hope. When I talked with him later over the telephone I realized that it was useless to urge him to continue."

"I honestly thought we could nominate him tonight. We had several delegations ready to come over."

Here Mr. Taggart paused a minute, reflected, and then, with a smile, philosophically asked:

"What are you going to do when your horse jumps the fence in a race?"

Bay State Delegates Are Urged to Vote for Alabama Man

NEW YORK, July 9.—Strenuous efforts to pull the Massachusetts delegation into line for Senator Underwood of Alabama were made by Colonel Gaston and his friends just before the convention assembled for the evening session last night.

Women Delegates Firm

Women members of the delegation were at first importuned, the Underwood workers contending that Governor Smith could not and would not expect the Bay State delegation to go farther than the 93rd ballot, which was cast just before the afternoon adjournment, showing the state still sickling 33 1/2 for Smith and 2 1/2 for McAdoo.

Most of the women delegates insisted that they propose to continue voting for the New York governor as long as his name is before the convention.

Turned Down by Daley

The drive was made for Underwood votes among the male delegates also. Judge Thomas P. Riley of Malden and James H. Vahey of Watertown worked hard to line up the men for the Alabama senator. Both Riley and Vahey assert their loyalty to Smith, but expect that his name will not continue in the balloting much longer. They believe that the Massachusetts delegates should go to Underwood when the Smith name passes from the convention list of presidential possibilities.

Vahey and Riley tried last night to enlist the support of Daniel J. Daley of Brookline to bring about a switch to Underwood. Daley turned them down flat.

Will Vote for Smith to End

"I am going to vote for Smith until they lock the doors on the convention," he said. "This situation has gone far beyond any question of whom can or cannot be nominated. I am voting for Smith and shall continue to do so as a matter of principle."

"If rest being laid, as they are trying to tell us in this convention, that my children because of their social extraction and religion cannot aspire to hold public office in this country, I have no personal ambition to hold any public office. But I want to go back to Massachusetts having made my position plain—to the end that the coming generation of Massachusetts Daleys and Vaheys and Rileys shall not be barred in the future from aspiring to elective office. For that reason even a withdrawal by Governor Smith will make no difference to me. I want nothing to do with any move to line up delegates for a second choice whether for Senator Underwood or any other candidate. I shall vote for Smith until the convention doors are closed."

Daley Reports to Cole

Then turning to Riley and Vahey, he continued: "You men may do as you please about trying to influence these Massachusetts delegates. I shall do everything I can to block your efforts."

Daley at once went to work on the basis that Massachusetts Smith delegates should stand by their guns to the end.

He reported to General Cole, head of the Massachusetts Smith forces, and the general got busy.

Colonel Gaston's lieutenants are using as an argument against further voting for Smith:

"New York is voting Massachusetts votes in this convention to the detriment of Massachusetts. They will go back home with the Tammany collar around their necks."

Orders Foss Off Floor

Former Governor Foss who came back to the convention yesterday and has been working for Ralston, was given a cold-shoulder by Jerry Watson, a former Massachusetts delegate, who ordered Foss off the floor of the convention.

"You are not a delegate," said Jerry, "and you have no right to try to break up the morale of the Massachusetts delegation."

Antonio Pulani, Alessandro Giordani and Vincenzo Aldi. The burial took place at the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, the committal prayers being read at the grave by the Rev. Francis Shea assisted by the Rev. John M. Manion.

Anderson—The funeral of Miss Ida H. Anderson took place this morning at 8:35 o'clock from the home of her mother, Mrs. Alfred C. Sayers, 5 Everett street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends.

Donovan—The funeral of Jeremiah P. Donovan, formerly of this city, was held on Monday from the home of his daughter, Anna E. Donovan, 24 Murdock street, Brighton. Solemn high mass of requiem was sung at St. Col. Rev. Oscar O'Gorman as celebrant. Rev. William Desmond as deacon and Rev. Henry Evers as sub-deacon. Seated within the sanctuary was Rev. Francis Shea, assisted by the Rev. John M. Manion as deacon and the Rev. Joseph Griffin as sub-deacon. The choir rendered the Gregorian chant. Solos were rendered during the mass by Miss May Byrne and the choir. Mrs. Gertrude Quigley presided at the organ. There were several beautiful floral tributes and several spiritual bouquets from friends and acquaintances. Attending the funeral was a delegation from the L. Annetonio Italian society headed by the president, Priddy Parezzo. The casket was borne by the following bearers, all members of the Annetonio society: Messrs. Carlo Silipalzo, Pasquale Romagnolo, Domenico Milenassi.

Musat—The funeral of Emilio Musat took place this morning at 8:35 o'clock from his home, 54 Merrill street, and proceeded to St. Peter's church where at 9 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. Francis Shea, assisted by the Rev. John M. Manion as deacon and the Rev. Joseph Griffin as sub-deacon. The choir rendered the Gregorian chant. # Barefoot Youth May Rule Mexico

By N.E.A. Service

MEXICO CITY, July 9.—Some call General Plutarco Elias Calles a "radical."

And the general does not deny the charge.

"If fighting for equal opportunities for every citizen makes a man a 'radical,'" he says, "I guess I am one."

The general is a laborite. He is pledged to carry on the work of Obregon just the way Obregon wishes it carried on.

This includes the division of land among the Indians, the propagation of education, the enforcement of the child labor act, the eight-hour day and six-day week in every industry and the minimum wage laws for men and women.

Calles was born in the state of Sonora. He was, in truth, a barefoot boy. He did not own a pair of shoes until he was 16.

In school he was bright. His teacher once told him he would be governor of Sonora some day. And he was.

As a young man he taught school. Later he became superintendent of schools in the capital of Sonora.

But the old Diaz regime did not like progressive people. Calles soon found himself in conflict with the government. And he went back to teaching.

When the Madero revolution came, Calles, like Obregon, joined it. When Obregon became a general, Calles became a colonel. Obregon, on entering the presidency, made Calles a general.

Soon afterward he was appointed secretary of war. Later he was named prime minister. He resigned.

Talking at manual work has been found by official investigation to cause considerable loss of time, except when the work is entirely automatic.

mass at St. Margaret's church at 10 o'clock this morning and present at the ceremony were hundreds of friends of the couple, among them guests from all parts of New England, and many other officials.

The mass was celebrated by Rev. Daniel J. Golden of Charlestown, a cousin of the bride, assisted by Rev. Charles J. Calligan, pastor of St. Margaret's. The wedding march was played by Prof. Louis N. Guitball, organist of the church, and during the mass Miss Katherine V. Hennessy sang the Ave Maria and Mr. James E. Donnelly sang "O Promise Me."

The bride was attended by Miss Alicia Joyce of Brookline, a cousin, and the flower girl was little Miss Doris Rogers. The best man was Mr. George Weiden of Lawrence, a classmate of the bridegroom at Holy Cross college.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white Canton crepe with veil and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a gown of fresh chiffon crepe and carried an old-fashioned bouquet. Little Miss Rogers, the flower girl, wore blue crepe de chine and carried a basket of vari-colored flowers.

The ushers at the church were Mr. William S. O'Leary, Mr. Thomas Clark, a cousin of the bride, Mr. Francis O'Neil of West Newton, and Mr. Ray Lynch of Brookline, N. Y. The two latter also being classmates of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony, a reception and wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride, 423 Stevens street, where over two hundred guests were in attendance.

Among the clergymen present at the reception were Rev. W. George Mullin of Manchester-by-the-Sea; Rev. John J. Shaw, pastor, Rev. James F. Lynch and Rev. Thomas J. Heagney of St. Michael's church; Rev. Charles J. Sullivan, D.C.L., of St. Andrew's, Billerica; Rev. John J. McGarry, D.C.L., pastor, and Rev. T. J. McDonough of St. Patrick's; Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, pastor of St. Mary's, Collinsville, and Rev. Arthur Connors, O.M.I., of Buffalo, N. Y.

Guests were in attendance from Lowell, Somerville, Charlestown, Malden, Hingham, Dorchester, Lawrence, West Newton, Boston, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Buffalo, N. Y., Springfield, and Atlantic City, N. J.

In the receiving line at the home, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. McPadden, were Mr. Rourke, father of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. McPadden, parents of the bridegroom, and Miss Ellen Lawlor.

A wedding breakfast was served on the spacious lawn by Caterer Lydon and during the reception and wedding breakfast, music was furnished by an orchestra.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace, and to the best man, a pair of cuff links. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a platinum wrist watch and to the flower girl, a pearl bracelet. The ushers received gold pencils.

Following the wedding breakfast, the couple left on an extended wedding trip and will be at home after Sept. 1 at 49 Maryland avenue.

My office sends me countless letters which thank me for new beauty and new youth. Please don't do that. Just tell to other girls and women what you've found.

I am simply passing on to others what great scientists have found. The helps that make me a famous beauty. They keep my youth and beauty to my grand old age.

Those helps number 23, but I have had them combined in four preparations. When you use any one of them you apply quite a lot of the best beauty helps in existence.

One is a cold cream which I call my Youth Cream. It combines products of both lemon and sawberry. Also all the best that science knows to fortify, feed and protect the skin. I use it as a night cream, also daytimes as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. I have never heard of a cream which brings anything like its results.

Now I am placing my Youth Cream—just as I use it—at every woman's call. All druggists and toilet counters supply it at 50c per jar. Also in 35c tubes. Just ask for Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream. I promise you that as long as you live you'll be very glad you know it, and I shall be glad for you. I will send you a sample to try. If you wish, also my beauty book. Just mail this coupon. For beauty's sake, do it now.—Adv.

Sen. Couzens of Michigan
Announces His Candidacy
to Succeed Himself

Refuses to Pledge Support
to Pres. Coolidge or Party
Platform

DETROIT, July 9.—Senator James Couzens of Michigan, announcing his candidacy at the September primaries to succeed himself, in a formal statement today, refused to pledge his full support to President Coolidge or either state or national republican platform. He challenged the right of party "bosses" to dictate his course of action and made his bid for the vote of Michigan electors on his past record for which, he said, he had no apologies to make.

Asked by the chairman of the republican state central committee to sign a statement pledging his support to the party platform, and endorsing President Coolidge, Senator Couzens replied he could not do so.

"If complete adherence to the proposals and policies of President Coolidge is the test of republicanism, there are no republicans in the national congress," he said. "I do not believe it to be the desire of my constituents that I abjectly promise to follow someone and do his bidding."

"I believe in party government," he said, "but no longer as I am a member of the party. I propose to have a voice in it and not be controlled by party bosses or leaders."

INDICT 19 MEN IN
RUM SMUGGLING

BOSTON, July 9.—The report of the federal grand jury yesterday contained 16 indictments, 12 of which allege violations of the federal narcotic laws and the transportation of smuggled liquors.

There were six indictments dealing with the illegal landing on the Massachusetts coast of foreign booze. Special Treasury Agents sworn by McKenna and William A. Harney investigated these cases, following the detection of suspects by local police at various points. The efforts of the sleuths resulted in true bills being returned against 19 men.

The most important of the customs cases was an indictment returned secretly, the defendants being arraigned later in the day. The principals are John Magnus, George Haddon and Louis Cofano of this city and John Barnish and Arthur R. Abbott of Methuen. About $2500 worth of alcohol was involved in the seizure at Beverly, June 12.

Abbott, who, with the others, pleaded not guilty before Judge George F. Morris, had been in the day been arrested by Treasury Agent McKenna. It is alleged he and several others were picked up on the Lynn parkway while conveying smuggled liquors in two expensive cars. A third car got away. Albert H. Harrison of Dedham, Charles Porter of 1148 Commonwealth avenue and George J. Lowell of 10 North street, Lawrence, were arrested with Abbott.

Abbott was held in $5000 on the indictment and $3000 on the commissioner's complaint, sworn to by Agent McKenna.

WM. H. MOORE LEAVES POLICE SEEK SON OF
MURDERED MAN

NEW YORK, July 9.—William H. Moore, corporation lawyer and financier, who died Jan. 11, 1923, left an estate valued at $28,500,000, according to an appraisal filed yesterday with the New York State tax commission.

Mr. Moore, one of America's best-known horse show judges, organized at various times the Diamond Match Company, National Biscuit Company, American Tin Plate Company, National Steel Company, American Steel Steel Company and the American Steel Pipe Company. He was attorney for such corporations as the Adams and American Express Companies.

His estate, virtually all in securities, will be divided among his widow, Mrs. Ada Small Moore of 4 East 54th street, and two sons, Edward Small Moore of Roslyn, L. I., and Paul Moore of Convent, N. J. Mr. Moore left a will of less than 200 words.

WM. H. MOORE LEAVES POLICE SEEK SON OF
MURDERED MAN

LYNN, July 9.—Fresh complications entered into the investigation of Lynn's murder mystery when the police in their search for the slayers of LeRoy D. Shanks turned their attention from Charles Placeau, for 10 years a boarder at the Shanks household, who was arrested Monday on suspicion, to the murdered man's son, Francis Shanks, and his chum, Norman Peterson, both of whom disappeared Monday morning shortly after the mutilated body of Shanks had been discovered on the Boston & Maine railroad embankment.

Placeau, who is 39 years of age, of 299 Summer street, was brought before the district court yesterday, charged with murder, and was held for the grand jury until July 15, without bail. Attorney William Fiske appeared for the defendant and Asst. Dist. Atty. Edward Flynn prosecuted.

The Lynn police, however, believe that it will be impossible to solve the mystery until the two runaway boys have been discovered. A thorough search has begun, and it is expected that interesting developments will follow their discovery.

Shanks, who was employed as a stationary fireman, was beaten to death while on his way to work early Monday morning and robbed of nearly $25. It is here that the testimony of young Shanks and his friend Peterson might throw much light on the murder, for the two boys are believed to have been sleeping in an auto in the rear of the Shanks' home. As the elder Shanks would have passed by the machine on his way to work, the police think that the boys could have seen whether or not he was alone.

Never Away So Long Before

Mrs. Shanks declared to the police yesterday that she first saw the boys at 6.10 on the morning of the murder, when she sent her son to the store to buy a bag of wood. On his return the boy went away with Peterson before word had been received of the murder, intimating that he was going to look for work. Since then the two boys have not been heard from.

As this is the first time in the lives of the 17-year-old boys that either has been away from home for more than a day, it makes their disappearance more mysterious.

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Peterson of 40 Warren street, parents of one of the missing boys, at first believed that their son had gone fishing for the day, but now they are unable to account for his prolonged absence. Mrs. Beattie Shanks, who thought at first that her son had left in search of work, cannot understand why he remains away from home when he has surely learned of the murder of his father.

Not Known to Have Money

In connection with the absence of the boys, the police believe it of importance that the two had frequently driven the car in which they were sleeping Monday morning. Young Shanks had already had his operator's license revoked, without his father's knowledge, and as a result of subsequent violations by the boys, it is said that Shanks, in whose name the car was registered, was about to receive a summons ordering him to appear at Commonwealth pier, Boston, on Saturday.

At the time of his disappearance, young Shanks was wearing khaki trousers, a short brown coat, a gray cap and brown oxfords. He is 17 years old and weighs about 150 pounds.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The management of this ever-more-popular playhouse presents for the new bill the latter part of this week what it believes will be the most popular program of the season. The features are Tom Mix in "Eyes of the Forest," and Viola Dana in "In Search of a Thrill." There will also be a comedy, "Fool Proof," and the regular weekly news.

Tom Mix faces more perils than the well known Pauline herself in "Eyes of the Forest." How close he came to being blown from Tony to an airplane, he clutches the axle between the landing wheels of the plane, which dives to within ten feet of the ground and is lifted thousands of feet into the air and safely. There are other stunts performed by the intrepid Tom which are said to exceed in daring anything he has attempted heretofore.

He was indifferent to "her." The society girl had not seen her ideal for several years. Now that she had become a glorious butterfly of the night life of Paris, he scorned her. Love had gone. The girl, however, was not to be turned aside so easily. She donned the rags of the slums and in the dark of night time she approached his house. Carefully she raised the window sash, stealthily she climbed into the room—the lights were turned on. She saw—a dramatic moment in Viola Dana's Metro picture, "In Search of a Thrill."

A pleasant, comfortable evening in the Merrimack Square's pleasant, comfortable theatre—what could be more inviting this warm weather?

RIALTO THEATRE

Charles (Book) Jones, favorite Fox star, has had a better part in his long and varied screen career, than he has in "Hell's Hole" which opens at the Rialto theatre Thursday. In "Hell's Hole," Jones has an ideal vehicle for his dare-devilish disregard of safety, adding to his long list of carefree characteristics and his dynamic love making. From the moment the first scene is flashed on the screen to the final fade-out, Jones speeds up the action. The players supporting the star are well known, headed by Ruth Clifford and Maurice B. Flynn as the heavy.

The companion feature is "Loyal Lives," a heart interest story of the U. S. Mail service. It is replete with thrilling situations and incidents that will tug at your heart strings.

An "Our Gang" comedy and the latest issue of Fox news conclude the program.

SAVING WAX

Utilize the short ends of paraffin candles by whitening over a floor that is to be waxed.

IVORY HANDLES

Avoid putting ivory handled knives in hot water, as this will turn them yellow.

Peterson also wore khaki trousers with dark sweater. It is not thought that the boys can have traveled far, as neither boy, to the knowledge of his parents, had any money before the murder was committed.

WASHINGTON TUBBS II

IDEAL SUMMER WRAP

The ideal summer wrap affords slight protection and much charm, thus the shawl fits the bill perfectly. This one gives the effect of the hand-embroidered and very expensive Spanish shawl but it is really made of printed silk fringed with deep black fringe, and is comparatively inexpensive. It may be worn over any type of evening gown and is much in evidence at summer resorts.

FOOD IS BUT FUEL

One thing that stumped Mr. Mann when he was considering dietary problems was why food cannot be measured by weight or bulk.

The mistake of thus measuring food is a common one. Food is measured in fuel units, better known as calories.

And many foods have their calorie values so well concentrated that by taking a small portion the same effect can be procured as when a large amount of some other bulky food is eaten.

An example of this is olive oil, which is a concentrated food where 300 calories per ounce, or thereabouts, may be found. Ordinary vegetables are bulky and several pounds would have to be eaten to get the same calorie result.

There are matters that the average person does not stop to consider when sitting down to eat. The amount of cream he takes may be giving him a calorie value equal or greater to all the rest of the food he is eating.

A few instances of this may be found by noting the following food articles, each of which contain 100 calories: one large egg, one large baked potato, one lamb chop.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. William Campbell, formerly of Lowell, and Mrs. Annie Dineen of Enfield, Conn., were married on June 30 at a nuptial mass in St. Patrick's church, Enfield. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Daniel J. O'Connor, pastor. The bride was attended by her niece, Miss Anna Schmitt, and the best man was Mr. Charles Riley, nephew of the bridegroom. The bride wore a gown with hat to match and the bridesmaid's gown was of peach crepe de chine, and she wore a picture hat of black.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to intimate friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left on an extended wedding trip and on their return will live in Enfield.

A group of bust portraits of Lucetta Mott, Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton were placed in the crypt of the national capital.

98 OUT OF EVERY 100 WOMEN BENEFITED

An Absolutely Reliable Statement Important to Every Woman

Remarkable Results Shown by a Nation Wide Canvass of Women Purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 50,000 Women Answer

For some time a circular has been enclosed with each bottle of our medicine bearing this question: "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

Replies, to date, have been received from over 50,000 women answering that question.

98 per cent of which say YES. That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take the medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This is a most remarkable record of efficiency. We doubt if any other medicine in the world equals it.

Think of it—only two women out of 100 received no benefit—98 successes out of a possible 100.

Did you ever hear anything like it? We must admit that we, ourselves, are astonished.

Such evidence should induce every woman suffering from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see if she can't be one of the 98. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Sturdy digestion and regular and complete elimination of poisonous waste matter are insurance against Colds, Grippe, Influenza, etc. Build rugged health with genuine "L.F." Atwood's Medicine. Large bottle 50 cents—1 cent a dose. All Dealers.

The hot weather doesn't fuss little Eddie Herren of Washington one bit. In fact, he rather likes it. He gets a big ice cream cone and can play along Arlington beach to his heart's content. ## LINESMEN SAVED FROM DEATH BY BELTS

MANSFIELD, July 9.—James McDonald and Kenneth Chisholm of Boston were saved from death yesterday afternoon by life belts which they had around them and strapped to a telegraph pole near the local railroad station, when a freight car on an extra freight train left the rails and broke off the high pole on which the men were working.

A Western Union emergency gang from Boston, in charge of J. Leshner, had been working on wires in this town that were torn down during a heavy storm last winter. The two men were on a high pole, stringing wires, when the freight car struck the pole and broke it off about five feet from the ground. The pole, then carrying about 100 wires and the two men, held on by life belts, was left dangling in the air. The men were rescued by fellow workers.

Six lines of the local Western Union office were put out of commission by the accident and many of the railroad wires, have been broken. Railroad traffic was held up for a short while by the inability of the tower men in the local tower to work the signals.

A wrecking crew arrived late in the afternoon and removed the wrecked car.

TWO FIVE-YEAR-OLD CHILDREN KILLED

BOSTON, July 9.—Automobiles last night claimed the lives of 5-year-old Elvira V. Jenkins of 249 Summer st., Somerville, and Frederick Reid, 5 years old, of 68 Pearl st., Woburn. Both children were in the street near their homes when struck and died soon after their arrival in hospitals.

Was Crossing Street

The Jenkins girl was hit by an automobile operated by Frank Lapoint of 3 Linden avenue, Somerville. The accident occurred on Summer street between Linden avenue and Cedar st. A few minutes after her arrival at the Somerville hospital, she died from the injuries sustained.

Frederick Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Reid, was run over by a machine operated by Mrs. Grace Macurda of State road, Burlington. The youth was crossing Pearl street near his home when the accident happened. Soon after the boy died at the Choate Memorial hospital. Mrs. Macurda was arrested on a technical charge of manslaughter and was later released in bonds of $1000.

COMMUNIST CONGRESS

MOSCOW, July 9.—The fifth international Communist congress came to a close yesterday with the unanimous re-election of G. S. Zinoviev as president of the executive council.

The third congress of the red international opened with delegates from American and the principal European and Oriental countries attending.

IN NEW YORK

By Stephen Hannagan

NEW YORK, July 3.—There's a little spot of the old world in one of the main lobby rooms of an exclusive hotel on lower Madison avenue—down where the town begins.

Swarming into it each night you will find numerous Americans who have lived in Europe and who long for the free and easy existence of the continent.

They trade adventures—experiences they recall as happier days.

On the walls are sketches done by foreign artists, principally in Paris, the French capital being the favorite of those who gather in this quiet little room with its marble-topped tables and chateau atmosphere.

There is no cover charge, and checker and chess boards, cards and paraphernalia for many other games are furnished free of charge by the management.

One may spend a whole—and to them—riotous evening for an expenditure of 25 cents for a glass of lemonade or a pot of coffee.

Directly across the hall, in the main dining room, 25 cents would be scoffed at as a waiter's tip—it is a spot of the new world, where prices are prices and the most drawn-out conversation is treated with a $100 bill.

It is just a few steps from the old to the new world in this hostelry—but the leap costs as much as an ocean voyage.

And New Yorkers have no desire for the old world, as it is partitioned off here.

Bathing suits displayed in most exclusive stores look like fashionable prison garbs. All stripes. And what colors!

New York is but a small town after all. Yesterday I saw a coatless youth on a motorcycle riding his sweetheart along Fifth avenue in the crowded district in a side car.

LARD FOR FITCH

You can remove pitch from clothing with lard. Then sponge with turpentine, hang in the open air until all odor has been removed.

CARRIES WOULD-BE AUTO THIEF TO POLICE STATION

BOSTON, July 9.—Flowing through a dense crowd of almost 5000 persons, William T. McNally of 33 Dalton street, Back Bay, gave chase last evening in Central square, Cambridge, to a young man who was making off with the McNally automobile.

Reaching the automobile just as the young man was about to speed away, McNally reached over the side of the car, pulled the emergency brake, thereby stalling the machine, then picked the driver up bodily and carried him into Police Station 2.

There the young man gave the name of John Farrell, 17, of 383 Allston street, Cambridge. He was arrested on a charge of misappropriation of an automobile.

The big crowd, composed largely of Elks visiting the home of Cambridge lodge, cheered wildly as McNally, himself an Elk, made the capture.

McNally had parked his car at the River street curb and was in the center of a jovial crowd when he glanced towards his car and saw it moving away from the curb. McNally charged through the crowd like a football player and made his spectacular "tackles" right in front of the door of Police Station 2.

CITY TWO GAME ON COMMON TONIGHT

Tonight's game in the City Twilight league on the South common will be between Marle's Americans and the Butlers. With the Pavlovskys and Bellavues tied for first place a great fight is on among the other four teams for runner up positions. The Americans who won the City league pennant last year are out to repeat their success. They realize they have a stiff task ahead of them, but they are confident and determined to reach the goal. The game will start at 6:15 o'clock, with Umpires Allen and Curdin in charge.

Keen, sparkling eyes, vigorous bodies and crispy Kellogg's just naturally go together.

Government Barges on Mississippi Are Solving Shippers' Problems

By GEORGE BRITT
N.E.A. Service Writer

St. LOUIS, July 9.—"There ain't no such animal," was the attitude of the Mark Twain school of old-time Mississippi river pilots when they first saw the smallish, ugly, oil-burning, tunnel-type, screw-propelled power boats of the federal barge line.

And the ghostly timbers of the Robert E. Lee and the Vatchers, probably shiver to this day in their muddy graves when the newcomers puffed up and down their river.

But romance is not so apparent as when planters from broad verandas used to watch slim, white packet boats coming racing round the bend.

"What is being done now on the Mississippi river," says Theodore Brent, manager of the barge line, "is as romantic as railroading—and no more so."

"Its facilities are as practical as those of the best organized railroad. Its methods are aimed at applying the best in railroad practice to transportation by water."

Even old "Steamboat Bill" and his mates warmed up to the newcomers when they saw them get behind a fleet of steel barges and walk off with them, 7000 tons upstream or 15,000 tons downstream.

The federal barge line was conceived as a war measure and started in September, 1918, with a makeshift fleet. Now it is operating about 10 towboats, two self-propelling barges and more than 50 cargo barges, most of them of 2000 tons and some of 3000 tons capacity.

It maintains a year-round schedule between New Orleans and Cairo, and between St. Louis and Cairo, except during the frozen-up months.

Co-operation with hostile railroads has been effected to obtain a connecting, feeder service. Boats leaving St. Louis on Friday evenings reach New Orleans, 1164 miles by water, on the following Wednesday night. Despatching is by wireless, each towboat reporting its position every three hours.

Big Saving to Shipper

Last year the barge line carried 237,511 tons of freight southbound and 287,604 tons northbound. The charge is approximately 50 per cent of railroad rates. Saving to the shipper is estimated at an average of $1.35 a ton. That as a principle have guided the promoters of the barge line.

That rail and highway facilities are insufficient to meet transportation needs.

That water-borne commerce is cheaper, as dependable and more desirable for certain commodities.

That as the whole people pay taxes for the waterways, all are entitled to the cheaper transportation whether they live on the riverbank or inland.

It was an experiment on the part of Col. T. Q. Ashburn, chief of the inland and coastwise waterways service. But it has proven that millions spent to make the lower Mississippi navigable were not wasted.

Cargoes Are Diversified

Just how diversified are the cargoes is illustrated by a single tow that went down the river from Cairo last spring.

It carried corn for Europe, agricultural implements for Africa, tractors, matches and canned goods for Mexico, bauxite ore for Norway, roofing for South America, railroad equipment for the Far East, and fruit wrappers, shingles, baking powder and musical instruments for California, via the Panama Canal.

Upriver towns include newspaper paper from Norway, cotton from Brazil, and burlap bagging from India.

Extension of the service to Chicago and the Great Lakes is a probability as soon as a short section of the Illinois river is improved to provide a dependable channel.

Barges are opening now from the Warrior river in the Alabama coal district down to Mobile and across to New Orleans, but that stretch has not been so successful as on the lower Mississippi.

LA. FOLLETTE'S CREW

There is no question now where La Follette and his merry crew of radical supporters of many different colors stand today. Various quasi-labeled organizations, comprised of extraordinary human membership odds and ends, are flocking to the La Follette standards. Now comes the latest, but not the least, of these organizations comprised of ambitious men and women, who still yearn to settle all the ills of humanity—the socialist party—newly enlisted, reorganized and eagerly confident of a “comeback” under the emblem of the Wisconsin irrepressible visionary.

We find socialists, old and new, today wearing the La Follette badges as predicted. Eugene V. Debs “joins up” from a sanitarium in Illinois; ever-bursting-forth Victor Berger, the irrepressible, congressman also from Wisconsin; old, familiar Morris Hillquit of New York; the quaint Mayor Daniel Hoan of Milwaukee; the studious Alfred Baker Lewis of Philadelphia, and the active Cameron King of San Francisco. These are but a few of the latest to adorn La Follette and hurriedly enlist in the new political organization to be formed, if possible, as a result of the present “conference for political action” at Cleveland.

The Debs report and proffer of assistance was in line with past history, so far as Debs’ doctrines that never change are concerned. In his cheery letter to the progressive-socialists-independents La Follette, he declares that “the red flag must be kept flying,” for the socialist party is still the party of the working classes, and “faces the future with absolute confidence and without fear.”

The Debs doctrines were tried out some years ago in a small but somewhat explosive way, in circumstances slightly more favorable than those apparent today. And they failed, just as miserably as the extreme radical doctrines now being “approved” by an ill-assorted group of hysterical men and women at Cleveland will fail utterly.

The rank utility in the frank presentation of stark untruths aimed at the American republic and American institutions preserved by the principles of freedom ever maintained, will react upon their works today exactly as it has in days gone by, when other self-seeking men and women, reveling in publicity, received their just deserts in overwhelming public condemnation and overwhelming scorn.

LABOR IN THE SOUTH

Southern textile workers are today looking with more favor upon textile union organizations than was the case last year and the years before. The United Textile Workers’ organization has been working diligently in several southern states, seeking to increase its membership there. Last year, the prospects were regarded as excellent that the “U. T. W.” might greatly enlarge its organization in the Carolinas and possibly farther south, but reports at hand this summer lend another color.

From Charlotte, N. C., come dispatches reporting that many present members of the United Textile Workers’ organization in the south are about to break away and form a new southern labor body. The reports are current in labor circles, both north and south. It is said that the textile labor group that has many locals here in New England, has been utterly unable to entrench itself in the Carolinas as planned. Not only has it not succeeded in building up existing locals and organizing new ones, but the real advance of the organization has been negligible.

While some southern mills have not sought to keep employees from joining any union, or discriminating against union members, there has been no recognition of any union organizations in any southern cotton textile mill, it is said, and rarely any collective bargaining. At the same time, many southern mill owners have stated that they would “welcome a southern organization of employees, but not the northern organization bearing the appellation of the United Textile Workers of America.”

POPULATING CANADA

For every 100 women in Canada there are 100 men. So Canada solves the problem of importing women from England, as was done 300 years ago by the American colonies. And the plan suits England—yes, indeed!—for statisticians estimate that the British Isles today have a surplus of more than 2,000,000 females.

We read with interest not denied that parties of women and girls are formed in England, brought to Canada under reliable escort, and offered positions in whatever line of work they may choose. As each ship lands its feminine passengers, scores of housewives are on hand to hire errands; farmers offer them positions in the rural districts many miles away, even to the far-reaching Canadian northwest.

So far as the marriage question is concerned, the women of England have proved well able to take care of that detail. Records show that most of the girls coming to Canada by the shipping routes from “The Old Country” are married within a year and settle down on homesteads of their own.

THE BALLOT SHIRKERS

Of course the ballot is the foundation of democratic government. Here in America, citizens by their ballots have virtually unlimited power to make any change they want and bring about any reform or condition they desire—simply by using their ballots intelligently. Now, if Americans were paid $5 apiece for voting, how many would stay away from the polls?

Failure to vote may cost a citizen a good many times $5—in the form of inefficient government, high taxes and waste of public funds. If you stay away from the polls this fall, you signify indifference as to what kind of government you live under and what is done with this America of which you are a part owner.

DIVORCES INCREASE

In 1917, one American marriage in every 17 wound up in divorce. Now the figure is one in every seven. Six marriages are successful to every marriage that ends in a divorce decree. Broadly speaking, of course, for not all of the six marriages are happy unions.

Marriage is the most important decision ever made by the average person. It is more of a gamble for women than for men. It should never be rushed into on sudden impulse. Love is apt to sweep people off their feet. Calm deliberation pays.

THE CANCER TOLLS

Cancer is increasing its death toll faster than any other of the dread diseases. This year 110,000 Americans will die of cancer, compared with 75,000 in 1914.

Turnout in the medical profession indicates that cancer will be the next major disease to be conquered. Radium, X-ray, surgery and preventive measures already are working wonders. Definite isolation of the cancer germ and development of a curative serum apparently is just a matter of a few years. Several physicians already think they are close to this goal.

TODAY'S LIVING COSTS

The cost of living is 21 per cent lower than it was at its peak in July, 1920. But it is still over 61 per cent higher than when the war started in 1914. So reports national industrial conference board. Its figures are for a family of five, averaging the whole country.

Many will disagree. Most of us think it costs twice as much to live as it used to, or more. But this is undeniable: Cost of living is gradually going down. The dollar saved now will have a bigger buying power later.

THE MEAT EATERS

Last year the American people ate more meat than ever before. The average during 1923 was nearly 170 pounds for every man, woman and child, or almost half a pound a day. A European, accustomed to being able to afford meat only once or twice a week, will consider this proof-positive of great national prosperity.

As far as the health is concerned, meat should be eaten sparingly in hot weather. That is when it does its damage.

INSURANCE POPULAR

All past records are being broken in the amount of life insurance taken out by the American people. So far this year over a fifth more life insurance has been written than in 1923, when a new record was hung up. If the rate continues, the 1924 total of new policies will be 11 billion dollars.

There was a time when this would have indicated 11 billion dollars of fear. Now it represents 11 billions of sensible investment—the surest and easiest way to save.

BUILDING

One industry that has not slipped is building. For May the 157 leading cities report new building permits 10 per cent more than in May, 1923. Possibly increased prices represent the 10 per cent gain, but the actual physical volume of building is about the same as a year ago, and that means it could not be much more.

The nation is spending three and a half billion dollars a year for new buildings, including homes. This pace, continued, will eventually lower rents.

SOFT COAL OUTPUT

Soft coal mines have been turning out an average of only 7 million tons a week. Normal output is 10 millions. This indicates that general business is only seven-tenths normal. Some economists believe soft coal production is the most accurate barometer of industrial conditions. Others are pig iron output, railroad freight traffic and commercial fires. Watch these four and know which way the wind is blowing.

THE PEOPLE PAY

Groceries from railroads because they paid national and state taxes of over $900,000 a day in 1923, or three times as much as before the war. The railroads do not really pay this. The public pays. Railroads are simply collectors for Uncle Sam and the states. This is the fly in the ointment, to critics who delight to have the roads heavily taxed.

No Query

"It says in the paper here," began Mrs. Johnson in the midst of her reading, "that an airplane traveling at the rate of 200 miles an hour would take 53 years to go from the earth to the sun."

"What's that?" returned Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, aroused from a doze.

"You wasn't listening, torment it! It would take an airplane going at 200 miles an hour 53 years to reach the sun."

"What's the difference, are you?" asked Mrs. Johnson.

"Drive on, Clarence," she called.

Mrs. Nurox, riding in her new gold-paneled coupe with Mrs. Highflown, had occasion to refer to her chauffeur as "Clarence."

"How odd," commented Mrs. Highflown, "to call one's chauffeur by his first name."

Mrs. Nurox was quick to correct the error.

"Clarence," she called.

He stopped the car and looked around.

"I am not accustomed to call my chauffeurs by their first names, Clarence. What is your surname?"

"Darling, indeed," replied Lily.

"You see, I wrote and told him never to see me or write to me again. And," she added, vehemently, "he hasn't even been nice enough to answer my letter."

"The winners," he said, "showed a diabolical ingenuity—like the lady, you know."

"A lady at a seashore hotel was made very jealous by the attention that her husband was lavishing on a young school teacher one morning."

"Was it you my husband was talking with so confidentially on the piazza last night?"

"Why, er, yes," said the school teacher, a good deal embarrassed.

"Oh, then, it's all right, of course," said the lady in a relieved voice. "I thought it was some 'pretty young girl, and I was inclined to be jealous, but, of course, it's all right since it was only you."

PREMIERS IN SESSION

MacDonald and Herriot Resume Their Conversations at Paris

PARIS, July 9 (By the Associated Press).—The premiers of France and Great Britain resumed their conversations this morning at 10 o'clock in the foreign office, though looking very fatigued from their long night session at the British embassy which did not end until after midnight.

The absence of any indication whatever as to how the negotiations are going after the two long talks yesterday gave rise to a possible impression in unofficial circles. The opposition to Premier Herriot dwelt this morning on the assertion that if everything were going well, the premier would be eager to let it become known.

The conversations are centering, it is understood, on the British premier's proposal to dispossess the reparations commission of its right to decide if and when Germany is in default on the Dawes reparations plan. Several propositions have been discussed, one of which while leaving the reparations commission to say when Germany was in default, would set up another organism to decide whether that default were voluntary.

Another suggestion is that the international council of ambassadors—with an American member having full rights with the others, and the council perhaps enlarged to take in some of the neutral states—supersede the reparations commission in supervising execution of the Dawes plan.

Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Herriot both are understood to be eager to arrange the supervision so the United States shall have a share in it on equal footing with the allies. It is even said in British circles that Mr. MacDonald would be pleased if a settlement could be made by the election of an American to the presidency of the reparations commission with the same preponderant rights as are now accorded to the French president.

400 MEMBERS OF BAR ASSOCIATION SAIL

NEW YORK, July 9.—More than 400 members of the American Bar association for the families, will sail today for London on the Cunard liner Aquitania to attend the international convention of lawyers in the Middle Temple, July 21.

The Americans will present to the English bar a statue of Sir William Blackstone. The presentation will be made by former Attorney General, G. F. Wickersham.

The main group of the bar association will sail Saturday on the Berengaria.

Members of General Council

PHILADELPHIA, July 9.—Members of the general council of the American Bar association for 1924-1925, were chosen at last night's session of the convention. They represent every state and territory in the union and include: "Massachusetts, John E. Hanigan, Boston; New Hampshire, James W. Runkle, Concord; Vermont, George B. Young, Montpelier; New York, Frederick Evans Crane.

A telegram from Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general of the League of Nations, inviting the members of the American Bar association to visit Geneva, after their visit to London and Paris, was read at the meeting.

WOMAN PLUNGED TEN STORIES TO DEATH

KANSAS CITY, July 9.—Belief that Miss Blanche Pearce, 21, of Madison, Kan., whose body was found at the bottom of a freight elevator shaft in a downtown apartment house yesterday, met death accidentally, was expressed today by police officials.

Miss Pearce plunged 10 stories down the shaft after leaving a party in the rooms of William Skiff and Peter Scott, members of the Kansas City American association baseball team. Detectives said indications were that Miss Pearce opened the elevator door, thinking it was the door to the rear stairs. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

Meanwhile, Skiff and Scott stand indefinitely suspended from the baseball club.

INDEPENDENT PARTY

Candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presidency Will Be Nominated

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 9.—Candidates for the presidency and vice presidency will be nominated by the national independent party, a political organization said to be the outgrowth of the committee of 48, which met today. A referendum vote was used in choosing the nominees and the ballots were to be counted today. The successful candidates will be announced at a banquet this evening.

Those who have been picked in nomination for the presidency are N. Neilson, Fort Worth, Tex.; James C. Fuller, Kansas City, Mo.; R. L. Baldwin, Roberts, Mont.; J. H. Hopkins, New York city, and John Zahnd, Indianapolis.

The independent party will not endorse the candidacy of Robert M. La Follette for the presidency, it was said last night.

SOCIALISTS CONDEMN KU KLUX KLAN BY NAME

CLEVELAND, July 9 (By the Associated Press).—A resolution condemning the Ku Klux Klan by name was adopted by the socialist national convention, late yesterday, after it had been referred back because it was connected with the economic condition of the negro.

A substitute was offered along the same lines, but omitting specific mention of the Klan, the explanation being made that the party was only going with economic and not religious issues. A bitter fight broke out over the merits of these two resolutions.

The resolution brought in read: "We emphatically condemn the Ku Klux Klan and every other effort to deny the workers on racial, or religious lines and to affect political purposes by secret or terrorist methods."

The substitute was defeated, 19 to 53 and the resolution was then passed, 56 to 15. This represented less than half the full delegation, as many of the delegates had departed for their homes.

An intensive advertising and publicity campaign for 1924 was provided by the committee on organization and finance report. Funds would be raised by popular subscriptions supplemented by "large social affairs and other enterprises." An advertising expert and a publicity manager will prepare the material.

Local organizations were urged to form La Follette clubs "and other sympathetic organizations."

New alien or non-union members will hereafter be required to apply for citizenship or union cards within three months after joining the party.

Eugene V. Debs was elected national chairman of the socialist party of America, a new office required under the federal election laws.

The new national executive committee was elected as follows: Morris Hillquit, New York; James A. Bennett, Pennsylvania; Victor Berger, Wisconsin; George E. Rowley, Jr., Massachusetts; John Collins, Illinois; Leo M. Harkins, New Jersey; Joseph Sharts, Ohio.

The convention adjourned sine die at 6:40 p. m.

TIRE TUBE FATAL FOR TWO BOSTON GIRLS

BOSTON, July 9.—The bursting of an inflated inner-tube of an automobile tire, to which three young girls, bathers, were clinging as they floated out into the Charles river near the Lord Anderson bridge, yesterday afternoon, resulted in two of the girls being drowned. The third was revived after being rescued in an unconscious condition.

The victims of the double drowning were Nellie Verant, 12, of 737 Somerville avenue, Somerville, and Alice Toel, 13, of 29 Elm street, Somerville.

The two girls, together with Helen Atkins, 14, of 735 Somerville avenue, Somerville, went into the water from the Cambridge side of the river. Feeling secure with the inflated tire to support them, the trio paddled out beyond their depth.

Only Two in Sight

Then the tire burst. One of the victims must have sunk immediately; for when the cries of the other two were heard from the shores on both sides, only two were in sight. Several swimmers, among them Gus Arioli, 21, of 7 Miller street, Somerville, who was on the other side of the river, started toward the girls. Arioli seized the Atkins girl, the only one above water when he reached the spot, and another swimmer whose name was given to the police, dived several times and finally brought up the body of the Verant girl. No further search was made at that time, as the rescuers knew nothing of a third girl having been in the party.

Sergeant Curtin and Officers Edward Murphy and McAuliffe, under direction of Dr. C. Martin Hutchinson of Garden street, worked over the Verant girl for 20 minutes. Then the girl was taken to the Cambridge city hospital, where doctors strove to resuscitate her, but in vain.

Meantime efforts to revive the Atkins girl proved successful and she was taken in a second ambulance to the same hospital.

The GREAT AMERICAN BOY

His hair is all frazzled and won't stay in place. A brush is a stranger to him. There's "full of the dickens" all over his face and he bubbles with vigor and vim.

His shoe strings are flopping all over the ground; there's a large shooing hole at his knee. My guess is that he's the inventor of sound; he's as noisy as any can be.

There's maybe one button left on his waist; his trousers are ripped at the seat. It's cup cakes and pie that appeal to his taste or a big dish of cream is a treat.

He's nibbled his finger nails down to the quick and he's tan till he couldn't be tanner. He never has known what it is to be sick, 'cause he just isn't built in that manner.

Now who do you think I am spooling about? Who lives on just laughter and joy? The answer is plain and there isn't a doubt, he's the average American boy.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, July 9.—Early capital readjustment of American Water Works and Electric, through calling the 6 per cent participating preferred stock with resulting higher earnings on the common shares, is understood in the financial district to be responsible for the spurt above 104 yesterday in a generally buoyant market. The common shares sold at 46 early in the year. The advance in the public utility section was shared by Philadelphia Co., Brooklyn Union Gas and West Power.

Rumors of another steel merger having reached Wall street, linking Re-

New Head of Elks Urges
Support for Education of
American Youths

BOSTON, July 9.—The education and training of prospective American citizens deserves the earnest support of the Benevolent & Protective Order of Elks, John G. Price of Columbus, Ohio, newly elected grand exalted ruler, said in his address of acceptance today.

"The peoples of foreign countries who have come to our shores to share the protecting influence of our unparalleled form of government offer us an exceptional opportunity," he said. "We should never lose the opportunity to enrich the government by uplifting, educating and training of those who are yearning to become citizens of our beloved country."

Consideration of reports occupied the second executive session of the grand lodge of the order, which is holding its 60th annual convention here. Today's entertainment program has included an outing at Mather's beach with a shore dinner and fireworks, and special initiations by the Philadelphia lodge.

$2500 IN PURSES FOR
FALL FAIR RACES

Twenty-five hundred dollars was the sum allotted towards the three days' racing which is to be held in connection with the fall fair of the Lowell Driving club on September 11, 12 and 13. Eight purse races for classes ranging from 2.12 to 2.40 have been arranged so that every horse in this section may have an opportunity of entering into competition with those of other sections without any undue handicap. This matter was arranged at the regular meeting of the Lowell Driving club last night and in addition committees were appointed to arrange a program for the submission of the club next Tuesday night, and to arrange for tents for the cattle exhibits, Hon. Arthur W. Colburn and Secretary Frank E. MacLean are on the former committee and Stephen Pelton on the latter. The president and secretary of the Groton Fair association were present to confer with the local racing committee in regard to having uniform classes at the coming fairs of the associations in this section.

HUNTER OUT OF TENNIS
CHAMPIONSHIPS

PARIS, July 9.—(By the Associated Press) Francis T. Hunter, fifth ranking American, will be unable to play in the Olympic tennis championships owing to the slight fracture of a bone in his hand, suffered in a fall during the final doubles match at Wimbledon, according to indications today. The hand is not infected but is badly swollen.

The draw for the Olympic play, which starts next Sunday, shows that Miss Helen Wills, the American champion, has a difficult task before her in the women's singles. She plays Miss Van Boven of Holland in the first round; Miss Satterthwaite, British star, in the second; and Mrs. Molla Mallory, former American champion, in the third. Mrs. Mallory represents Norway, her native land, in the Olympic tournament. R. Norris Williams, U. S. and Henri Cochet, France, dominate the first quarter in the men's singles; Jean Borotra, Wimbledon champion, the second quarter; Jean Washer, Belgium, the third and Invent Richards, U.S.A., and Manuel Alonso, Spain, the fourth.

PHILIPPINE SOLDIERS TO BE DISCHARGED

MANILA, July 9.—(By the Associated Press) About 100 men of the 34th and 35th ambulance companies of the 12th medical regiment of the Philippine scouts, will be discharged for refusing to perform their duties in addition to the 90 men of the 57th regiment who are to be discharged for insubordination and refusal to drill. The men struck for an equality of pay with white soldiers. A board of nine officers is investigating individual cases in both regiments. A number of men of the 57th regiment were discharged today without honor. The dismissal of the men of the 12th regiment begins tomorrow.

The eight ringleaders of the movement will be discharged with military and tried by court martial.

Approximately 500 men of the 57th regiment refused to perform their duties Monday but when the situation was explained to them all but ninety renounced.

The military authorities are making a thorough investigation of all scout regiments with a view to weeding out malcontents.

MAYOR CURLEY
DENOUNCES KLAN

BOSTON, July 9.—"The Ku Klux Klan are vermin who by education should be shaken out of the folds of the American flag," declared Mayor Curley yesterday morning in a short address at the dedication of a memorial tablet to the establishment of the "first free school in Boston," which tablet was unveiled on the north wall of the Suffolk Savings Bank building, corner Pemberton square and Tremont street.

Thomas F. Halcy presided. In addition to members of the municipal commission for marking historical sites, and other city officials, Dist. Atty. Thomas C. O'Brien attended.

The mayor urged that 1,500,000 boys and girls "now slaves in industry in the United States, be emancipated" by a general child labor law. He declared it a sign of "worship of the mighty dollar" that 90 of every 100 boys and girls today have to start life's battle before passing through the eighth grade.

William B. Snow, assistant superintendent of schools, spoke with satisfaction of the high character of the Boston school system. Thomas H. Dowd, Jr., son of Judge Dowd of the commission erecting the tablet, and Paul Curley, son of the mayor, unveiled the tablet, which marks the site of the dwelling of Daniel Maude, believed to have been the first local schoolmaster. It is believed the school was at first in his home.

The ambassador's note informed Germany that the cessation of control would depend entirely on the satisfactory result of the commission's work and on German compliance with the five requirements made of her previously regarding disarmament.

The method of disarmament inspection would be determined by the international control commission, the note said forth, and any suggestions the Germans wished to make would be considered.

operated a machine similar to the one in which he met his death for the greater part of this time.

Officials of the machinery could give very little information concerning the fatal accident, as no one saw it. From fellow employees in the drying room it was learned, however, that McMahon entered the mill at about 7 o'clock and immediately went to his machine getting it in readiness for work at 7.15 o'clock.

At about 7.30 o'clock fellow employees were drawn to the machine by the smell of burning leather. They found McMahon's machine stopped with the belt still connected and the motor caused by friction of the belt on the machine pulley.

Further investigation led to the discovery of McMahon's body in the machinery at the bottom of the dryer. Before the body could be removed the machine had to be broken and when the body was finally extricated the man was dead. The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of O'Connell & Fay in the ambulance and was there viewed by Medical Examiner Marshall L. Ailing.

Mr. McMahon was 57 years of age, and is survived by his wife, Annie (Mack) McMahon; three daughters, Nora, Charlotte and Florence; one son, Patrick J. McMahon, Jr., and three nieces. He was a member of the Foresters of America and the Royal Arcanum.

Skipper Returns With Story of Floating Island Near Borneo

ONE OF THE "FLOATING ISLANDS" CAPTAIN JONAS PENDLEBURY SIGHTED IN THE PALAWAN PASSAGE BETWEEN THE PHILIPPINES AND BORNEO, THE CAPTAIN IS SEEN IN THE INSET.

BY A. H. FREDERICK
N.Y.E.A. Service Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Land was coming out to meet him.

Captain Jonas Pendlebury, master of the liner President Adams, couldn't figure it out.

He scratched his head and looked at his charts. They only made him wonder all the more. He changed his course and slackened speed.

But still the land, trees and all, kept floating toward him.

Eight little islands there were. Eight little islands haphazardly swimming around. Eight little islands inhabited by chattering monkeys, singing birds and innumerable coconuts.

"Eight of them there were," the skipper says.

"One measured some seven acres. We sighted them in the Palawan passage. That is a sort of 'cut' in the China sea, between Borneo and the Palawan island of the Philippine group.

"There were palm trees on them higher than our wireless masts. Pooled us, too.

Continued

death Monday cast a shadow over the White House and brought the keenest sorrow to those who had grown to know him as a friend during the little time he had been at home there, will be taken by the president's family, now broken for the first time, to his boyhood home at Northampton, Mass. There, amid old friends, services will be held tomorrow at the Edwards Congregational church, of which Calvin was a member. Later in the day, he will be laid to rest beside the grave of the president's mother at Plymouth, Vt.

On the journey to Northampton and Plymouth, the president's family will be accompanied by the cabinet officers and their wives, J. Butler Wright, third assistant secretary of state, Col. C. O. Sherrill, military aide to the president; Capt. Adolphus Andrews, naval aide; Lieut. Commander Joel T. Boone and Major James F. Coupal, the president's physicians who attended young Calvin in his last illness; C. Bascom Stamp, secretary to the president; E. T. Clark, the president's personal secretary and Mrs. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stearns and their son, all friends, will be on the funeral train.

The party will be joined at Northampton by John Coolidge, the president's father.

To bear the body to its last resting place, a marine, assigned to the presidential yacht Mayflower, who with six bluejackets from the yacht, have stood guard over the bier in the East room of the White House since yesterday, also will proceed with the party under command of Lieut. Edgar Allen Poe.

The president consented to the military guard for his son when it was chosen from among those about the Mayflower who had become his fast friends during the week and trips with the president's family on the yacht which were young Calvin's happiest occasions in the White House.

The president and Mrs. Coolidge were said to have faced the ordeal of the funeral service today with the same fortitude with which they have so far borne their heavy sorrow. John, the elder son, who has lost an inseparable companion in Calvin's death, also was said to be showing as brave front as a boy could.

Set for 4 p. m., the funeral rites included first the reading of the 23rd Psalm, John XVI, verses 1 to 3, 15 to 20 and 25 to 27, and Romans 8, verses 31 to 39. The selection for the quartet, which the boy had heard on previous occasions, was the hymn, "O, Love That Will Not Let Me Go." Reading by the Rev. Mr. Pierce of "Away," by James Whitcomb Riley and Tennyson's "Crossing The Bar" followed, and then the hymn, "Still, Still With Thee When Purple Morning Breaketh," by the quartet and the benediction.

Musicians from the Mayflower were asked to play a prelude and postlude.

President Coolidge visited his office for a short time this forenoon. Secretary Hughes, who returned today from Philadelphia, called on him there. Mr. Hughes with Mrs. Hughes, will join the other members of the cabinet at the funeral this afternoon and will go to Northampton and Plymouth.

Government departments were ordered by their instructions to close at 2 p. m. No official instructions went out, but each department acting for itself, decided to cease all business an hour before the funeral services.

AND HANGS HIMSELF

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., July 9.—Selle dementia is believed by the authorities to have caused Charles N. Wilcox, 58, former president of the Chicago, Lake Shore & South Bend R.R. way Co., operating between Chicago and South Bend, Ind., to kill his wife, 70, with an axe, a razor and a potato masher and then hang himself at their home in Michigan City, Monday night.

The bodies, fully clothed, were found last night by officers, who, summoned by neighbors, broke into the home. Mrs. Wilcox lay near a head, her skull crushed and throat cut. Her husband was hanging by a half-inch rope in a clothes closet, the head nearly severed by the rope.

tomorrow, and all business will stop for two hours in the forenoon covering the period in which the funeral train will pause for services at the Edwards Congregational church on the way from Washington to Plymouth, Vt., for burial.

These services will be simple as requested by President Coolidge. Acting Mayor Richard E. Pierce, in a formal proclamation, calling for suspension of business in tribute to his memory, urged that the president's desires for simplicity be carried out in every detail. As a result, the half-staffing of flags was the only outward demonstration of the city's grief, plans for memorial decorations having been abandoned in deference to the president's wish.

At the church where young Calvin was a member of the Sunday school, Rev. Kenneth B. Welles, the pastor, will officiate. The body will be escorted from the train by members of the state constabulary. The funeral party will include besides those who accompanied the mourning president and Mrs. Coolidge from Washington, several scores of friends.

Grandmother Goodhue, who has been receiving the condolences of friends at the Coolidge home, will join the parents of the boy for the services here.

Dr. William Irvine, headmaster of the Mercersburg Academy, where Calvin, Jr., spent the past three school years, with Mrs. Irvine, also will attend the services here. Dr. Irvine has said that the boy showed an exceptionally fine sense of balance was on the honor roll for the entire three years in school and "was sure to have made his mark in the world, had he lived."

Gov. Cox to Attend
BOSTON, July 9.—Governor Chandler H. Cox, with a staff officer not selected yet, will attend the funeral services for Calvin Coolidge, Jr., at Northampton, tomorrow, it was announced at the state house today. He is expected to leave this evening, and will return tomorrow afternoon.

Devens Troops to Attend
AYER, July 9.—The regular army troops stationed at Camp Devens will send military escorts to Northampton and Plymouth, Vt., for the services tomorrow in connection with the funeral of Calvin Coolidge, Jr. A troop of the Third cavalry will go to Plymouth, to patrol the narrow road over which the cortege will pass on the 12 mile trip from Ludlow, where the body will be taken from the train. The Fifth infantry will send a detachment to Northampton for the services there.

death Monday cast a shadow over the White House and brought the keenest sorrow to those who had grown to know him as a friend during the little time he had been at home there, will be taken by the president's family, now broken for the first time, to his boyhood home at Northampton, Mass. There, amid old friends, services will be held tomorrow at the Edwards Congregational church, of which Calvin was a member. Later in the day, he will be laid to rest beside the grave of the president's mother at Plymouth, Vt.

On the journey to Northampton and Plymouth, the president's family will be accompanied by the cabinet officers and their wives, J. Butler Wright, third assistant secretary of state, Col. C. O. Sherrill, military aide to the president; Capt. Adolphus Andrews, naval aide; Lieut. Commander Joel T. Boone and Major James F. Coupal, the president's physicians who attended young Calvin in his last illness; C. Bascom Stamp, secretary to the president; E. T. Clark, the president's personal secretary and Mrs. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stearns and their son, all friends, will be on the funeral train.

The party will be joined at Northampton by John Coolidge, the president's father.

To bear the body to its last resting place, a marine, assigned to the presidential yacht Mayflower, who with six bluejackets from the yacht, have stood guard over the bier in the East room of the White House since yesterday, also will proceed with the party under command of Lieut. Edgar Allen Poe.

The president consented to the military guard for his son when it was chosen from among those about the Mayflower who had become his fast friends during the week and trips with the president's family on the yacht which were young Calvin's happiest occasions in the White House.

The president and Mrs. Coolidge were said to have faced the ordeal of the funeral service today with the same fortitude with which they have so far borne their heavy sorrow. John, the elder son, who has lost an inseparable companion in Calvin's death, also was said to be showing as brave front as a boy could.

Set for 4 p. m., the funeral rites included first the reading of the 23rd Psalm, John XVI, verses 1 to 3, 15 to 20 and 25 to 27, and Romans 8, verses 31 to 39. The selection for the quartet, which the boy had heard on previous occasions, was the hymn, "O, Love That Will Not Let Me Go." Reading by the Rev. Mr. Pierce of "Away," by James Whitcomb Riley and Tennyson's "Crossing The Bar" followed, and then the hymn, "Still, Still With Thee When Purple Morning Breaketh," by the quartet and the benediction.

Musicians from the Mayflower were asked to play a prelude and postlude.

President Coolidge visited his office for a short time this forenoon. Secretary Hughes, who returned today from Philadelphia, called on him there. Mr. Hughes with Mrs. Hughes, will join the other members of the cabinet at the funeral this afternoon and will go to Northampton and Plymouth.

Government departments were ordered by their instructions to close at 2 p. m. No official instructions went out, but each department acting for itself, decided to cease all business an hour before the funeral services.

They are cut loose from the mainland by small inlets. And in time of flood or tidal disturbance, they are carried out into the sea.

TODAY'S EVENTS AT OLYMPICS

U. S. Athletes Enter Today's

Competition With Lead of 44 Points

Finns Nearest Rivals Without Representation in Two of Three Events Today

PARIS, July 9 (By the Associated Press).—America's track and field athletes entered the Colombes stadium today, with a comfortable lead over all the other competing nations, having secured 98 points in the first three days of the meet.

Their nearest rivals, the Finns, had small opportunity of cutting down the margin as they were without representation in two of the three events to be concluded during the afternoon, the 110-metre hurdles and the 200-metre dash. Their only chance of reducing America's 44-point lead was in the 3000-metre steeplechase. The shorter distance events are expected to resolve themselves into battles between the United States and the representatives of the various nations in the British empire.

Finland is confident that one of her endurance stars will win the steeplechase, sending her flag up the Olympic pole for the fourth time this week. The American banner has already been sent aloft four times, in recognition of Yankee victories in the 100-metre hurdles, the high jump, broad jump and shotput.

Three of the six competitors in the 110-metre hurdles this afternoon are Americans, George Guthrie of Ohio State, Dan Kinsey of University of Illinois, and Karl Anderson, Illinois Athletic club. The others are the two Swedes, Christiernson and Peterson, and the South African, Atkinson. In the elimination trials yesterday, the fastest time was made by Guthrie and Atkinson, both going over the jumps in 15.1 seconds.

The 200-metre sprint will be an English speaking affair, except for one of the 12 starters, Andre Mourlon of France.

U. S. Wins in Trap Shooting
PARIS, July 9.—(By the Associated Press).—The United States team was the victor in the Olympic trap shooting events which ended today, piling up a score of 15 points. Hungary was second with ten, Finland third, with nine, Canada fourth with eight, Belgium fifth with five, Sweden sixth with two, and Australia seventh with one.

Practice of yowling and yahoing a favorite son into the White House wine cellar may be polite and political but it's a lot of applesauce to the man in the rafters who wants to know what he's getting and if it's worth carrying home.

A wild, unshorn demonstration lasting 3 hours 48 minutes and 18 seconds is set down in the books as a record—and it is a record for assiduity, dumbness and thick-coated imbecility.

Just what connection a cheer leader has with reduced taxes, $1500 wheat, an enlarged retail fleet and a return to the hit-and-run style of baseball isn't clear to a guy who is down to his last two eyes.

In sports world the boys take their demonstrations in lighter vein. Ruth comes to bat. Wolves in the bleachers launch a demonstration. "Strike out the big hum!" they demand. # THE TODDLER TO STAGE COMEBACK

By N.E.A. Service
CLEVELAND, July 9.—Harness horse fans throughout the country are watching with unusual interest the progress of The Toddler, 2:03 1/4, in the stable of Harry Stinson, noted Canuck trainer, who has been located at North Randall for many years.

A few seasons ago, The Toddler, a son of Kentucky Todd, was one of the sensations of the Grand Circuit.

In 1920 at Columbus he sprang a great surprise when he trotted the third heat of the $3000 Nell House stake in the fast time of 2:03 1/4, beating such good ones as Wilkesbrever and Royal Black in a six-test race.

His last appearance was in 1921, when he was three times first in five starts and never back of third money.

Near the close of the 1921 season Stinson announced that The Toddler would be shipped to Lexington, start in the Castleton cup race and win or lose be retired.

It seemed as though Stinson intended to keep his word, but evidently he figured that the horse had a lot of good races left in him, so he put him into training again this spring.

SEVEN-INNING TIE IN JUNIOR TWO LEAGUE

The Emeralds and Mysteries battled seven innings to a 7 to 7 deadlock in the Junior Twilight league game on the North common last night. The Centralville team jumped away to a three-run lead in the second inning, but the Emeralds tied it up in the fourth and forged ahead in the fifth. One run for the Mysteries in the fifth and two more in the seventh evened the count again and darkness called a halt. Normandin got three hits, two of the doubles.

MICHIGAN UPSETS EX- PERTS' DOPE

By N.E.A. Service
ANN ARBOR, Mich., July 9.—Michigan didn't win the western conference track and field meet recently held on Stagg field, Chicago. It didn't expect to. But Coach Steve Farrell's athletes did succeed in springing a few sharp surprises.

One of the biggest upsets was the victory of DeHart Hubbard, colored star, in the 100-yard dash. With the cream of the middle west sprinters in the event, the Michigan runner wasn't looked upon to finish better than fourth. But he up and did it nevertheless, leading such recognized celebrities as Evans and Ayres of Illinois and McAndrews, Wisconsin.

Then came the shocking defeat of Dean Brownell, ace pole vaulter of Illinois. Here the Sucker star was conceding a certain first place. But Jim Brooker of Michigan tipped the dope by whipping Brownell in the Urbana, Ia.'s favorite event.

Perhaps the most astonishing upset for a Michigan viewpoint was the victory of Dick Doyle, Mac of Illinois in sophomore weight man, in the shotput. Doyle hadn't been figured to show. But his heave of 45 feet 4 1/2 inches was good enough to win.

Just put on this car set and get any local station, if not more. For Frank Ferris of Boston has fitted it up with a crystal detector in each phone—a complete receiver in one piece. He is shown wearing the set which, he says, will act as a reflex with any single tube set.

RADIO NOTES

The radio operator in Tokyo who sent the first information of the earthquake by radio has received a gold medal and $500 from the Radio Corporation of America.

Great Britain has three classes of receiving licenses—broadcasting, construction and experimental.

From license fees alone the British Broadcasting Co. gets a revenue of about $1,180,000 a year.

Oscillations of uncontrolled receivers can be heard as far as 1000 miles at sea from New York.

A Lake Linden (Mich.) fan reports he has logged 242 broadcasters on a simple regenerative set and three-tube amplifier.

Simultaneous broadcasting in England has received great popularity.

A broadcast receiving license in Great Britain costs $2.50 a year.

British amateurs recently heard an Argentine station.

Station at Madrid, Spain, is broadcasting on two and a half kilowatts.

FOURTH ROUND IN SINGLES MATCHES

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—(By the Associated Press) The singles matches of the national clay court tennis championship entered the fourth round of play today with all top seeded players of the tournament qualified and paired.

The pairings brought together A. H. Chapin, Jr., Springfield, Mass., and Robert E. Schlesinger of Australia in a match of great interest due to the recent defeat of the Australian star by Chapin in four sets at the Western championships in Indianapolis.

Clarence J. "Peck" Griffin, San Francisco, met Wray D. Brown, local star and Howard Kinsey played A. L. Kuhlner, Cincinnati. William T. Tilden, Jr., Philadelphia, Walter Westbrook, Pasadena, Cal., Brian I. C. Norton, St. Louis, Robert Kinsey, were matched with younger stars.

NAMED FOR PASTORATE

Cardinal Appoints Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan to St. Mary's Church, Collinsville

His Eminence, Cardinal O'Connell yesterday appointed Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan pastor of St. Mary's church, Collinsville, to succeed the late Rev. Michael C. Gilbride.

Fr. Heffernan has been in charge of the parish since the untimely death of Fr. Gilbride and the news that he has been permanently assigned to the pastorate will be pleasing to his hundreds of friends in Lowell.

Rev. Fr. Heffernan was born in Lawrence and is a graduate of the academy, later taking a course at Phillips-Andover academy. Subsequently he entered Boston college and later pursued a theological course at the seminary at Brighton, being ordained to the priesthood in December, 1900, by the late Archbishop Williams.

His first assignment was to St. Peter's church here and he took up his duties on New Year's eve, 1901, and he has, therefore, spent over two decades in that parish, first under the late Rev. Michael Honan, and since 1909 under Rev. Dr. Kaler. Always regarded as an energetic worker, he applied himself assiduously in the work and hence he became ineffably bound up in the work of the parish with the result that undoubtedly he knew nearly every parishioner within the confines of St. Peter's. He is an eloquent preacher and his sermons have always been fraught with deep significance, and invariably reflected deep study. He has been for upwards of eight years chaplain of the Lowell council, Knights of Columbus, and among the members of that council he is a great favorite.

St. Mary's will be his first pastorate and the parishioners of St. Peter's will rejoice in taking up new and more important duties. Father Heffernan will be but a short distance from the scene of his early labors.

WOULD REPRIMAND THE DEMOCRATIC CHIEFS

BATON ROUGE, La., July 9.—A resolution voicing the "merited indignation" of the rank and file of the democratic party against the conduct of the national democratic convention was introduced yesterday in the lower house of the Louisiana legislature by Howard E. Brunner of Acadia. The resolution follows:

"Whereas the senate and house of representatives of the state of Louisiana are composed in their entirety of democrats, zealous of the welfare of the democratic party, believing that it is to this party and to this party alone that the laborer, working man, farmer and small property owner may look for the amelioration of his present unfortunate condition; and

"Whereas, the present attitude of the different leaders and their supporters for the nomination by the democratic party for president of the United States now in convention assembled is of such a nature as to merit the just indignation of the rank and file of the democratic party who have at heart not the political advancement of any man or set of men, but the welfare of the party, therefore

"Be it resolved by the house of representatives of the state of Louisiana, the senate concurring, that we deplore the conduct of those responsible for the present unfavorable condition existing in the democratic convention in New York, and call upon the delegates from Louisiana to use their utmost efforts to bring about peace between the warring factions that in the coming presidential election the democracy of the nation may present a united front to the common enemy, and thus bring to our nation that peace and prosperity for which we all so ardently pray.

"Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be wired our delegates in New York."

DR. CALDWELL'S
SYRUP PEPsin
Is just what you need

This Will Make Digestion Easy

WHAT the dyspeptic needs is not soda and charcoal and breath perfumes but a medicine that will help his bowels to move regularly, for dyspepsia and constipation are allied. If you will take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin systematically as the directions on the package call for you will soon digest your food properly and pass it out normally, and heartburn, belching, dizziness, nervousness and bloating will vanish. In time you can dispense with all medicines as Syrup Pepsin will have exercised the intestinal and stomach muscles so they act for themselves. Mr. Lewis F. Schultz of Reasnor, Ia., Mrs. Victor Knodler of 3625 Bank St., Louisville, Ky., and hosts of others will verify this.

Formula Plainly Stated

Have no hesitancy giving Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to anyone young or old. It is a mild, gentle laxative free from narcotics. It will not cramp or gripe. The formula is on the package, a compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and simple aromatics. A bottle can be had at any drug store and averages less than a cent a dose. Economical for families and fully guaranteed. You will find it a great improvement in taste and action over castor oil, or "candy cathartics" made from coal-tar that cause skin diseases, colic, that loosen the teeth, salts in water or powder that concentrate the blood and dry the skin.

World Acclaims Success

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the prescription of a well-known physician of that name who practiced successfully for 47 years. It has been on the market thirty years and is today the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. Thousands of families have it in their medicine chest ready when any member shows signs of dyspepsia, constipation, torpid liver, sour stomach, biliousness, coated tongue, offensive breath, headaches and such ailments that indicate deranged stomach and bowels. Many serious diseases are prevented by this timely aid.

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

Jack Daw's Adventure. Chapter 15

Flip started to bark loudly. He realized that his master was in danger of being hurt as his little body turned round and round as he slipped slowly, but surely, towards the deck of the sailing vessel. Then four sailors appeared just below Jack with a huge canvas net. Each took hold of a corner.

Many sailors had lost their footing while high up on one of the masts and this canvas was always ready. The four sailors pulled it open and held tight. Then, suddenly, Jack broke out of the sail trappings and dropped into the net. It was like landing on a bed and he wasn't hurt.

By this time the sailing ship was under way and a strong wind had blown it out to sea. Darkness had started to set in and Jack asked the captain if he might stand up at the wheel with the man who was steering the boat. "Go right ahead," replied the captain, so Jack was soon there. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

THERE IT WAS, WITH A BIG SIGN OVER THE GATE

Nancy and Nick were surprised when Mister Zip, their new little friend, took them to the edge of the woods and showed them where his new amusement park was.

There it was, with a big sign over the gate which said "Happy-Go-Lucky Park. Come In."

"Can anybody go in?" asked Nancy.

"Sure," nodded Mister Zip. "Anybody who has 10 cents. But it takes more to get out than it does to get in."

"Why?" asked Nick in surprise.

"Oh, because," said Mister Zip, "when people come they want to try everything and buy everything and it costs money. I'm not as young as I used to be and so I decided that I had better make my fortune. This is the way I'm going to do it."

"Who is coming to your park?" asked Nancy.

"Well," said Mister Zip, sticking his tongue into his cheek and looking wise, "everybody. I hope I thought I would let Nick do my advertising and new around hills telling all about the park and having pictures on the bills. Just like circuses have pictures pasted up everywhere to let people know about it."

"That's Fairy Queen," said that you twins knew where all the wood people lived," went on Mister Zip. "Is that so? And the meadow people and barnyard people?"

"Ho-ho-ho!" cried Nick. "I'd like that. I'd like to see all the wood people and meadow people and barnyard people."

"BEHIND BARS FOR BANISHING THE BAR"

NEW YORK, July 9.—William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league before being convicted of forgery here, according to Sing Sing prison attaches, is to publish a book shortly for which he has been gathering material. "Behind Bars for Banishing the Bar," is to be the title of the work, which is to describe Mr. Anderson's battle of several years with the forces of John Barleycorn. Friends of Mr. Anderson assert the book is to contain "the story of America's first prohibition prisoner."

STRIKE OF 50,000 GARMENT WORKERS

NEW YORK, July 3.—About 50,000 workers in the ladies' garment trade yesterday began a reorganization strike that will end as soon as the terms accepted last night by the Merchants' Ladies' Garment association are given the form of a contract.

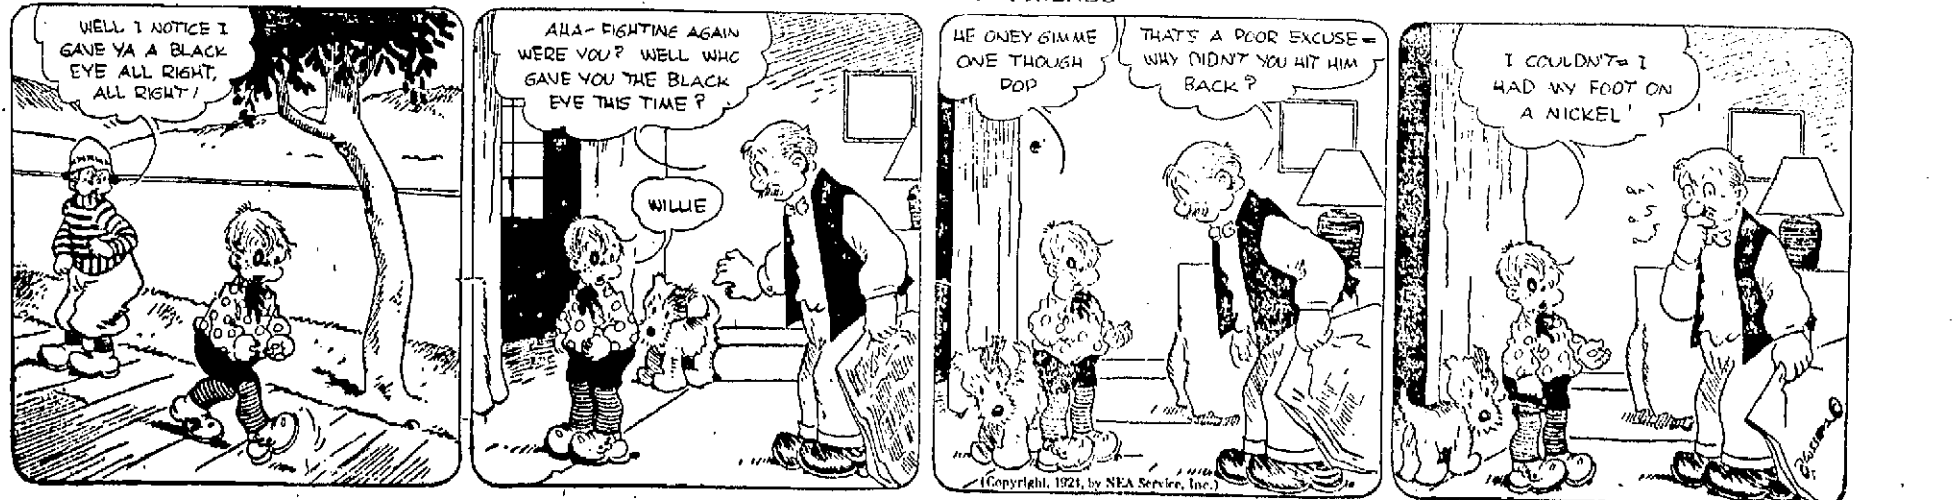

The agreement, which is to run for one year, instead of the customary three years, will be drawn up when Morris Hillquit, counsel for the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union, returns from Cleveland. The three employers' associations in the trade are expected to sign it.

The conciliation board appointed by Gov. Smith, which brought about the settlement, will serve as arbitrator of differences. The board also will choose a committee of three to work out a code of ethics for the industry.

GUILTY OF ASSAULT ON CRIPPLED BOY

CROWDS FLOCK TO CITY BATHING BEACH

One of the most appealing cases ever brought before the district court of this city was heard this morning when Kachador Manogian was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery on Joseph Smith, a 12-year-old boy, who has been crippled since a baby and is unable to walk.

The plaintiff was carried into court in his mother's arms this morning and told a clear story of the assault. Last Tuesday, he said, when coming home from school, he was riding in a little cart and when in front of the defendant's property met a group of boys and girls. He stopped, and as he did, the defendant came out and kicked another boy and then kicked him in the side.

Attorney Tierney defended Manogian and cross-examined the child's length, but was unable to shake his story. Another boy, about the same age as the plaintiff, who was also kicked, told his story and denied bothering the defendant. The plaintiff's mother, Jugwika Smith, who brought the action, testified as to the child's condition.

Manogian was the first to testify for the defense and said through an interpreter that the boys in the neighborhood of his Charles street property ring the bells and do other things to bother him, and that he had requested police protection three times.

He denied striking any of the boys and said he did not see the plaintiff at all and that he had never bothered him.

In finding the defendant guilty, Judge Fisher said he believed the story of the crippled boy but, before imposing sentence, called his mother to the stand and warned her to keep her other children away from the defendant's store. He then imposed a fine of $50 which was appealed, and bonds were set at $200.

Paul F. McKenzie, charged with manslaughter, operating while drunk and drunkenness in connection with the death of Richard Maynard after an automobile accident on the Lawrence boulevard June 17, was granted a continuance of a week as the inquiry report was not ready.

Paul Sarkisian, assault and battery, was continued to tomorrow for trial.

Gilbert J. Pelletier, larceny, was continued to Saturday.

Peter Demetras was fined $10 for driving an automobile without a license.

Charles A. Soden, drunk and operating a machine while drunk, was continued to July 15.

John Tsafaras, who was arrested last night by Motor Vehicle Inspector Eugene Louder for driving after his license had been revoked, was called for trial this morning, but as the defendant is already on a continuance for a similar offense, the case was continued to July 19 so that both charges could be tried at the same time.

Scholz Wins Spectacular Duel From Paddock

by a foot in the time of 21 3-5 seconds, equalling the Olympic record.

Scholz and Paddock finished so close together that they seemed like a dead heat from the stand and the judges required several minutes to make their decision. After his flying leap toward the tape, Paddock was apparently twisted his ankle, fell to the ground. It was several minutes before he was able to get to his feet and limp off the field.

The British threat in this event, instead of being made by Abrahams, whose exertions the last three days have caused his virtual collapse, was made by E. H. Liddell, who just nosed out George Hill, the University of Pennsylvania star, for third place, while Bayes Norton, of Yale, had a yard margin on Abrahams for the fifth position.

Paddock, who was off to a perfect start, held the lead until the last few yards when Scholz's whirlwind drive carried him to the front.

America opened the fourth day of the Olympic games with a thrilling victory in the 110 metre hurdles scored by Dan Kinsey, University of Illinois. This victory, with two other places won by American competitors in the event, sent the total score of the United States to 12, just double the number of the nearest competitor, Finland, with 55.

The United States would have added materially to this score, however, had it not been for the misfortune of Karl Anderson, Illinois A. C., who when up with the leaders, stumbled at the next to the last hurdle and fell first to the track, finishing fourth while George Guthrie, of Ohio State, who crossed the line third, failed to get the place because of knocking over three of the hurdles.

Summaries:

200-metre dash—First semi-final heat, three to qualify for finals—Jackson V. Scholz, New York A. C., first; George Hill, University of Pennsylvania, second; H. M. Abrahams, Great Britain, third. Time, 21 3-5 seconds.

1500 metre run, fifth heat: H. B.

The warm weather of yesterday and today has made the city baths on the Pawtucket boulevard the mecca for many seeking relief and Parks Supt. Kernan has found it advisable to add two temporary laborers to the staff there in order that the four life-savers may devote all their time to beach duty.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Kernan counted 91 machines at the bathhouse and scores of bathers came on foot. The park superintendent would not estimate the number of bathers, saying that so many came in automobiles, already dressed for the water, there is no way of keeping accurate tally at the bathhouse.

The park department has requested the purchasing agent to call for bids on the removal of the unsightly buildings of the old jam factory, on the river bank near Pawtucket bridge. It is desired to clear this recently acquired property at once and put in shape for use as a market.

Work started yesterday on the making of the two new baseball diamonds on the old fair grounds property. This property is being put into shape for park purposes and is known as the John J. O'Donnell playground, so named in honor of a deceased World war veteran.

A gang of men is at work in the various playgrounds of the city repairing playground apparatus which was put out of order. Another gang is busy watering lawns which are burning under the protracted hot spell. The lawn of city hall and Cardinal O'Connell parkway received special attention today.

The park department has under advisement the proposal of providing several tennis courts on the eight acres of land in Centralville purchased for park purposes this week by the city from the Seth B. Hall heirs.

The schedule of the girls' volleyball teams in the playground league was announced today as follows:

WOODLAND FIRE IN WESTFORD TOWN

A forest fire broke out in the town of Westford yesterday and is still burning. Its progress has been slowed down considerably by the efforts of a group of fire-fighters under the command of Fire Warden Harry Nesmith.

The fire is in a section of the town away from any buildings and is in the sprout land. Considerable cordwood has been destroyed and the fire is now heading towards the Tyngsboro town line. As the Westford fire-fighting force is small, it is doubtful if the fire can be brought under control unless they are assisted by a heavy downpour of rain.

$5 FINE FOR PREMATURE FOURTH CELEBRATION

ELKS LIONIZE SENIOR COMMENDATIONS FOR P. E. R. OF LOWELL

TWO PATROLMEN

Bernard T. Brennan was arraigned in district court this morning before Judge Fisher on a charge of exploding firecrackers before the time set by law, and was found guilty and fined $5.

The case was one of the most unusual brought into district court in some time as the law is one which is "honored in the breach more than in the observance."

Brennan was arrested July 1 by Officer McGreevey in Merrimack street, near Dutton, after he had thrown a firecracker from the machine in which he was riding. In district court this morning the officer testified to seeing Brennan light the firecracker and throw it from the rear seat of the car.

Deputy Downey was the second witness called and testified that at the station on the night in question, Brennan admitted he had been drinking.

Atty. Thomas Higgins defended Brennan and in examining Officer McGreevey, asked that the officer repeat the talk he had with defendant prior to the arrest. The officer said that when he stopped the machine he asked the occupants where they were from and several said they were from Worcester.

Brennan, testifying for himself, said he was in the front seat of the automobile and that a person in the rear seat lit the firecracker and he had to throw it out or it would have exploded in his hand.

Atty. Higgins argued that as there was no city ordinance concerning this offense and as the city had never accepted the state regulation, he believed his client should be acquitted. Judge Fisher thought otherwise and found Brennan guilty, fining him $5. Brennan appealed but changed his mind within a few minutes and paid the fine.

BRITISH AND YANKEE SAILORS FRATERNIZE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Closing a day in which officers and bluejackets of the British navy in large numbers fraternized with Americans on United States soil for the first time in 40 years, Vice Admiral Sir Frederick Field predicted here last night, that the time is near when "petty differences between England and America will melt away as the mists disappear in San Francisco harbor."

Sir Frederick, commander of a world-circling British squadron now in San Francisco bay made his prophecy to a tremendous ovation accorded him by 800 guests at a banquet.

Dr. William H. Downs, apy and skittish at 78, was one of the youngest old Elks at the grand lodge session in Boston yesterday, where he cast his vote for John G. Price of Columbus, O., newly elected grand exalted ruler. The senior past exalted ruler of Lowell lodge went down yesterday morning with P.E.R. John J.

Patrolmen William P. Liston and John J. Leahy of the liquor squad of the local police department were today commended by Supt. Thomas R. Atkinson for their arrest on July 3 of Ralph Burdett on the charge of having burglars' tools in his possession. Burdett was later found to be on parole from the state prison.

The commendation follows: "Special Order, No. 20. "Patrolmen William P. Liston and John J. Leahy are hereby publicly commended for the arrest of Ralph Burdett on the night of July 3, 1924, on the charge of having burglars' tools in his possession and who proved to be a man on parole from the state prison, who later admitted committing a felony. The action of the officers in this case is worthy of emulation by every man in the department."

"THOMAS R. ATKINSON, Supt."

The commendation was read at all roll calls today.

Joseph J. Sweeney of Court street, who gave his occupation as a "dealer in anything, no matter how large or small," was fined $25 in district court today for cruelty to a horse.

Lt. Frawley and Officer Murphy of the police department and Agent Richardson and Dr. Eaton of the Humane society appeared for the prosecution and Mr. Sweeney and driver, a youth named Higgins, were witnesses for the defense.

Testimony of the witnesses brought out the fact that on or about June 12, Higgins started to drive four horses from Court street to Lawrence for Mr. Sweeney.

When near the Lowell cemetery in Boylston street, Lt. Frawley and Officer Murphy stopped the driver and told him one horse was lame. The police then notified Agent Richardson of the Humane society, who made a preliminary examination and had Dr. Eaton examine the horse thoroughly the next day. Dr. Eaton testified that one of its feet was in bad condition.

The driver of the wagon, Higgins, said the horse was not lame when he left the stable and Sweeney testified that after the horse was stopped by the police, he took from its foot a long nail which was the cause of its lameness.

Mr. Sweeney conducted his own case and at the conclusion of testimony offered a lengthy argument as to why he shouldn't be found guilty. Despite his argument, Judge Fisher imposed a fine of $25, which was appealed and Mr. Sweeney held in bonds of $100 for the superior court.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Senator La Follette made formal announcement yesterday afternoon that his campaign will be managed by Representative John M. Nelson of Wisconsin. The choice was expected. Mr. Nelson has been the outstanding lieutenant in the La Follette campaign and had led the house irregulars in every fight.

Since 1906 Representative Nelson has been a member of the house, elected as a republican, but always a thorn in the flesh of the G. O. P. machine. Nelson is counted on to shoulder much of the load that La Follette's health prohibits him from carrying.

The veteran Wisconsin Senator remains virtually in seclusion at his home here; he has dodged personal publicity ever since the Cleveland campaign.

terday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, when local mercury glasses registered a mean relative humidity of 70 per cent. The mean temperature yesterday was 75, while the maximum was 92 as recorded by local glasses of standing in the community.

The weather yesterday was the warmest of the season, and New England folks suffered more than anywhere in the U. S. A. The bathing pool off Pawtucket boulevard was crowded with young and old of both sexes, trying to obtain relief from the intense heat and sweltering humidity; the water was rather cold, but to one minded that. No severe cases of heat prostration were reported during the day.

Weather wisecracks were looking for thunderstorms all day and last night, and again this morning, too, for there were showers, on all sides of New England, but none anywhere near Lowell. The wind yesterday blew mostly south.

Unsettled weather, with showers and thunderstorms are predicted for tonight and probably tomorrow, and although the expected rains may bring some relief, not much change in temperature is expected tomorrow.

If anything, the mercury will climb a little higher than today's recording, so the weather sharp says.

San readers who want to know just here this humid temperature blot came from, and here's the answer:

The intense heat and humidity is caused by the presence of a "high" just over New England and a "low" pressure in the Great Lakes region. Both pressures are practically motionless. If the "high" moves sufficiently off to sea today and the "low" does not follow too closely behind, east winds for Lowell and vicinity are not impossible.

TENANTS DRIVEN OUT BY BLOCK FIRE

Several tenants of a block numbered 453-457 Market street were driven to the street in scanty apparel this morning when fire broke out in the lower floor of the building.

An alarm from box 125 was sounded at 2:04 o'clock and firemen answering this alarm, assisted by police officers, succeeded in getting all the tenants out of the building.

The fire proved to be stubborn and before it was extinguished several hose lines were brought into play. The amount of the damage could not be given this morning but it is believed it will be considerable.

HELD WITHOUT BAIL ON MURDER CHARGE

EXETER, N. H., July 9.—John P. McDuffy was held without bail for the October grand jury when arraigned here today on a charge of murder. He is alleged to have shot and killed Patrolman Albert L. Colson and Arthur C. Bennett when they came to his house on the Fourth of July to quell a disturbance caused by boys.

TWO SHOTS FIRED AT RUMANIAN LEGATION

LONDON, July 9. (By the Associated Press).—Two shots were fired today at the Rumanian consulate and legation here, neither of them taking effect. A Rumanian student is being detained by the police in connection with the shooting.

FOREST FIRES BEYOND CONTROL

BANGOR, Me., July 9.—Forest fires on the Masadiss stream back of Bangor were reported this forenoon to be beyond the control of a crew of 700 fire fighters, according to information received here by the Bangor & Aroostook railroad. The fire is rapidly spreading.

According to the railroad officials, the town of Masadiss is not threatened at present.

The fire at Hanford siding has been brought under control by the crew of 200 men.

HELD IN CONNECTION WITH STABBING

ANSONIA, Conn., July 9.—Theodore De Bonas, 25, was arrested here last night and turned over to the Massachusetts state police as a result of a stabbing a fellow in a construction camp at Brimfield, Mass. Two men who were stabbed are said to be in a hospital in a critical condition.

The prisoner agreed to return to Massachusetts without requisition papers and the Bay State officers took him to Springfield.

California Divides Vote

The first ballot of the day was the 101st of the convention—an undreamed of record. California which had been solid for McAdoo, split her vote, giving Chairman Walsh 19—the majority of it.

N. Y. Goes For Underwood

New York split up, giving the bulk of her vote to Underwood. Connecticut changed her vote and gave 11 of her 14 to Underwood also.

Tennessee on her break up gave J. W. Davis 15.

Davis Leads for First Time

Then in Pennsylvania the West Virginian picked up 13½ more. South Carolina which had been voting solidly for McAdoo gave its 18 votes under the unit rule for John W. Davis. It put Mr. Davis in the lead for the first time.

Texas turned its 40 bodily for Meredith.

Virginia gave half of her 24 to J. W. Davis also, but kept 12 for Glass.

John W. Davis picked up Delaware's six; Dr. Murphy of Florida, one of Bryan's several candidates, got four of the Florida votes.

Georgia Breaks

Georgia split for the first time, giving McAdoo 11, but 12 to Meredith and five to John W. Davis. Idaho's eight votes went solid to David F. Houston, former secretary of the treasury. Senator Walsh of Montana and Underwood picked up scattering votes in various states as the roll call proceeded.

On Davis Bandwagon

Maryland got on the Davis bandwagon on this ballot, and gave Gov. Ritchie's 16 to the West Virginian. Gov. Hitchcock announced the ballot.

When New Jersey broke up, 16 of its votes went to Underwood and 12 went to Glass. In North Carolina J. W. Davis picked up 20. In Ohio he got 23 more.

HUGHES ASKED TO AID IN SAVING MUIR'S LIFE

NEW YORK, July 9.—Secretary of State Hughes was asked today to aid in the movement for a commutation of the death sentence imposed by a Canadian court on Walter Muir, of New York city. Unless the sentence is commuted, Muir is to be hanged on Friday in Valley View, Que., for fatally shooting Henri LaViolette, in a quarrel over a hunting dog.

LAWRENCE MEN ARE DISCHARGED

After a hearing this forenoon before United States Commissioner Richard B. Walsh, the case of Henry J. Thompson, 563 Essex street, Lawrence, charged with interfering with federal officers and destroying evidence, was placed on file. Agent Walter Sullivan testified for the government. The defendant said he was intoxicated on the day in question and did not realize what he was doing, or that the men, Sullivan and Canola, were federal agents.

MEMBERS OF LOWELL TROOPS OFF FOR BOY SCOUT CAMP

SCOUT EXECUTIVE MELLON, LOWELL COUNCIL MEMBERS AND SCOUTS READY FOR TRIP TO CAMP AT HUDSON, N. H.

The Lowell Boy Scout camp officially opened this morning, when a group of 40 boys and officers left Lowell for Johnson's pond, Hudson Centre, N. H. Eleven Eagle scouts and some of the officers went to camp on Monday to put everything in readiness for the arrival of the main body today. The camp will extend over a period of four weeks; some of the boys will stay the whole time while others will change from time to time. The largest group is expected next week when 100 scouts will go into camp. Throughout the season the boys will be under the watchful guidance of Edwin Mellon, Lowell Scout executive, and a competent staff of assistants. Mr. Mellon has arranged a program that includes in addition to the regular scope of scout activities, swimming under the care of expert lifeguards, boating, hunting, sports, nature study, treasure hunts, and stunt camp fires. For those who can not swim there will be special instructions by experts. While the scouts are in the water the leaders will maintain patrol service on the shore and in boats, to safeguard against a possibility of accident. Ideal conditions are offered for passing Scout tests, including merit badges and the court of honor will hold special sessions in camp to advance all Scouts who are qualified to pass the examinations. Mail should be addressed to Lowell Council, Boy Scouts of America, Hudson Centre, N. H.

West Virginia Man Chosen Standard Bearer of Democratic Party on the 103rd Ballot

JOHN W. DAVIS OF WEST VIRGINIA

DAVIS GOES OVER WITH BANG

LATEST

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, July 9.—John W. Davis of West Virginia, was nominated for the presidency on the 103rd ballot at the democratic national convention this afternoon.

JUMPED INTO LEAD ON THE 101ST BALLOT

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 9.—John W. Davis of West Virginia, sprang into the lead in today's balloting in the democratic national convention, with Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, close behind him. In the break-up of the McAdoo and Smith forces which began on the 101st ballot today, Davis sprang into the lead and many of the Smith votes were transferred to Underwood, putting the Alabama man second. E. T. Meredith of Iowa to whom many of the McAdoo captains were attempting to deliver their strength, was a slow third.

On this ballot, the first of the day, the new order of candidates was: John W. Davis, 316; Oscar W. Underwood, 223.5; E. T. Meredith, 130. Smith was fourth with 121, Sen. Thomas Walsh, fifth, with 98. The other votes were scattered as follows: Glass 59, McAdoo 52, Robinson 23.4, Ritchie 24, Owens 23, Murphree 4, Berry 1, Houston 3, Cummings 2, Hull 2, Baker 1, Gerard 16, Daniels 1. Totals, 1094.4. Absent, 34. This was a gain of 113.5 for Mr. Davis, and a gain of 187 for Underwood. It was also a gain of 54.5 for Meredith. But it was a loss of 230.5 for Smith and a loss of 133 for McAdoo.

The result of the 102nd ballot: McAdoo 21; Smith 44; Davis of W. Va., 115 2-3; Underwood 307; Glass 67; Robinson 21; Ritchie 42; Walsh 123.4; Meredith 66 1-3; Thompson 1; Daniels 2; General Allen 1; Berry 1.5; Gerard 7; Hull 1; Bryan 1. Total, 1050; absent 18. 102nd ballot summary: This was a gain of 29 2-3 for Davis; a gain of 77.5 for Underwood, a gain of 65 for Walsh and a loss of 53 2-3 for Meredith.

More States Flock to Davis On the 103rd ballot, Georgia, state of McAdoo's birth, which stood by him fast and then went to Meredith when he released his delegates, went to John W. Davis. Idaho, another McAdoo sticker, also flipped into the Davis column. Illinois ran up her proportion of Davis votes, and Kentucky, another McAdoo battalion, gave Davis 23.4. Today's session began with a prayer Continued to Page Ten

SIMPLE FUNERAL SERVICES FOR CALVIN COOLIDGE, JR.

Washington Pays Tribute at Brief Services in East Room of White House—Body Will Be Taken to Northampton, Tonight—Burial at Plymouth, Vt.

NORTHAMPTON, July 9.—With flags flying at half staff, this quiet New England city today prepared to pay its final tribute to Calvin Coolidge, Jr., younger son of the president. The plans which citizens once made for the first home-coming of the chief executive, since his elevation to the presidency, have all been laid aside for the simple service which will mark the last journey of his son and namesake to the Vermont hills, where it will be laid away in the little hillside cemetery at Plymouth.

Bearing eight cabinet members among the representatives of the nation's government at Washington, the funeral train, which will start northward from Washington tonight, will arrive here at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning, summer time. Then, guarded by the group of sailors and marines which have watched by the bier in Washington and with 200 state police and a detachment of the Fifth Infantry as a guard of honor, the body will be taken to the Edwards Congregational church, where the boy was a member with his brother John. Services will be conducted starting at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev. Kenneth B. Welles, assisted by Dr. Jason Noble Pierce of the First Congregational church of Washington. Among the mourners will be members of the Boy Scout troop of which Calvin was a member. After the services at 11.30 the train will again start northward to arrive at Ludlow, Vt., seven miles from the burial place at Plymouth, shortly after 2 o'clock. The trip to Plymouth must be made by automobile. The mission completed, the train will begin its return journey to Washington at 5.30 tomorrow afternoon. Among the members of the party to-tomorrow, which will include Secretary of State Hughes, Secretary of the Interior Work, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, Postmaster General-New, Attorney General Stone, Secretary of War Weeks, Secretary of the Navy Willbur and Secretary of Labor Davis, will be Gov. Cox of Massachusetts and Speaker Gillett of the national house of representatives, and Dr. and Mrs. Marion Leroy Burton. In deference to the president's wishes, preparations by the citizens of Northampton have been of the simplest. No buildings are draped and only the flags at half-staff and the air of sorrow in the city over the loss of the president's younger son, universally beloved by the people of Northampton, who knew him, give evidence of the city's mourning.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Only the setting of the historic White House East room with its profusion of banked flowers, might distinguish the simple funeral service today for Calvin Coolidge, Jr., from that for any other youth of his country. The governments of nations, with his own, were permitted their wish to pay respect to the president's dead son, but the desire of the bereaved family for simplicity ruled in every detail of arrangements. A prayer by the Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational church which the president and Mrs. Coolidge attend here, his reading of Scripture and the singing of favorite hymns by a quartet, was the simple rite for the late afternoon service. Tonight the body of the youth, whose Sweltering humanity, unmercifully pestered by three days of extreme torridity and intense humidity, breathed signs of genuine relief today, when they scanned the home and down-town thermometers and read the news. The "heat wave" appears to be departing, although to most folks suffering from a plethora of heat and humidity since last Sunday, it seemed just as hot and sticky, and generally uncomfortable this morning as it did yesterday, all day and evening. Yesterday's maximum mercury reading in Lowell was 92, Boston's highest was 90, but an easterly breeze from the Atlantic lowered the Hub temperature slightly. Lowell's second hot wave of the 1924 season reached its full strength yesterday. Continued to Page 12

REDMOND CASE ON TRIAL IN BOSTON

BOSTON, July 8.—The Redmond case went to trial before Judge Lowell in the federal court yesterday. A jury was quickly impaneled after the pleas of not guilty entered by George F. Redmond of the defunct G. F. Redmond & Co., Inc., and Ray F. Sheridan. The charge was conspiracy to defraud and fraudulent use of the mails.

At the afternoon session Sheridan withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded nolo to two indictments.

Mrs. E. M. Downes of 25 Everett avenue, Winchester, was the first witness. She testified that she telephoned the Redmond concern in August, 1922, and made a purchase. She identified receipts and literature mailed to her. Asst. Dist. Atty. Essex Abbott read a copy of the Redmond partial payment booklet. Mr. Abbott is assisted by Asst. Dist. Atty. Carroll.

In his opening, which went into considerable detail on the plan of 20 per cent. down and 8 per cent. monthly payments, Mr. Abbott said that in order to do an honest business on that basis the concern would have needed the resources of the Bank of England and the United States government. He estimated the losses of the company at $12,000,000 at the time it went into bankruptcy.

Mrs. Downes testified she received one batch of stock, but was unable to secure other shares she thought she was entitled to. She was cross-examined by Attorney Leo Rogers as to whether she had paid all she had agreed to before being entitled to stock. Her monthly statements from the company were then examined.

The witness admitted that when she asked for certain stock that was paid up she could not get it, the agent saying that other stocks had depreciated and that she could not withdraw certain paid-up stock. She named a radio stock as having been paid for but which the Redmond concern would not deliver.

Violet H. Goodwin of Chelsea testified she purchased stock of the Redmond company and received certain communications through the mail. Witness said she received certain stock and other stock remained in accordance with her agreement.

Richard H. McElroy of Malden was another witness. He said he never paid in full for his stock and knew the receivers took over the concern.

PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD SESSION IS BRIEF

The board of public service in short and spirited session yesterday afternoon again criticized the superintendent of streets, this time for failure to provide the work progress charts which the board ordered many weeks ago. As usual the superintendent agreed to remedy the board's complaint and promised to show some speed in applying the remedy.

The board over the award of the contract for sealing all for road work was definitely settled when the board decided to make no award. The purchasing agent will be asked to advertise anew for bids when such material is needed. On the last bid the American Oil Products, at 17c a gallon, was the only bidder. The board claims it can buy this material without bids at 12 or 13 cents.

The Buckland Printing Co. was given the contract for printing the annual report of the water department. Their price was $154.50 as against $322.50 for Sullivan Bros. The water department was authorized to buy a 3½ ton truck to replace the horses in use at the West Sixth street pumping plant.

Monthly bills as follows met approval: Ashes and waste, $662.37; street sprinkling, $524.00; street maintenance, $504.81; Cambridge sewer, $202.55; manure, $130.83; new sidewalks, $123.46; paving, $10,368.59; sewer construction, $1511.50; street lighting, $11,763.32; sewer maintenance, $135.91; transfers, $1261.68 and water department, $8503.51.

MOBILIZATION SEPT. 12

Col. Goodale in Charge of
New England

BOSTON, July 8.—Col. George S. Goodale has been selected by Maj. Gen. Andre W. Brewster, commanding general of the 1st Corps Area, as officer in charge of plans for the coming defense test throughout New England. Col. Goodale has been in charge of the Reserve Officers' training camp affairs in the 1st Corps Area during the past year.

In discussing plans, Col. Goodale said: "The so-called 'Defense Test' is merely a part of the regular training of the various components of the army of the United States. It is no different in this respect than training in peace and extended order drills, target practice or any other of the many forms of training prescribed both by custom and regulations."

"The war department feels that while the people of the United States do not want a large army, they do want an efficient and well trained army."

"The defense test, or mobilization test which has been planned for the entire United States on Sept. 12, is merely the inauguration of a routine system of training which will hereafter become as much a part of the education of officers and men of the army as squads right and left."

"It is in no sense intended as a threat or show of military strength; in fact it is as the name implies, simply a test or exercises to demonstrate the plan for defense mobilization and to be in the nature of a patriotic celebration."

Col. Goodale has prepared tentative plans for putting into effect this new training feature. It is expected that many defects in the present mobilization plans will be disclosed by this practice test and that yearly defense tests will provide a means by which such defects may be discovered and remedied.

VETERAN SUES TOWN FOR LOSS OF JOB

A suit for $500 has been brought against the town of Billerica by Edward McMillen, World war veteran who was discharged from the town street department by Highway Surveyor Twombly, and will be heard July 25 in the superior court in Cambridge. McMillen was discharged in February and was reinstated. Shortly after his reinstatement he and Twombly engaged in a fist fight and the latter claimed McMillen hit him over the head with a club in the town stables. McMillen was arraigned in district court in Lowell and appealed the finding. In superior court Judge Fosdick ordered him to pay the costs of the action, amounting to about $20. Melvin Rogers is attorney for McMillen and Harvey, Harvey and Walsh for the town of Billerica.

"Gone for the day," will be in order tomorrow when the Adams Hardware clerks will be the guests of Mr. George Runnels, president of the firm, at Provincetown. Arrangements have been made to accommodate twenty persons. The clerks will take the 8 o'clock train to Boston and make the trip from Boston to Provincetown by boat. On arrival at Provincetown a fish dinner will be served. Later there will be an excellent program of entertainment. The clerks will return to Lowell late in the evening.

Bill introduced by bishop of Oxford, restricting trade in liquor by means of popular control, is defeated in house of lords, after principle of prohibition is denounced in speech of bishop of Durham.

Insurrection at Sao Paulo, Brazil, which threatened to become nationwide, has been virtually suppressed, official Brazilian advisers report.

PROHIBITION UNSOUND, SAYS BISHOP

LONDON, July 8.—(By Associated Press)—The bill introduced in the house of lords by the Bishop of Oxford to restrict the trade in alcoholic beverages by what was termed popular control, to be exercised by periodical voting of the inhabitants of the different boroughs, was defeated yesterday, 166 to 50, after a three days' debate.

The government supported the bill on the understanding that it would be considered in detail in committee, but its fate was sealed by a remarkably vigorous speech by the Bishop of Durham who denounced the bill because he said it enshrined the principle of prohibition, which was thoroughly unsound and could not be limited in application, as America had shown.

He added that it would involve inequality between the rich and poor and would breed embitterment among the latter.

Testament fanatics, the Bishop of Durham concluded, constituted the only faction which could defeat the victory of temperance in England.

CHELMSFORD WATER DISTRICT MEETING

A meeting of the Chelmsford water district was held last night in the town hall with Walter Perham as moderator. Very little interest was shown in the several articles of the warrant and the only discussion was on the article calling for the reimbursement of George W. Day for work done by him under orders of the board. It was finally voted to pay him for his work. It was also voted to extend the water service 450 feet in Dalton road, and a sum of $4425 was voted to pay for the extension and to reimburse Mr. Day.

MISSIONARY TO USE AIRPLANE

NEW YORK, July 8.—For the first time in the history of missionary activities of Africa, an airplane will be used by a missionary in covering his territory. It was announced today. The missionary who will employ this means of transportation is Mr. E. A. Late, who with his wife and son sails today on the Aquitania for his post in Liberia. The Lutheran foreign mission board of Baltimore, which is sending Dr. Late abroad, will send the airplane at an early date.

BUENOS AIRES, July 8. (By the Associated Press).—Latest advices from Rio Janeiro indicate that the previous announcement of the capture by government forces of the rebel positions in Sao Paulo, was premature. The positions now are being bombarded by heavy artillery, with airplanes co-operating. It is stated, and the official word is that "all is ready for the final assault."

The uprising has already cost several hundred lives and much property damage.

Heavy Artillery Fire

RIO JANEIRO, Tuesday, July 8. (By the Associated Press. Delayed).—The government announced to the newspapers late this afternoon that heavy artillery was firing on the Luz barracks in Sao Paulo, and that reinforcements arriving on the Central Do Brazil railway were already in action. The attack started yesterday against the final positions held by the rebels, is continuing with intensity.

TO SEEK RE-ELECTION

Sen. Couzens of Michigan
Announces His Candidacy
to Succeed Himself

Refuses to Pledge Support
to Pres. Coolidge or Party
Platform

DETROIT, July 8.—Senator James Couzens of Michigan, announcing his candidacy at the September primaries to succeed himself, in a formal statement today, refused to pledge his full support to President Coolidge or either state or national republican platform. He challenged the right of party "bosses" to dictate his course of action and made his bid for the vote of Michigan electors on his past record for which, he said, he had no apologies to make.

Asked by the chairman of the republican state committee to sign a statement pledging his support to the party platform, and endorsing President Coolidge, Senator Couzens replied he could not do so.

"I complete adherence to the proposals and policies of President Coolidge is the test of republicanism," he said. "I do not believe it to be the desire of my constituents that I abjectly promise to follow someone and do his bidding."

"No candidate can endorse both the state platform and President Coolidge 100 per cent," he said, "because they are in a measure inconsistent with each other."

"I believe in party government," he said, "but so long as I am a member of the party, I propose to have a voice in it and not be controlled by party bosses or leaders."

INDICT 19 MEN IN
RUM SMUGGLING

BOSTON, July 9.—The report of the federal grand jury yesterday contained 19 indictments against which violations of the federal narcotic laws and the transportation of smuggled liquors.

There were six indictments dealing with the illegal landing on the Massachusetts coast of foreign booze. Special Treasury Agents Owen P. McKenna and William A. Harvey investigated these cases, following the delinquency of suspects by local police at various points. The efforts of the sleuths resulted in true bills being returned against 19 men.

The most important of the customs cases was an indictment returned secretly, the defendants being arraigned later in the day. The principals are John Magnus, George Hadden and Louis Cofalo of this city and John Harnish and Arthur R. Abbott of Methuen. About $2500 worth of alcohol was involved in the seizure at Beverly, June 13.

Abbott, who, with the others, pleaded not guilty before Judge George F. Morris, had earlier in the day been arrested by Treasury Agent McKenna. It is alleged he and several others were picked up on the Lynn parkway while conveying smuggled liquors in two expensive cars. A third car got away. Albert H. Harrison of Dedham, Charles Forner of 1148 Commonwealth avenue and George L. Lowell of 10 Norris street, Lawrence, were arrested with Abbott.

Abbott was held in $2500 on the indictment and $3000 on the commissioner's complaint, sworn to by Agent McKenna.

WM. H. MOORE LEAVES POLICE SEEK SON OF
MURDERED MAN

NEW YORK, July 8.—William H. Moore, corporation lawyer and financier, who died Jan. 11, 1923, left an estate valued at $28,500,000, according to an appraisal filed yesterday with the New York state tax commission.

Mr. Moore, one of America's best-known horse show judges, organized at various times the Diamond Match Company, National Biscuit Company, American Tin Plate Company, National Steel Company, American Sheet Steel Company and the American Steel Hoop Company. He was attorney for such corporations as the Adams and American Express Companies.

His estate, virtually all in securities, will be divided among his widow, Mrs. Ada Small Moore of 4 East 54th street, and two sons, Edward Small Moore of Roslyn, L. I., and Paul Moore of Convent, N. J. Mr. Moore left a will of less than 200 words.

LYNN, July 8.—Fresh complications entered into the investigation of Lynn's murder mystery when the police in their search for the slayers of LeRoy D. Shanks turned their attention from Charles Placeau, for 10 years a boarder at the Shanks household, who was arrested Monday on suspicion, to the murdered man's son, Francis Shanks, and his claim, Norman Peterson, both of whom disappeared Monday morning shortly after the mutilated body of Shanks had been discovered on the Boston & Maine railroad embankment.

The couple, who is 39 years of age, of 208 Summer street, was brought before the district court yesterday, charged with murder, and was held for the grand jury until July 15, without bail. Attorney William Flske appeared for the defendant and Asst. Dist. Atty. Edward Flynn prosecuted.

The Lynn police, however, believe that it will be impossible to solve the mystery until the two runaway boys have been discovered. A thorough search has begun, and it is expected that interesting developments will follow their discovery.

Shanks, who was employed as a stationary fireman, was beaten to death on his way to work early Monday morning and robbed of nearly $25. It is here that the testimony of young Shanks and his friend Peterson might throw much light on the murder, for the two boys are believed to have been sleeping in an auto in the rear of the Shanks' home. As the elder Shanks would have passed by the machine on his way to work, the police think that the boys could have seen whether or not he was alone.

Never Away So Long Before

Mrs. Shanks declared to the police yesterday that she first saw the boys at 6:10 on the morning of the murder, when she sent her son to the store to buy a bag of wood. On his return the boy went away with Peterson before word had been received of the murder, intimating that he was going to look for work. She then the two boys have not been heard from.

As this is the first time in the lives of the 17-year-old boys that either has been away from home for more than a day, it makes their disappearance more mysterious.

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Peterson of 40 Warren street, parents of one of the missing boys, at first believed that their son had gone fishing for the day, but now they are unable to account for his prolonged absence. Mrs. Bessie Shanks, who thought at first that her son had left in search of work, cannot understand why he remains away from home when he has surely learned of the murder of his father.

Not Known to Have Money

In connection with the absence of the boys, the police believe it of importance that the two had frequently driven the car in which they were sleeping Monday morning. Young Shanks had already had his operator's license revoked, without his father's knowledge, and as a result of subsequent violation of the law, it is said that Shanks, in whose name the car was registered, was about to receive a summons ordering him to appear at Commonwealth pier, Boston, on Saturday.

At the time of his disappearance, young Shanks was wearing khaki trousers, a short brown coat, a gray cap and brown oxfords. He is 17 years old and weighs about 150 pounds.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The management of this ever-more-popular playhouse presents for the new bill the latter part of this week what it believes will be the most popular program of the season. The features are Tom Mix in "Eyes of the Forest," and Viola Dana in "In Search of a Thrill." There will also be a comedy, "Fool Proof," and the regular weekly news.

Tom Mix faces more perils than the well known Pauline herself in "Eyes of the Forest." How close he came to being blown to the place where all good movieactors go, may be realized from the fact that about 200 pebbles were extracted from his back as the result of a premature explosion of dynamite in one scene in which a road-way was blasted. But Tom rode through on Tony, and finished the scene despite his wounds. At another time in the picture, Mix, riding to escape a vicious band of lumber thieves, leaps from Tony to an airplane. He clutches the axle between the landing wheels of the plane, which dives to within ten feet of the ground and is lifted thousands of feet into the air and safety. There are other stunts performed by the intrepid Tom which are well worth seeing in daring anything he has attempted heretofore.

He was indifferent to "her." The society girl had not seen her ideal for several years. Now that she had become a glorious butterfly of the night life of Paris, he scorned her. Love had gone. The girl, however, was not to be turned aside so easily. She donned the rags of the slums and in the dark of night time she approached his house. Carefully she raised the window sash, stealthily she climbed into the room—the lights were turned on. She saw—a dramatic moment in Viola Dana's Metro picture, "In Search of a Thrill."

A pleasant, comfortable evening in the Merimack Square's pleasant, comfortable theatre—what could be more inviting this warm weather?

Rialto Theatre

Charles (Buck) Jones, favorite Fox star never had a better part in his long and varied screen career, than he has in "Hell's Hole" which opens at the Rialto theatre Thursday. In "Hell's Hole," Jones has an ideal vehicle for his dare-devilish disregard of safety, adding to his long list of carefree characterizations and his dynamic love making. From the moment the first scene is flashed on the screen to the final fade-out, Jones speeds up the action. The players supporting the star are well known, headed by Ruth Clifford and Maurice B. Flynn as the heavy.

The companion feature is "Loyal Lives," a heart interest story of the U. S. Mail service. It is replete with thrilling situations and incidents that will tug at your heart strings.

An "Our Gang" comedy and the latest issue of Fox news conclude the program.

Telephone Toll Messages Now
Free From Federal Tax

THE federal taxes laid on telephone toll messages by the Revenue Act of 1921 have been removed by the Revenue Act of 1924, which was enacted on June 2, and became effective as regards these taxes on July 2. Under the act of 1921, the taxes imposed on telephone messages were as follows:

On a telephone message for which the charge was more than fourteen cents and not more than fifty cents a tax of 5 cents

On a telephone message for which the charge was more than fifty cents, a tax of 10 cents

These taxes were highest in proportion to the charge for service for toll messages over moderate distances, the tax in some cases amounting to one-third of the toll charge.

We have anticipated the increased use of toll facilities that will follow the removal of these taxes and have taken the necessary steps to prepare for it.

IDEAL SUMMER WRAP

The ideal summer wrap affords slight protection and much charm, thus the shawl fills the bill perfectly. ## FOOD IS BUT FUEL

One thing that stunned Mr. Mann when he was considering dietary problems was why food cannot be measured in weight or bulk.

The mistake of thus measuring food is a common one.

Food is measured in fuel units, better known as calories.

And many foods have their calorie values so well concentrated that by taking a small portion the same effect can be procured as when a large amount of some other bulky food is eaten.

An example of this is olive oil, which is a concentrated food where 300 calories per ounce, or thereabouts, may be found. Ordinary vegetables are bulky and several pounds would have to be eaten to get the same calorie result.

These are matters that the average person does not stop to consider when sitting down to eat. The spoonful of olive oil, or the little pitcher of cream he takes may be giving him a caloric value equal or greater to all the rest of the food he is eating.

A few instances of this may be found by noting the following food articles, each of which contain 100 calories: one large egg, one large baked potato, one lamb chop, a dish of sweet corn, an ordinary helping of baked beans, two squares of cube sugar, a handful of peanuts, a square of butter, a glass of milk or a quarter of a glass of cream and a large orange.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. William Campbell, formerly of Lowell, and Mrs. Annie Dineen of Enfield, Conn., were married on June 30 at a nuptial mass in St. Patrick's church, Enfield. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Daniel J. O'Connor, pastor. The bride was attended by her niece, Miss Anna Schmitt, and the best man was Mr. Charles Riley, nephew of the bridegroom. The bride wore a gown of satin with hat to match and the bridegroom's gown was of peach crepe de chine, and she wore a picture hat of black.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to intimate friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left on an extended wedding trip and on their return will live in Enfield.

A group of bust portraits of Lucetta Mott, Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton were placed in the crypt of the national capital.

98 OUT OF EVERY 100 WOMEN BENEFITED

Remarkable Results Shown by a Nation Wide Canvass of Women Purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 50,000 Women Answer

For some time a circular has been enclosed with each bottle of our medicine bearing this question: "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

Replies, to date, have been received from over 50,000 women answering that question.

98 per cent of which say YES. That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take the medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This is a most remarkable record of efficiency. We doubt if any other medicine in the world equals it.

Think of it—only two women out of 100 received no benefit—98 successes out of a possible 100.

Did you ever hear anything like it? We must admit that we, ourselves, are astonished.

Such evidence should induce every woman suffering from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see if she can't be one of the 98. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

LINESMEN SAVED FROM DEATH BY BELTS

MANSFIELD, July 8.—James McDonald and Kenneth Chisholm of Boston were saved from death yesterday afternoon by life belts which they had around them and strapped to a telegraph pole near the local railroad station, when a freight car on an extra freight train left the rails and broke off the high pole on which the men were working.

A Western Union emergency gang from Boston, in charge of J. Lashor, had been working on wires in this town that were torn down during a heavy storm last winter. The two men were on a high pole, stringing wires, when the freight car struck the pole and broke it off about five feet from the ground. The pole, then carrying about 100 wires and the two men, held on by life belts, was left dangling in the air. The men were rescued by fellow workers.

Six lines of the local Western Union office were put out of commission by the accident and many of the railroad wires have been broken. Railroad traffic was held up for a short while by the inability of the tower men in the local tower to work the signals.

A wrecking crew arrived late in the afternoon and removed the wrecked car.

TWO FIVE-YEAR-OLD CHILDREN KILLED

BOSTON, July 8.—Automobiles last night claimed the lives of 5-year-old Edwin V. Jenkins of 245 Summer st., Somerville, and Frederick Reid, 5 years old, of 66 Pearl st., Woburn. Both children were in the street near their homes when struck and died soon after their arrival in hospitals.

Was Crossing Street

The Jenkins girl was hit by an automobile operated by Frank Lapoint of 3 Linden avenue, Somerville. The accident occurred on Summer street between Linden avenue and Cedar st. A few minutes after her arrival at the Somerville hospital, she died from the injuries sustained.

Frederick Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Reid, was run over by a machine operated by Mrs. Grace Maccurda of State road, Burlington. The youth was crossing Pearl street near his home when the accident happened. Soon after the boy died at St. Charles Memorial hospital. Mrs. Maccurda was arrested on a technical charge of manslaughter and was later released in bonds of $1000.

IN NEW YORK

By Stephen Hannagan

NEW YORK, July 8.—There's a little spot of the old world in one of the main lobby rooms of an exclusive hotel on lower Madison avenue—down where the town begins.

Swarming into it each night you will find numerous Americans who have lived in Europe and who long for the free and easy existence of the continent.

They trade adventures—experiences they recall as happier days.

On the walls are sketches done by foreign artists, principally in Paris, the French capital being the favorite of those who gather in this quiet little room with its marble-topped tables and chateau atmosphere.

There is no cover charge, and checker and chess boards, cards and paraphernalia for many other games are furnished free of charge by the management.

One may spend a whole—and to them—riotous evening for an expenditure of 25 cents for a glass of lemonade or a pot of coffee.

Directly across the hall, in the main dining room, 25 cents would be scooped at as a waiter's tip—it is a spot of the new world, where prices are prices and the most drawn-out conversation is created with a $100 bill.

It is just a few steps from the old to the new world in this hostelry—but the leap costs as much as an ocean voyage.

And New Yorkers have no desire for the old world, as it is partitioned off here.

Bathing suits displayed in most exclusive stores look like fashionable prison garbs. All stripes. And what colors!

CARRIES WOULD-BE AUTO THIEF TO POLICE STATION

BOSTON, July 8.—Plowing through a dense crowd of almost 5000 persons, William T. McNally of 33 Dalton street, Back Bay, gave chase last evening in Central square, Cambridge, to a young man who was making off with the McNally automobile.

Reaching the automobile just as the young man was about to speed away, McNally reached over the side of the car, pulled the emergency brake, thereby stalling the machine, then picked the driver up bodily and carried him into Police Station 2.

There the young man gave the name of John Farrell, 17, of 363 Allington street, Cambridge. He was arrested on a charge of misappropriation of an automobile.

The big crowd, composed largely of Elks visiting the home of Cambridge lodge, cheered wildly as McNally, himself an Elk, made the capture.

McNally had parked his car at the River street curbing and was in the center of a jovial crowd when he glanced towards the curb and saw it gliding away from the curb. McNally charged through the crowd like a football player and made his spectacular "tackle" right in front of the door of Police Station 2.

CITY TWO GAME ON COMMON TONIGHT

Tonight's game in the City Twilight League on the South common will be between Marle's Americans and the Butlers. With the Pawtucket and Belvidere tied for first place a great fight is on among the other four teams for runner up position. The Americans who won the City League pennant last year are out to repeat their success. They realize they have a stiff task ahead of them, but they are confident and determined to reach the goal. The game will start at 8:30 o'clock, with Umpires Allen and Curtin in charge.

Government Barges on Mississippi Are Solving Shippers' Problems

By GEORGE BRITT

N.E.A. Service Writer

St. LOUIS, July 8.—"There ain't no such animal" was the attitude of the Mark Twain school of old-time Mississippi river pilots when they first saw the smallish, ugly, oil-burning, tunnel-type, screw-propelled power boats of the federal barge line.

And the ghostly timbers of the Robert E. Lee and the Natchez probably shiver to this day in their muddy graves when the newcomers puff up and down their river.

But romance is not so apparent as when planters from broad verandas used to watch slim, white packet boats come racing toward the bend.

"What is being done now on the Mississippi river," says Theodore Brent, manager of the barge line, "is as romantic as railroading—and no more so."

"Its facilities are as practical as those of the best organized railroad. It's making the fastest applying the best in railroad practice to transportation by water."

Giant Cranes Replace Stevedores

The picturesque crews of stevedores and deckhands which used to put color and song into the landings along the river have been crowded out, too, in their places are giant concrete wharf barges or permanent docks, equipped with cranes and tracks, for quick, mechanical loading and unloading.

In exchange for the traditional picturesque, the federal barge line gives efficient, businesslike common carrier service. It has converted the river from a mere drainage ditch to a highway.

Even old "Steamboat Bill" and his mates warmed up to the newcomers when they saw them get behind a fleet of steel barges, and walk off with them, 7000 tons upstream or 15,000 tons downstream.

The federal barge line was conceived as a war measure and started in September, 1918, with a makeshift fleet. Now it is operating about 10 towboats, two self-propelling barges and more than 50 cargo barges, most of them of 2000 tons and some of 3000 tons capacity.

It maintains a year-round schedule between New Orleans and Cairo, and between St. Louis and Cairo, except during the frozen-up months.

Co-operation with hostile railroads has been effected to obtain a connecting, feeder service. Boats leaving St. Louis on Friday evenings reach New Orleans, 1154 miles by water, on the following Wednesday night. Despatching is by radio, each towboat reporting its position every three hours.

Big Saving to Shipper

Last year the barge line carried 327,511 tons of freight southbound, and 257,504 tons northbound. The charge is approximately 50 per cent of railroad rates. Saving to shipper is estimated at an average of $1.35 a ton.

Three principles have guided the promoters of the barge line: That rail and highway facilities are insufficient to meet transportation needs.

That water-borne commerce is cheaper, as dependable and more desirable for certain commodities.

That as the whole people pay taxes for the waterways, all are entitled to the cheaper transportation whether they live on the riverbank or inland.

There was an experiment on the start, according to Col. T. Q. Ashburn, chief of the inland and coastwise waterways service. But it has proven that millions spent to make the lower Mississippi navigable were not wasted.

Cargoes Are Diversified

Just how diversified are the cargoes is illustrated by a single tow that went down the river from Cairo last spring.

It carried corn for Europe, agricultural implements for Africa, tractors, matches and canned goods for Mexico, granite ore for Norway, roofing for South America, railroad equipment for the Far East, and fruit wrappers, singles, baking powder and musical instruments for California, via the Panama Canal.

Upliver tows include newspaper paper from Norway, cotton from Brazil, and hurler bagging from India.

Extension of the service to Chicago and the Great Lakes is a probability as soon as a short section of the Illinois river is improved to provide a dependable channel.

Barges are operating now from the Warrior river in the Alabama coal district down to Mobile and across to New Orleans, but that stretch has not been so successful as on the lower Mississippi.

LA FOLLETTE'S CREW

There is no question now where La Follette and his merry crew of radical supporters of many different colors stand today. Various queerly-labeled organizations, comprised of extraordinary human membership odds and ends, are flocking to the La Follette standards. Now comes the latest, but not the least, of these organizations comprised of ambitious men and women, who still yearn to settle all the ills of humanity—the socialist party—newly-named, reorganized and eagerly confident of a “come-back” under the emblem of the Wisconsin irrepressible visionary.

We find socialists, old and new, today wearing the La Follette badges as predicted. Eugene V. Debs “joins up” from a sanitarium in Illinois; the irrepressible, congressman also from Wisconsin; old, familiar Morris Hillquit of New York; the quaint Mayor Daniel Hoan of Milwaukee; the studious Alfred Baker Lewis of Philadelphia, and the active Cameron King of San Francisco. These are but a few of the latest to acclaim La Follette badges and hurriedly enlist in the new political organization to be formed, if possible, as a result of the present “conference for political action” at Cleveland.

The Debs report and proffer of assistance was in line with past history, so far as Debs’ doctrine that never change are concerned. In his cheery letter to the progressive-socialist-independents La Follette, he declares that “the red flag must be kept flying,” for the socialist party is still the party of the working classes, and “faces the future with absolute confidence and without fear.”

The Debs doctrines were tried out some years ago in a small but somewhat explosive way, in circumstances slightly more favorable than those apparent today. And they failed, just as miserably as the extreme radical doctrines now being “approved” by an ill-assorted group of hysterical men and women at Cleveland will fail utterly.

Labor in the South

Southern textile workers are today looking with more favor upon textile union organizations than was the case last year and the years before. The United Textile Workers’ organization has been working diligently in several southern states, seeking to increase its membership there. Last year, the prospects were regarded as excellent that the “U. T. W.” might greatly enlarge its organization in the Carolinas and possibly farther south, but reports at hand this summer lend another color.

From Charlotte, N. C., come dispatches reporting that many present members of the United Textile Workers’ organization in the south are about to break away and form a new southern labor body. The reports are current in labor circles, both north and south. It is said that the textile labor group that has many locals here in New England, has been utterly unable to entrench itself in the Carolinas as planned. Not only has it not succeeded in building up existing locals and organizing new ones, but the real advance of the organization has been negligible.

While some southern mills have not sought to keep employees from joining any union, or discriminating against union members, there has been no recognition of any union organizations in any southern cotton textile mill, it is said, and rarely any collective bargaining. At the same time, many southern mill owners have stated that they would “welcome a southern organization of employees, but not the northern organization bearing the appellation of the United Textile Workers of America.”

POPULATING CANADA

For every 100 women in Canada there are 106 men. So Canada solves the problem of importing women from England, as was done 300 years ago by the American colonies. And the plan suits England—yes, indeed—for statisticians estimate that the British Isles today has a surplus of more than 2,000,000 females.

We read with interest not denied that parties of women and girls are formed in England, brought to Canada under reliable escort, and offered positions in whatsoever line of work they may choose. As each ship lands its feminine passengers, scores of housewives are on hand to hire servants; farmers offer them positions in the rural districts many miles away, even to the far-reaching Canadian northwest.

So far as the marriage question is concerned, the women of England have proved well able to take care of that detail. Records show that most of the girls coming to Canada by the shipping routes from “The Old Country” are married within a year and settle down on homesteads of their own.

THE BALLOT SHIRKERS

Of course the ballot is the foundation of democratic government. Here in America, citizens by their ballots have virtually unlimited power to make any change they want and bring about any reform or condition they desire—simply by using their ballots intelligently. Now, if Americans were paid $5 apiece for voting, how many would stay away from the polls?

Failure to vote may cost a citizen a good many times $5—in the form of inefficient government, high taxes and waste of public funds. If you stay away from the polls this fall, you signify indifference as to what kind of government you live under and what is done with this America of which you are a part owner.

DIVORCES INCREASE

In 1923, one American marriage in every 17 wound up in divorce. Now the figure is one in every seven. Six marriages are successful to every marriage that ends in a divorce decree. Broadly speaking, of course, for not all of the six marriages are happy unions.

Marriage is the most important decision ever made by the average person. It is more of a gamble for women than for men. It should never be rushed into on sudden impulse. Love is apt to sweep people off their feet. Calm deliberation pays.

THE CANCER TOLLS

Cancer is increasing its death toll faster than any other of the dread diseases. This year 110,000 Americans will die of cancer, compared with 75,000 in 1914.

Turnell in the medical profession indicates that cancer will be the next major disease to be conquered. Radium, X-ray, surgery and preventive measures already are working wonders. Definite isolation of the cancer germ and development of a curative serum apparently is just a matter of a few years. Several physicians already think they are close to this goal.

TODAY'S LIVING COSTS

The cost of living is 21 per cent lower than it was at its peak in July, 1920. But it is still over 61 per cent higher than when the war started in 1914. So reports national industrial conference board. Its figures are for a family of five, averaging the whole country.

Many will disagree. Most of us think it costs twice as much to live as it used to, or more. But this is undeniable: Cost of living is gradually going down. The dollar saved now will have a bigger buying power later.

THE MEAT EATERS

Last year the American people ate more meat than ever before. The average during 1923 was nearly 170 pounds for every man, woman and child, or almost half a pound a day. A European, accustomed to being able to afford meat only once or twice a week, will consider this proof-positive of great national prosperity.

As far as the health is concerned, meat should be eaten sparingly in hot weather. That is when it does its damage.

INSURANCE POPULAR

All past records are being broken in the amount of life insurance taken out by the American people. So far this year over a fifth more life insurance has been written than in 1923, when a new record was hung up. If the rate continues, the 1924 total of new policies will be 11 billion dollars.

There was a time when this would have indicated 11 billion dollars of fear. Now it represents 11 billions of sensible investment—the surest and easiest way to save.

BUILDING

One industry that has not slipped is building. For May the 137 leading cities report new building permits 10 per cent more than in May, 1923. Possibly increased prices represent the 10 per cent gain, but the actual physical volume of building is about the same as a year ago, and that means it could not be much more.

The nation is spending three and a half billion dollars a year for new buildings, including homes. This pace, continued, will eventually lower rents.

SOFT COAL OUTPUT

Soft coal mines have been turning out an average of only 7 million tons a week. Normal output is 10 millions. This indicates that general business is only seven-tenths normal. Some economists believe soft coal production is the most accurate barometer of industrial conditions. Others are pig iron output, railroad freight traffic and commercial fires. Watch these four and know which way the wind is blowing.

THE PEOPLE PAY

Groans from railroads because they paid national and state taxes of over $900,000 a day in 1923, or three times as much as before the war. The railroads do not really pay this. The public pays. Railroads are simply collectors for Uncle Sam and the states. This is the fly in the ointment, to critics who delight to have the roads heavily taxed.

Lowell's safe and sane Fourth could not have been improved much, and the fire department did little heavy overtime work for the first time in years, for which Lowell citizens and taxpayers are all duly thankful, as well as the firemen of the line who feel the same way about it.

The strength of the Massachusetts branch of the American Federation of Labor, representing approximately 350,000 organized workers, will be exerted in behalf of the federal child labor amendment, as was to be expected.

Rhode Island has reached the commendable conclusion that she needs some of her absent senators. It is about time.

The Bryan brothers made any kind of an impression at the democratic convention that you want to call it.

No hurry: "It says in the paper here," began Mrs. Johnson in the midst of her reading, "that an airplane traveling at the rate of 200 miles an hour would take 56 years to go from the earth to the sun."

"What's that?" returned Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, aroused from a doze.

"You wasn't listening, torment!" It would take an airplane going at 200 miles an hour 56 years to reach the sun.

"What's the difference? You ain't aiming to go there, are you?"—Kansas City Star.

Drive Out: Mrs. Nurox, riding in her new gold-paneled coupe with Mrs. Highdown, had occasion to refer to her chauffeur as "Clarence."

"How odd," commented Mrs. Highdown, "to call one's chauffeur by his first name."

Mrs. Nurox was quick to correct the error.

"Clarence," she called.

He stopped the car and looked around.

"I am not accustomed to call my chauffeurs by their first names, Clarence. What is your surname?"

"Darling, madam."

"Drive on, Clarence,"—Judge.

So Unchivalrous: When Ethel went round to visit her chum she found her utterly miserable.

"Whatever is the matter, Lily?" she asked.

"The broken off my engagement with Jack."

"Never mind, Lily," said Ethel comfortingly, "he is certain to come round and patch it up with you before long."

"I don't think so," replied Lily.

"You see, I wrote and told him never to see me or write to me again. And," she added, vehemently, "he hasn't even been nice enough to answer my letter."

"A lady at a seashore hotel was made very jealous by the attentions that her husband was lavishing on a young school teacher. So she said to the school teacher one morning:

"Was it you my husband was talking with so confidentially on the piazza last night?"

"Why—er—yes," said the school teacher, a good deal embarrassed.

"O, then, it's all right, of course," said the lady in a relieved voice. "I thought it was some pretty young girl, and I was inclined to be jealous, but, of course, it's all right since it was only you!"—Brooklyn Eagle.

July: When the scarlet cardinal tells Her dreams to the dragon fly, And the lazy breeze makes a nest in the trees, And murmurs a lullaby, It is July.

When the heat like a mist veil floats, And popples flame in the eye, And the silver note in the streamer's throat Has softened almost to a sigh, It is July.

When the hours are so still that time Forgets them and lets them lie, Methinks pink till the night stars wink, At the sunset in the sky, It is July.

PREMIERS IN SESSION

MacDonald and Herriot Resume Their Conversations at Paris

PARIS, July 9 (by the Associated Press).—The premiers of France and Great Britain resumed their conversations this morning at 10 o'clock in the foreign office, though looking very fatigued from their long night session at the British embassy which did not end until after midnight.

The absence of any indication whatever as to how the negotiations are going after the two long talks yesterday gave rise to a pessimistic impression in unofficial circles. The opposition to Premier Herriot's view this morning on the assertion that if everything were going well, the premier would be eager to let it become known.

The conversations are centering, it is understood, on the British premier's proposal to discontinue the reparations commission of its right to decide if and when Germany is in default on the Dawes reparation plan. Several propositions have been discussed, one which while leaving the reparations commission to say when Germany was in default, would set up another organization to decide whether that default was voluntary.

Another suggestion is that the international council of ambassadors—with an American member having full rights with the others, and the council perhaps enlarged to take in some of the neutral states—supersede the reparations commission in supervising execution of the Dawes plan.

Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Herriot both are understood to be eager to arrange the supervision so the United States shall have a share in it on equal footing with the allies. It is even said in British circles that Mr. MacDonald would be pleased if a settlement could be made the election of an American to the presidency of the reparations commission with the same preponderant rights as are now accorded to the French president.

400 MEMBERS OF BAR ASSOCIATION SAIL

NEW YORK, July 9.—More than 400 members of the American Bar Association with their families, will sail today for London on the Cunard liner Aquitania to attend the international convention of lawyers in the Middle Temple, July 21.

The Americans will present to the English bar a statue of Sir William Blackstone. The presentation will be made by former Attorney General G. F. Wickersham.

The main group of the bar association will sail Saturday on the Boregaria.

Members of General Council: PHILADELPHIA, July 9.—Members of the general council of the American Bar association for 1924-1925, were chosen at last night's session of the convention. They represent every state and territory in the union and China, and include: "Massachusetts, John E. Hannigan, Boston; New Hampshire, James W. Remick, Concord; Vermont, George B. Young, Montpelier; New York, Frederick Evans Crane.

A cablegram from Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general of the League of Nations, inviting the members of the American Bar association to visit Geneva, after their visits to London and Paris, was read at the meeting.

WOMAN PLUNGED TEN STORIES TO DEATH

KANSAS CITY, July 9.—Belief that Miss Blanche Pearce, 21, of Madison, Kan., whose body was found at the bottom of a freight elevator shaft in a downtown apartment hotel here yesterday, met death accidentally, was expressed today by police officials.

Miss Pearce plunged 10 stories down the shaft after leaving a party in the rooms of William Skiff and Peter Scott, members of the Kansas City American association baseball team. Detectives said indications were that Miss Pearce opened the elevator door, thinking it was the door to the rear steps. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

Meanwhile, Skiff and Scott stand indefinitely suspended from the baseball club.

INDEPENDENT PARTY

Candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presidency Will Be Nominated

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 9.—Candidates for the presidency and vice presidency will be nominated by the national independent party, a political organization said to be the outgrowth of the committee of 48, which meets today. A referendum vote was used in choosing the nominee and the ballots were to be counted today. The successful candidate will be announced at a banquet this evening.

Those who have been picked in nomination for the presidency are N. Neilson, Fort Worth, Tex.; James C. Fuller, Kansas City, Mo.; R. L. Baldwin, Roberts, Mont.; J. H. Hopkins, New York city, and John Zahnd, Indianapolis.

The independent party will not endorse the candidacy of Robert M. La Follette for the presidency, it was said last night.

SOCIALISTS CONDEMN KU KLUX KLAN BY NAME

CLEVELAND, July 9 (by the Associated Press).—A resolution condemning the Ku Klux Klan by name was adopted by the socialist national convention late yesterday, after it had been referred back because it was connected with the economic condition of the negro.

A substitute was offered along the same lines, but omitting specific mention of the Klan, the explanation being made that the party was concerned only with economic and not religious issues. A bitter fight broke out over the merits of these two resolutions.

The resolution brought in read: "We emphatically condemn the Ku Klux Klan and every other effort to deny the workers on racial or religious lines and to affect political purposes by secret or terroristic methods."

The substitute was defeated, 19 to 56, and the resolution was then passed, 56 to 15. This represented less than half the full registration, as many of the delegates had departed for their homes.

An intensive advertising and publicity campaign for 1924 was provided by the committee on organization and finance report. Funds would be raised by popular subscriptions supplemented by "large social affairs and other enterprises." An advertising expert and a publicity manager will prepare the material.

Local organizations were urged to form La Follette clubs and other symbols of the organization.

New Allen or non-union members will hereafter be required to apply for citizenship or union cards within three months after joining the party.

Eugene V. Debs was elected national chairman of the socialist party of America, a new office required under the federal election laws.

Morris Hillquit, New York; James Maurer, Pennsylvania; Victor Berger, Wisconsin; George B. Rowser, Jr., Massachusetts; John Collins, Illinois; J. P. Swarkin, New Jersey; Joseph Shultz, Ohio.

The convention adjourned sine die at 6:40 p. m.

TIRE TUBE FATAL FOR TWO BOSTON GIRLS

BOSTON, July 9.—The bursting of an inflated inner-tube of an automobile tire, to which three young girls, bathers, were clinging as they floated out into the Charles river near the Larz Anderson bridge, yesterday afternoon, resulted in two of the girls being drowned. The third was revived after being rescued in an unconscious condition.

The victims of the double drowning were Nellie Verani, 12, of 787 Somerville avenue, Somerville, and Alice Tosi, 13, of 29 Elm street, Somerville.

The two girls, together with Helen Atkins, 14, of 735 Somerville avenue, Somerville, went into the water from the Cambridge side of the river. Feeling secure with the inflated tire to support them, the trio paddled out beyond their depth.

Only Two in Sight: Then the tire burst. One of the victims must have sunk immediately, for when the cries of the other two were heard from the shores on both sides, only two were in sight. Several swimmers, among them Gus Arioli, 21, of 7 Miller street, Somerville, who was on the other side of the river, started toward the girls. Arioli seized the Atkins girl, the only one above water when he reached the spot, and another swimmer, whose name was given to the police, dived several times and finally brought up the body of the Verani girl. No further search was made at that time, as the rescuers knew nothing of a third girl having been in the party.

Sergeant Curtin and Officers Edward Murphy and McLaughlin, under direction of Dr. C. Martin Hutchinson of Garden street, worked over the Verani girl for 20 minutes. Then the girl was taken to the Cambridge city hospital, where doctors strove to resuscitate her, but in vain.

Meantime efforts to revive the Atkins girl proved successful and she was taken in a second ambulance to the same hospital.

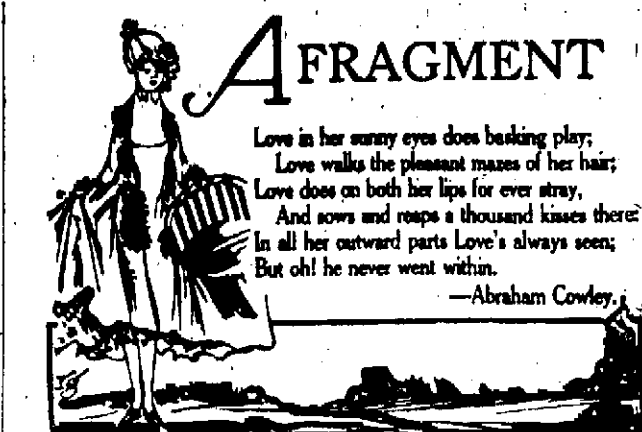

TAKES NOMINATION PAPERS: Louis W. Richard, 493 Wilbur street, will be a candidate for county commissioner this fall. He has taken out nomination papers and commenced their circulation. Two places on the board of county commissioners are to be balloted upon this year and the present incumbents are candidates for reelection. Mr. Richard has been an unsuccessful candidate for city councilor and for registrar of deeds.

The GREAT AMERICAN BOY

His hair is all frazzled and won't stay in place. A brush is a stranger to him. There's "full of the dickens" all over his face and he bubbles with vigor and vim.

His shoe strings are flopping all over the ground; there's a large stocking hole at his knee. My guess is that he's the inventor of sound; he's as noisy as a noisy can be.

There's maybe one button left on his waist; his trousers are ripped at the seat. If's cup cakes and pie that appeal to his taste or a big dish of cream is a treat.

He's nibbled his finger nails down to the quick and he's tan till he couldn't be tanner. He never has known what it is to be sick, 'cause he just isn't built in that manner.

Now who do you think I am spouting about? Who lives on just laughter and joy? The answer is plain and there isn't a doubt, he's the average American boy.

New Head of Elks Urges
American Youths

BOSTON, July 8.—The education and training of prospective American citizens deserves the earnest support of the Benevolent & Protective Order of Elks, John G. Price of Columbus, Ohio, newly elected grand exalted ruler, said in his address of acceptance today.

"The peoples of foreign countries who have come to our shores to share the protecting influences of our unparalleled form of government offer us an exceptional opportunity," he said. "We should never lose the opportunity to enrich the government by uplifting, educating and training of those who are yearning to become citizens of our beloved country."

Consideration of reports occupied the second executive session of the grand lodge of the order, which is holding its 80th annual convention here. Today's entertainment program has included an interesting program by uplifting, educating and training of those who are yearning to become citizens of our beloved country.

$2500 IN PURSES FOR
FALL FAIR RACES

Twenty-five hundred dollars was the sum allotted towards the three days' racing which is to be held in connection with the fall fair of the Lowell Driving club on September 11, 12 and 13. Eight purse races for classes ranging from 2.12 to 2.40 have been arranged so that every horse in this section may have an opportunity of entering into competition with those of other sections without any undue handicap. This matter was arranged at the regular meeting of the Lowell Driving club last night and in addition committees were appointed to arrange a premium list for submission to the club next Tuesday night, and to arrange for tents for the cattle exhibits. Hon. Arthur W. Colburn and Secretary Frank E. MacLean are on the former committee and Stephen Pelton on the latter. The president and secretary of the Groton Fair association were present to confer with the local racing committee in regard to having uniform classes at the coming fall of the associations in this section.

HUNTER OUT OF TENNIS
CHAMPIONSHIPS

PARIS, July 8.—(By the Associated Press.) Francis T. Hunter, fifth ranking American, will be unable to play in the Olympic tennis championships owing to the slight fracture of a bone in his hand, suffered in a fall during the final doubles match at Wimbledon, according to indications today. The hand is not infected but is badly swollen.

The draw for the Olympic play, which starts next Sunday, shows that Miss Helen Wills, the American champion, has a difficult task before her in the women's singles. She plays Miss Van Bessel of Holland in the first round; Mrs. Satterthwaite, British star, in the second; and Mrs. Molla Mallory, former American champion, in the third. Mrs. Mallory represents Norway, her native land, in the Olympic tournament. Mr. Norris Williams, II, and Henri Cochet, France, dominate the first quarter in the men's singles; Jean Borotra, Wimbledon champion, the second quarter; Jean Washer, Belgium, the third and Invent Richards, U.S.A., and Manuel Alonso, Spain, the fourth.

PHILIPPINE SOLDIERS TO BE DISCHARGED

MANILA, July 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—About 100 men of the 34th and 35th ambulance companies of the 12th medical regiment of the Philippine Scouts, will be discharged for refusing to perform their duties in addition to the 30 men of the 12th regiment who are to be discharged for insubordination and refusal to drill. The men struck for an equality of pay with white soldiers. A board of nine officers is investigating individual cases in both regiments. A number of men of the 57th regiment were discharged today without honor. The dismissal of the men of the 12th regiment begins tomorrow.

The eight ring leaders of the movement will be charged with mutiny and tried by court martial.

Approximately 600 men of the 57th regiment refused to perform their duties Monday but when the situation was explained to them all but ninety recanted.

The military authorities are making a thorough investigation of all scout regiments with a view to weeding out malcontents.

MAYOR CURLEY
DENOUNCES KLAN

BOSTON, July 8.—"The Ku Klux Klan are vermin who by education should be shaken out of the folds of the American flag," declared Mayor Curley yesterday morning in a short address at the dedication of a memorial tablet to the establishment of the "first free school in Boston," which tablet was unveiled on the north wall of the Suffolk Savings Bank building, corner Pemberton square and Tremont street.

Thomas F. Haley presided. In addition to members of the municipal commission for marking historical sites, and other city officials, Dist. Atty. Thomas C. O'Brien attended.

The mayor urged that 1,500,000 boys and girls "grow slaves in industry in the United States, be emancipated" by a general child labor law. He declared it a sign of "worship of the mighty dollar" that 90 of every 100 boys and girls today have to start life's battle before passing through the eighth grade.

William B. Snow, assistant superintendent of schools, spoke with satisfaction of the high character of the Boston school system. Thomas H. Dowd, Jr., son of Judge Dowd of the commission erecting the tablet, and Paul Curley, son of the mayor, unveiled the tablet, which marks the site of the dwelling of Daniel Maude, believed to have been the first local schoolmaster. It is believed the school was at first in his home.

Allies Deny German Request

nounced today. Satisfaction was expressed, however, that the Germans had agreed to the main point demanded by the council—the resumption of the control commission's activities.

The ambassador's note informed Germany that the cessation of control would depend entirely on the satisfactory result of the commission's work and on German compliance with the five requirements made of her previously regarding disarmament.

The method of disarmament inspection would be determined by the international control commission, the note set forth, and any suggestions the Germans wished to offer would be considered.

Killed at His Work

operated a machine similar to the one in which he met his death for the greater part of his time.

Officials of the Bleachery could give very little information concerning the fatal accident, as no one saw it. From fellow employees in the drying room it was learned, however, that McMahon entered the mill at about 7 o'clock and immediately went to his machine getting it in readiness for work at 7.15 o'clock.

At about 7.10 o'clock fellow employees were drawn to the machine by the smell of burning leather. They found McMahon's machine stopped with the belt still connected and the order caused by friction of the belt on the machine pulley.

Further investigation led to the discovery of McMahon's body in the machinery at the bottom of the dryer. Before the body could be removed the machine had to be broken and when the body was finally extricated the man was dead. The body was moved to the undertaking rooms of O'Connell & Fay in the ambulance and was there viewed by Medical Examiner Marshall L. Alling.

Mr. McMahon was 57 years of age, and is survived by his wife, Annie (Alice) McMahon, three daughters, Nora, Charlotte and Florence; one son, Patrick J. McMahon, Jr.; and three nieces. He was a member of the Foresters of America and the Royal Arcanum.

Outing Day Tomorrow

ing, with retail business practically at a standstill except in smaller shops.

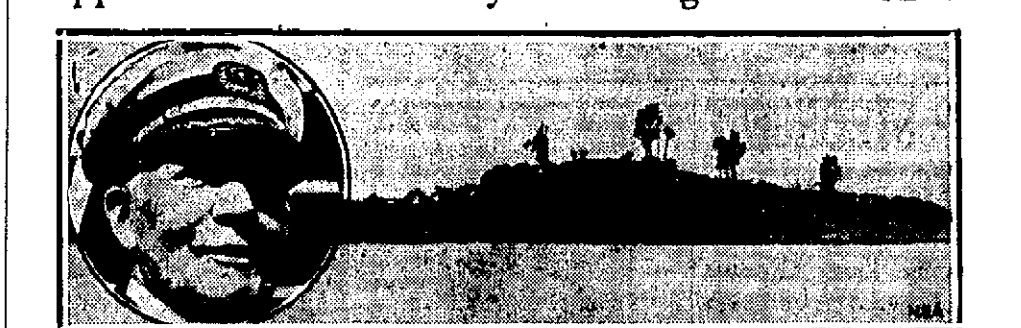

Beach resorts have been selected for the outings in practically every instance, considerable parties being shown Nantasket and Hampton beaches. The largest of the many outings will be the combination trip of the clerks of the A. G. Pollard Co., the Gagnon Co. and the Bon Marche Co., who will leave the Middlesex street depot in the neighborhood of 8 a. m. by special train, bound for Boston and Nantasket. This party will number well over 600 men and women.

In addition to the three above-mentioned stores the following is an unofficial list of the other outings: Cherry & Webb, Fidler's Boston Ladies' Outfitters, Fairbank's Market, the Willis Markets, Adams Hardware Company, the Chalfoux Company, the United Cloak and Suit Store, C. B. Colburn Company, The Belmont Shop, Prince & Son, Inc. The Tailor Clothing Co. will be closed all day, although no outing is planned and several other stores will do likewise.

Skipper Returns With Story of Floating Island Near Borneo

ONE OF THE "FLOATING ISLANDS" CAPTAIN JONAS PENDLEBURY SIGHTED IN THE PALAWAN PASSAGE BETWEEN THE PHILIPPINES AND BORNEO. THE CAPTAIN IS SEEN IN THE INSET.

BY A. H. FREDERICK
N.E.A. Service Writer
SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Land was coming out to meet him.

Captain Jonas Pendlebury, master of the liner President Adams, couldn't figure it out.

He scratched his head and looked at his charts. They only made him wonder all the more. He changed his course and thickened speed.

But still the land, trees and all, kept floating toward him. There were eight little islands there were eight little islands haphazardly swim-death Monday cast a shadow over the White House and brought the keenest sorrow to those who had grown to know him as a friend during the little time he had been at home there, will be taken by the president's family, now broken for the first time, to his boyhood home at Northampton, Mass. There, amid old friends, services will be held tomorrow at the Edwards Congregational church, of which Calvin was a member. Later in the day, he will be laid to rest beside the grave of the president's mother at Plymouth, Vt.

On the journey to Northampton and Plymouth, the president's family will be accompanied by the cabinet officers and their wives, J. Butler Wright, third assistant secretary of state; Col. C. O. Sherrill, military aide to the president; Capt. Adolphus Andrews, naval aide; Lieut. Commander Joel T. Boone and Major James E. Couper, the president's physicians who attended young Calvin in his last illness; C. Bacon Slomp, secretary to the president; E. T. Clark, the president's personal secretary and Mrs. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stearns and their son, all friends, will be on the funeral train.

The party will be joined at Northampton by John Coolidge, the president's father.

To bear the body to its last resting place, six marines, assigned to the presidential yacht Mayflower, who with six bluejackets from the yacht, have stood guard over the bier in the East room of the White House since yesterday, also will proceed with the party under command of Lieut. Edgar Allen Poe.

The president consented to the military guard for his son when it was chosen from among those aboard the Mayflower who had become his fast friends during the week end trips with the president's family on the yacht which were young Calvin's happiest occasions in the White House.

The president and Mrs. Coolidge were said to have faced the ordeal of the funeral service today with the same fortitude with which they have so far borne their heavy sorrow. John, the elder son, who has lost an inseparable companion in Calvin's death, also was said to be showing as brave front as a boy could.

For 4 p. m., the funeral rites included first the reading of the 23rd Psalm, John XIV, verses 1 to 3, 15 to 20 and 25 to 27, and Romans 8, verses 31 to 39. The selection for the quartet, which the boy had heard on previous occasions, was the hymn, "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go." Reading by the Rev. Mr. Pierce of "Away," by James Whitcomb Riley and Tennyson's "Crossing The Bar" followed, and then the hymn, "Still, Still With Thee When Purple Morning Breaketh," by the quartet and the benediction.

Musicians from the Mayflower were asked to play a prelude and postlude.

President Coolidge visited his office for a short time this forenoon. Secretary Hughes, who returned today from Philadelphia, called on him there.

Mr. Hughes was with Mrs. Hughes, who joined the other members of the cabinet at the funeral this afternoon and will go to Northampton and Plymouth.

Government departments were ordered by their heads to close at 3 p. m. No official instructions went out, but each department acting for itself, decided to cease all business an hour before the funeral services.

Northampton to Pay Tribute
NORTHAMPTON, July 8.—This city prepared today to join with President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge in the funeral services among his home town folk for Calvin Coolidge, Jr. The body of the boy who had grown up among them will be brought here tomorrow.

AGED MAN KILLS WIFE
AND HANGS HIMSELF

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., July 8.—Senile dementia is believed by the authorities to have caused Charles N. Wilcox, 68, former president of the Chicago, Lake Shore & South Bend Railway Co., operating between Chicago and South Bend, Ind., to kill his wife, 70, with an axe, a razor and a potato masher and then hang himself at their Long Beach, Ind., home Monday night.

The bodies, fully clothed, were found last night by officers, who, summoned by neighbors, broke into the home. Mrs. Wilcox lay near a bed, her skull crushed and throat cut. Her husband was hanging by a half-inch rope in a clothes closet, the head nearly severed by the rope.

Always keep a little tomato sauce on hand for use when you yawn over meat, vegetables or macaroni.

morning, and all business will stop for two hours in the forenoon covering the period in which the funeral train will pause for services at the Edwards Congregational church on the way from Washington to Plymouth, Vt. for burial.

These services will be simple as requested by President Coolidge. Acting Mayor Richard E. Pierce, in a formal proclamation, calling for suspension of business in tribute to his memory, urged that the president's desire for simplicity be carried out in every detail. As a result, the half-staffing of flags was the only outward demonstration of the city's grief, plans for memorial decorations having been abandoned in deference to the president's wish.

"Eight of them there were," the skipper says.

"One measured some seven acres. We sighted them in the Palawan passage. That is a sort of cut in the China sea, between Borneo and the Palawan island of the Philippine group."

"There were palm trees on them higher than our wireless masts. Fooled us, too."

Lowell Doughboys Do
Their Stuff at Camp Devens

Sergt. Jones and Corp. Angove are leading the exciting race for best scores in D company. Jones had two 80s, one 45 and a 19 yesterday. Angove made two 80s and two 48s. Many of the rookies in D company checked in good scores for first-time tries and are steadily improving.

C company sharpshooters spent a profitable day on the busy target lines, also, with good, clean scores checked up when the 530 return-to-haracks bugle sounded. Private McSweeney starred for C company with a 37 in rapid firing and 94 in slow firing. Sgt. Pearsall had commendable scores. Private Norman McCallum's work was of the very best, also, with a 97 tally at slow firing with rifle, out of a possible 100. Corp. Boutwell made a 38 rapid fire and 82 slow fire. Firing 19 shots in 10 minutes. Private Brennan's mark for the day was a 39—tying the score with Corp. Boutwell and also securing 39 at slow firing.

All of the Lowell khaki-clads are in fine physical condition, not a man visiting the regimental hospital at "sick call" except for a few boxes of salve for sore feet. Yesterday, the mercury's highest range on the open field at Camp Devens was 98. In some of the units of the 26th division outside of Lowell, men were overcome by the heat and humidity which was extreme, but there were no serious cases of illness reported anywhere in the entire camp up to last evening.

26 on Devens Ranges
The heat was deadly on the Shirley and Cranberry pond ranges. The 101st infantrymen were stationed at the same targets with the 152d regimental shooters, and excellent fraternal comradeship was in evidence all day. The Lowell infantrymen were forced to carry along New England boiled dinners in their haversacks yesterday, with plenty of bread and butter and hot coffee on the side, the cooks luckily arriving on time with the 152d khaki-decked wagon that holds the all-cooked and all-hot for the target shooters.

Over on the other side of the camp during the day, various units of the 26th division played a tank drama, demonstrating the latest theories for the use of the deadly weapons in war. There were maneuvers in attack and defense and snappy exhibitions of the power of the big tanks in covering broken ground and terrain.

The airplanes assigned to Devens to assist in the summer war maneuvers, performed again today to the edification of many visitors from different sections of New England. Rev. Michael J. O'Connor, who has "soldiered" for 20 years and was two years in France during the World war, a greatly beloved chaplain of the 26th division, took his first air ride yesterday in a national guard plane. The landing was made on a broken field, the plane being badly wrecked, but the genial padre stepped out of the machine with a smile, not a bit alarmed and happily not injured.

Gov. Cox to Attend
BOSTON, July 8.—Governor Chandler H. Cox, with a staff officer not selected yet, will attend the funeral services for Calvin Coolidge, Jr., at Northampton, tomorrow. It was announced at the state house today. He is expected to leave this evening, and will return tomorrow afternoon.

Devens Troops to Attend
AYER, July 8.—The regular army troops stationed at Camp Devens will send military escorts to Northampton and Plymouth, for the funeral services tomorrow in connection with the funeral of Calvin Coolidge, Jr. A troop of the Third cavalry will go to Plymouth, to patrol the narrow road over which the cortege will pass on the 12 mile trip from Ludlow, where the body will be taken from the train. The Fifth infantry will send a detachment to Northampton for the services there.

Scouts Express Sympathy
NEW YORK, July 8.—The national council of the Boy Scouts of America has sent to President and Mrs. Coolidge an expression of sympathy in the death of their son who was a boy scout.

"But, sir, they were floating along as pretty as you please. And they came within 40 feet of us."

A generalized substantiation of Captain Pendlebury's story comes from the National Geographic society.

These islands are not unique, its records reveal. Others have been seen in tidal rivers, chiefly off the east coast of Borneo.

They are cut loose from the mainland by small inlets. And in time of flood or tidal disturbance, they are carried out to the sea.

Lowell Camp Details

Capt. Donald R. MacIntyre, and Capt. George D. Crowell, of C and D companies, respectively, are highly satisfied with the results of the first three days' tour of their Lowell commands. They claim the boys are doing nicely and everybody is on the job. Quarters occupied by the two contingents are kept in excellent condition, daily inspections by division military experts finding the quarters of C and D always up to barracks regulations. The Lowell soldiers are getting more and better sustenance in the grub line also, rations coming with more variety and in ample supply.

C company has two expert cooks in Bruce Barnes and Phil Duhe. The latter is a veteran of old Company C, Sixth Massachusetts regiment, and his specialty is a "western Waldorf," whatever that is. Phil also specializes in chop suoy and the boys are hopeful for the best. Sergt. Leo D. Krug is in charge of the company mess, prepares the champion menus in the nourishment line, according to stipulations.

Today's vitamin menu was an appetizer and Company C and D boys gave three cheers when they saw the morning offering—bacon and eggs, fried potatoes, bread and coffee. Dinner brought the "New England boiled," while for supper tonight, the dough-boys and officers will revel in corned beef hash, stewed peaches, bread and butter and coffee. Mess Sergt. Nash is preparing a special feast when Lowell visitors arrive, and there is always an "extra special" viand on the Sabbath day with 1-6-0-c-r-a-s-m.

Next Sunday's dinner at the Lowell troopers' mess parlors will include fried chicken, mashed potatoes, creamed peas, ice cream and coffee. In the morning, before the church call, there will be served to the members of C and D companies, hot buns, bacon, scrambled eggs and iced cantaloupes. Mess Sergt. Nash handles the serving of the provender for Company D boys. The Nash menus cannot be excelled as are provided in enticing variety same as Company C.

Company D mess hall was inspected again today and declared to be "top hole" and equal to the best in the regiment. The sanitary features of D's quarters where the grub is kept in refrigerators that hold tons of ice, are not excelled anywhere in camp.

The first battalion of the 182d Infantry, in which the two Lowell companies are listed in the official regimental line-up, was to have paraded for the first time at 4.30 this afternoon but because the Shirley rifle range target practice program was changed at the last moment, calling for three solid days of work with rifles, pistols and machine guns, the Lowell boys won't appear in parade formation until later in the week. For that reason, "Lowell Day," scheduled for today, was cancelled, but will be featured later on, date to be announced in the Sun.

Company D members have a new fire-fighting squad of all-hands fire-guards, whose duty is to fight brush fires principally and also attend to the inspection of quarters to see that no rigid rules are broken by the careless throwing of matches or smokes. The firemen's squad, always on the job, is made up of Privates Reeves, Lescard, Schenck and Wesley.

Doughboy Puta and Calla
Supply Sergt. Angus reported last night that he hasn't obtained that mule he made requisition for last Monday afternoon. The lads in D company are searching the Devens stables in the Fifth "regular" location.

The "Sunburn club" was organized Tuesday afternoon at the ranges. Sergt. Fitzgerald is president and Sergt. Dixon, who works for Burbeck, the Lowell milk distributor, is vice-president. Fitzgerald is the deepest tan of all, and resembles a scotch plantation cotton-picker. The boys call Dixon's facial coating "indoor tan."

Lowell visitors to camp, who may not know the direct way to the Company C and D barracks, are advised by the boys to "ask the man" at the camp entrance the direction to "inferno." The Lowell companies are located on Eleventh street leading from Fourth avenue.

Boxing contests are now the rule. The 152d infantrymen put on an excellent show last evening, with five bouts of three rounds each. There were no knockouts. The regimental band gave an excellent concert and more than 5,000 Bay State guardsmen ended it all.

Company C and B of the 182nd infantry, Lawrence, have challenged Lowell military baseball stars. And a game is now being arranged for later in the week. Top Sergt. Fritze Gagnon is handling the details for the contest.

Sergt. Pearsall entertained visitors from Lowell yesterday. Sergt. Webster has been assigned heavy guard duty for the remainder of the week and expects to obtain a little sleep for him, they say, for the "sarge" treats 'em well when he is off post.

No summer encampment would be quite right without a "Nick Altrack." The Company C refer to the genial Private Larson, "comedian" and the life of the party, day and night. The duet, Daisy and Collins, keep the recreation programs moving speedily at all times in C company quarters, also. They are called "gold-brickers," whatever the boys mean by that title. Ask Rudolph.

Knowing that the members are now bragging that the quarters at night are "the quietest in the division," Sergt. Murray is detailed to keep tabs on 'em.

Kitchen police of Company C, selected yesterday for the 15-day tour of duty, include Privs. G. Richardson, Moran, Tate and Scoble. Sergt. Coakley is the man behind. Sergt. Nash is in charge of the "D" of Company D, the list including "Champ" Boland and John Garside.

The official war maneuvering program to be taken up by Lowell national guardsmen during the remainder of the present encampment, was given to The Sun today, and is as follows:

Thursday—Extended order drill and probable parade of 1st battalion, 182nd infantry.

Friday—Extended order maneuvers by all rifle companies.

Saturday—Scouting and patrols.

Sunday—Church services: all-day recitation to visitors.

Monday—Platoon drills: combat principles: regimental parade in early evening.

Tuesday—Atto.

Saturday—Break camp and return to home stations.

On Wednesday next, beside regular military schedules, there will be physical drill, bayonets and automatic rifle firing. On Thursday of the same is in order, with additional practice on outpost and field inspection.

TODAY'S EVENTS AT OLYMPICS

Competition With Lead of 44 Points

Finns Nearest Rivals Without Representation in Two of Three Events Today

PARIS, July 9. (By the Associated Press.)—American track and field athletes entered the Colombes stadium today, with a comfortable lead over all the other competing nations, having secured 35 points in the first three days of the meet.

Their nearest rivals, the Finns, had small opportunity of cutting down the margin as they were without representation in two of the three events to be concluded during the afternoon, the 110-metre hurdles and the 200-metre dash. Their only chance of reducing America's 44-point lead was in the 3000-metre steeplechase. The shorter distance events are expected to resolve themselves into battles between the United States and the representatives of the various nations in the British empire.

Finland is confident that one of her endurance stars will win the steeplechase, sending her flag up the Olympic pole for the fourth time this week. The American banner has already been sent aloft four times, in recognition of Yankee victories in the 400-metre hurdles, the high jump, broad jump and shotput.

Three of the six competitors in the 110-metre hurdles this afternoon are Americans—George Gaithe of Ohio State, Dan Kinsey of University of Illinois, and Karl Anderson, Illinois Athletic club. The others are the two Swedes, Christensen and Petersson, and the South African, Atkinson. In the elimination trials yesterday, the fastest time was made by Guthrie and Atkinson, both going over the jumps in 15.1-5 seconds.

The 200-metre sprint will be an English speaking affair, except for one of the 12 starters, Andre Mourlon of France.

U. S. Wins in Trap Shooting

PARIS, July 9. (By the Associated Press.)—The United States was the victor in the Olympic trap shooting events which ended today, piling up a score of 15 points. Hungary was second with ten, Finland third, with nine, Canada fourth with eight, Belgium fifth with five, Sweden sixth with two, and Australia seventh with one.

STRAIGHT DOPE BENNY ON THE

Only thing those triple-deck demonstrations in democratic convention demonstrated was that so-called human voice can take more punishment than old Perky Flynn.

Practice of wowing and yahooping a favorite son into the White House wine cellar may be naïf and political but it's a lot of applause to the man in the rafters who wants to know what he's getting and if it's worth carrying home.

A wild, unshorn demonstration lasting 3 hours 45 minutes and 18 seconds is set down in the books as a record—and it is a record for assinine, dumbness and thick-skulled imbecility.

Just what connection a cheer leader has with reduced taxes, $150 wheat, an enlarged aerial fleet and a return to the hit-and-run style of baseball ain't so clear to a guy who is down to his last two eyes.

In sports world the boys take their demonstrations in lighter vein. Ruth comes to bat. Wolves in the bleachers launch a demonstration. "Strike out the big bum!" they demand. Ruth swats apple out of yard. Wolves launch another demonstration. "Alta-boy Babe!" they shout. No matter what happens the baseball demonstration always ends satisfactorily.

Nor has the elevating and refining influences of collegiate atmosphere and any noticeable affect on sportive demonstrations. "Hold 'em, Harvard," plead 50,000 well-wrought throats in stadium. Yale immediately plows through for eighteenth touchdown.

Do hell-trodden delegates rave and rant, storm and stew, do they seize state standards and march, protesting, up and down in front of speaker's rostrum, do they move to points of disorder and demand roll calls?

The moral is plain enough. Never leave a white chiffon dress where a goal can get at it.

No, that is not the way the festive demonstration is demonstrated in athletics. The 50,000 throats call for nine

THE TODDLER TO STAGE COMEBACK

By N.E.A. Service
CLEVELAND, July 9.—Harness horses fans throughout the country are watching with unusual interest the progress of The Toddler, 2:03 1/4, in the stable of Harry Stinson, noted Canuck trainer, who has been located at North Randall for many years.

A few seasons ago, The Toddler, a son of Kentucky Todd, was one of the sensations of the Grand Circuit. In 1920 at Columbus he sprang a great surprise when he trotted the third heat of the $3000 Neil House stake in the fast time of 2:03 1/4, beating such good ones as Wilkesbrower and Royal Mack in a six-hunt race.

His last appearance was in 1921, when he was three times first in five starts and never back of third money.

Near the close of the 1921 season Stinson announced that The Toddler would be shipped to Lexington, start in the Castleton cup race and win or lose be retired.

It seemed as though Stinson intended to keep his word, but evidently he figured that the horse had a lot of good races left in him, so he put him into training again this spring.

This year's trans-Mississippi golf championship, the third most important amateur event in America, was won by James Manion of St. Louis, a

Thomas J. Powers, president of the local carmen's union, presided last night at a meeting held to discuss a proposed outing of the local trolley-men with the Haverhill and Lawrence locals. Preliminary plans were made and various committees named and it was decided to recommend to the other locals that the date be set as late next month.

President Powers reported on the carmen's conference in Boston a few days ago and met with election as delegate to the state A. F. of L. convention which opens August 4.

raha and a well lubricated locomotive, a tribute to grit and courage of the slaughtered heroes. The thing is done quickly, painlessly and without friction.

SEVEN-INNING TIE IN JUNIOR TWI LEAGUE

The Emeralds and Mysteries battled seven innings to a 7 to 7 deadlock in the Junior Twilight League game on the North common last night. The Centralville team jumped away to a three-run lead in the second inning, but the Emeralds tied it up in the fourth and forged ahead in the fifth. One run for the Mysteries in the fifth and two more in the seventh evened the count again and darkness called a halt. Normandia got three hits, two of the doubles.

MICHIGAN UPSETS EXPERTS' DOPE

By N.E.A. Service
ANN ARBOR, Mich., July 9.—Michigan didn't win the western conference track and field meet recently held on Stagg field, Chicago. It didn't expect to. But Coach Steve Farrell's athletes did succeed in springing a few sharp surprises.

One of the biggest upsets was the victory of DeHart Hubbard, colored star, in the 100-yard dash. With the cream of the middle west sprinters in the event, Michigan wasn't looked upon to finish better than fourth. But he up and did it nevertheless, leading such recognized celebrities as Evans and Ayres of Illinois and McAndrews, Wisconsin.

Then came the shocking defeat of Dean Brownell, ace pole vaulter of Illinois. Here the Sucker star was conceded a certain first place. But Jim Bronker of Michigan tipped the dope by whipping Brownell in the Urbana lad's favorite event.

Perhaps the most astonishing upset from a Michigan viewpoint was the victory of Dick Doyle, Maize and Blue sophomore weight man, in the shotput. Doyle hadn't been figured to show. But his heave of 45 feet 4 1/2 inches was good enough to win.

MACKS WEAK AT BAT

The Athletics are the weakest hitting team in the majors. That's why they are last. Strand and Risher have failed to live up to expectations at the bat.

JOHNSON GREATEST

Jimmy Dunn, Cleveland manager, who made a world champion of Johnny Kibane, says Jack Johnson, the negro, was the best heavyweight champion he ever saw.

WALT JOHNSON IS 37

The speedball king of pitchers, Walter Johnson, is 37 years of age. Fans are pulling for Washington to win this year so Johnson can pitch a world series game.

FOURTH ROUND IN SINGLES MATCHES

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—(By the Associated Press.) The singles matches of the national clay court tennis championship entered the fourth round of play today with all the seeded players of the tournament qualified and paired.

The pairings brought together A. H. Chapin, Jr., Springfield, Mass., and Robert E. Schlessinger of Australia in a match of great interest due to the recent defeat of the Australian star by Chapin in four sets at the Western championships in Indianapolis.

Clarence J. "Peck" Griffin, San Francisco, met Wray D. Brown, local star and Howard Kinsey played A. L. Kuhler, Cincinnati. William T. Tilden, II, Philadelphia, Walter Westaway, Pasadena, Cal., Brian J. C. Norton, St. Louis, Robert Kinsey, were matched with younger stars.

Jack Daw's Adventure. Chapter 15

Flip started to bark loudly. He realized that his master was in danger of being hurt as his little body turned round and round as he slipped slowly, but surely, towards the deck of the sailing vessel. Then four sailors appeared just below Jack with a huge canvas net. Each took hold of a corner.

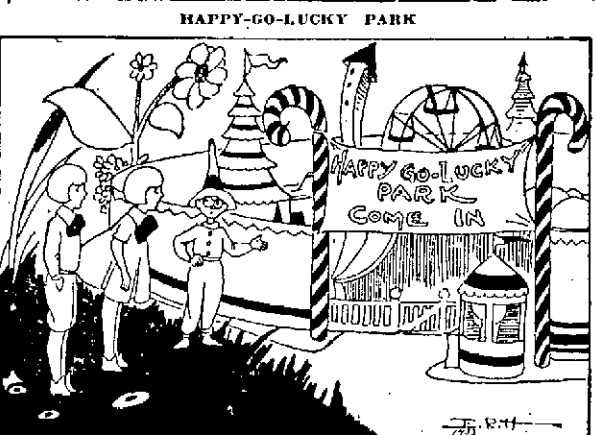

Many sailors had lost their footing while high up on one of the masts and this canvas was always ready. The four sailors pulled it open and held tight. Then, suddenly, Jack broke out of the sail trappings and dropped into the net. It was like landing on a bed and he wasn't hurt.

By this time the sailing ship was under way and a strong wind had blown it out to sea. Darkness had started to set in and Jack asked the captain if he might stand up at the wheel with the man who was steering the boat. "Go right ahead," replied the captain, so Jack was soon there. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

THERE IT WAS, WITH A BIG SIGN OVER THE GATE

Nancy and Nick were surprised when Mister Zip, their new (little) friend, took them to the edge of the woods and showed them where his new amusement park was.

There it was, with a big sign over the gate which said "Happy-Go-Lucky Park. Come In."

"Can anybody go in?" asked Nancy. "Anybody who wants to," said Mister Zip.

"Sure!" nodded Mister Zip. "Anybody who has 10 cents. But it takes more to get out than it does to get in."

"Why?" asked Nick in surprise. "Oh, because," said Mister Zip.

"When people come they want to try everything and buy everything and it costs money. I'm not as young as I used to be and so I decided that I had better make my fortune. This is the way I'm going to do it."

"Who is coming to your park?" asked Nancy.

"Well," said Mister Zip, sticking his tongue into his cheek and looking very, very happy. "I hope, I thought, I would let Nick do my advertising and pass around bills telling all about the park and having pictures on the bills. Just like circuses have pictures pasted up everywhere to let people know about it."

"The Fairy Queen said that you and Nick knew where all the wood people lived," went on Mister Zip. "Is that so? And the meadow people and barnyard people?"

"Yes—we do know," said Nancy eagerly. "May I help Nick to pass the bills around?"

"You indicate," said Mister Zip. "Here they are."

And opening a box he took out a lot of bills with printing on them. Some were red and some green and some yellow and some blue.

"Oh, aren't they lovely!" exclaimed Nancy. "I know all the people will like them. But I'll have to be careful not to give Billy Bull a red one. He hates red."

"Huh! What's that?" cried Mister Zip. "Billy Bull, did you say? We don't want any bulls around here, so we don't, or any cows or pigs or horses or sheep or goats or anybody from the farmyard except the chickens and ducks and maybe the pussy cat. Not even dogs are allowed in."

"Why, I thought you said anybody that had 10 cents," said Nancy in surprise.

"Well, I guess those people wouldn't need any 10 cents," declared Mister Zip. "All they would need are four feet. They could step right over the fence and smash everything."

"But how about the birds?" said Nick. "They can come in whenever they want to, I guess."

"Hopping rain birds!" exclaimed Mister Zip. "You do talk a lot! But I never thought about the birds. We'll have to let them in free."

"Say," said Mrs. Cracknuts to Daddy Cracknuts at that very minute. "I think we'd better find out what's go-

At that minute Nick knocked at her front door and handed in a bill.

"BEHIND BARS FOR BANISHING THE BAR"

NEW YORK, July 8.—William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league before being convicted of forgery here, according to Sing Sing prison attaches, is to publish a book shortly for which he has been gathering material.

"Behind Bars for Banishing the Bar," is to be the title of the work, which is to describe Mr. Anderson's battle of several years with the forces of John Barter, a friend of Mr. Anderson's, who is to contain "the story of America's first prohibition prisoner."

JOINT NOTE TO ALLIES CROWDS FLOCK TO CITY BATHING BEACH

Suggestions on How to Settle Differences Over
Dawes Report

PARIS, July 9.—(By the Associated Press) A joint note to the allies suggesting how the different questions connected with the application of the Dawes plan might be settled, was drawn up at the conference yesterday and this morning, between Prime Minister MacDonald and Premier Herriot of France, the British premier announced today.

Mr. MacDonald said the document he had drawn up with M. Herriot constituted the joint note which explained how the Dawes plan problem might be settled at the inter-allied conference, which remained fixed for July 16. He declared there was no thought of postponing the conference.

GUILTY OF ASSAULT ON CRIPPLED BOY

One of the most appealing cases ever brought before the district court of this city was heard this morning when Kachador Manogian was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery on Joseph Smith, a 12-year-old boy, who has been crippled since a baby and is unable to walk.

The plaintiff was carried into court in his mother's arms this morning and told a clear story of the assault. On last Tuesday, he said, when coming home from a store in Charles street, he was riding in a little cart and when in front of the defendant's property met a group of boys and girls. He stopped, and as he did, the defendant came out and kicked another boy and then kicked him in the side.

Attorney Tierney defended Manogian and cross-examined the child at length, but was unable to shake his story. Another boy, about the same age as the plaintiff, who was also kicked, told his story and testified that the defendant, the plaintiff's mother, Joseph Smith, who brought the action, testified as to the child's condition.

Manogian was the first to testify for the defense and said through an interpreter that the boys in the neighborhood of his Charles street property play with the child and that he is a mother, Joseph Smith, who brought the action, testified as to the child's condition.

He denied striking any of the boys and said he did not see the plaintiff at all and that he had never bothered him.

In finding the defendant guilty, Judge Fisher said he believed the story of the crippled boy but, before imposing sentence, called his mother to the stand and warned her to keep her other children away from the defendant's store. He then imposed a fine of $50 which was appealed, and bonds were set at $200.

Paul F. McKenney, charged with manslaughter, operating while drunk and drunkennes in connection with the death of Richard Maynard after an automobile accident on the Lawrence boulevard June 17, was granted a continuance of a week as the request for trial was not ready.

Paul Sarkisian, assault and battery, was continued to tomorrow for trial. Gilbert J. Pelletier, larceny, was continued to Saturday.

Peter Demetras was fined $10 for driving an automobile without a license.

Charles A. Soden, drunk and operating a machine while drunk, was continued to July 15.

John Tanfarrak, who was arrested last night by Motor Vehicle Inspector Eugene Loupret for driving after his license had been revoked, was called for trial this morning, but as the defendant is already on a continuance for a similar offense, the case was continued to July 19 so that both charges could be tried at the same time.

PRES. COOLIDGE ACTS TO SAVE DAWES PLAN

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Cutting short his vacation, Ambassador Houghton will sail for Berlin on Thursday. He arrived on the Levant only last Tuesday.

Wednesday night he was a White House guest, discussing the German situation and the Dawes plan with the president, Secretary of State Hughes and Gen. Charles G. Dawes. Thursday morning he returned to New York and spent the day looking after personal business affairs.

Ambassador Houghton's sudden and unexpected return to his post is at the request of the president and Secretary Hughes, because of the critical developments in connection with the Dawes plan following the misunderstanding between Premier MacDonald and Herriot, which the former is now seeking to clear up.

The American envoy to Germany frankly feels that the Dawes plan offers the only way out for that much-harassed republic, and if it should fail for any reason, an economic settlement in Europe would be postponed indefinitely.

It is recognized that Ambassador Houghton, having the confidence of Berlin officials and German leaders in general, will be in a position to extend friendly counsel whenever it promises to be helpful.

Incidentally the president and his advisers are not overlooking the danger that failure to put the Dawes plan to work before the November elections would make the selection of Gen. Dawes as the vice presidential nominee a boomerang on the republican party.

Ambassador Houghton said he would probably return to this country in August for a vacation. It was understood when he arrived here that he planned to stay for two months.

TEXTILE SCHOOL TRUSTEES APPOINTED

(Special to The Sun.)
BOSTON, July 9.—The governor today appointed the trustees of the Lowell textile school, Royal P. White of Lowell, Herbert Waterhouse of Chelmsford, Arthur G. Pollard of Lowell, Edward A. Bigelow of Worcester and Edward B. Wentworth of Malden.

The warm weather of yesterday and today has made the city baths on the Pawtucket boulevard the mecca for many seeking relief and Parks Supt. Kernan has found it advisable to add two temporary laborers to the staff there in order that the four life-savers may devote all their time to beach duty.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Kernan counted 31 machines at the bathhouse and scores of bathers came on foot. The park superintendent would not estimate the number of bathers, saying that so many came in automobiles, already dressed for the water, there is no way of keeping accurate tally at the bathhouse.

The park department has requested the purchasing agent to call for bids on the removal of the unsightly buildings of the old jam factory, on the river bank near Pawtucket bridge. It is desired to clear this recently acquired property at once and put in shape for use as a park.

Work started yesterday on the making of the two new baseball diamonds on the old fair grounds property. This property is being put into shape for park purposes and is known as the John J. O'Donnell playground, so named in honor of a deceased World war veteran.

A gang of men is at work in the various playgrounds of the city repairing playground apparatus which usage has put out of order. Another gang is busy watering lawns which are burning under the protracted hot spell. The lawn of city hall and Cardinal O'Connell parkway received special attention today.

The park department has under advisement the proposal of providing several tennis courts on the eight acres of land in Centralville purchased for park purposes this week by the city from the Seth B. Hall heirs. The schedule of the girls' volleyball teams in the playground league was announced today as follows:

WOODLAND FIRE IN WESTFORD TOWN

A forest fire broke out in the town of Westford yesterday noon and is still burning, although its progress has been slowed down considerably by the efforts of a group of fire-fighters under the command of Fire Warden Harry Nesmith.

The fire is in a section of the town away from any buildings and is in spruce land. Considerable cordwood has been destroyed and the fire is now heading towards the Tyngsboro town line. As the Westford fire-fighting force is small, it is doubtful if the fire can be brought under control unless they are assisted by a heavy downpour of rain.

$5 FINE FOR PREMATURE ELKS LIONIZE SENIOR COMMENDATIONS FOR FOURTH CELEBRATION P. E. R. OF LOWELL TWO PATROLMEN

Bernard T. Brennan was arraigned in district court this morning before Judge Fisher on a charge of exploding firecrackers before the time set by law, and was found guilty and fined $5.

The case was one of the most unusual brought into district court in some time as the law is one which is "honored in the breach more than in the observance."

Brennan was arrested July 1 by Officer McGreevey in Merrimack street, near Dutton, after he had thrown a firecracker from the machine in which he was riding. In district court this morning the officer testified to seeing Brennan light the firecracker and throw it from the rear seat of the car.

Deputy Downey was the second witness called and testified that at the station on the night in question, Brennan admitted he had been drinking.

Atty. Thomas Higgins defended Brennan and in examining Officer McGreevey, asked that the officer repeat the talk he had with defendant prior to the arrest. The officer said that when he stopped the machine he asked the occupants where they were from and several said they were from Worcester.

Brennan, testifying for himself, said he was in the front seat of the automobile and that a person in the rear seat lighted the firecracker and he had to throw it out or it would have exploded in his hand.

Atty. Higgins argued that as there was no city ordinance concerning this offense and as the city had never accepted the state regulation, he believed his client should be acquitted. Judge Fisher thought otherwise and found Brennan guilty, fining him $5. Brennan appealed but changed his mind within a few minutes and paid the fine.

BRITISH AND YANKEE SAILORS FRATERNIZE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Closing a day in which officers and bluejackets of the British navy in large numbers fraternized with Americans on United States soil for the first time in 40 years, Vice Admiral Sir Frederick Field predicted here last night that the time is near when "petty differences between England and America will melt away as the mists disappear in San Francisco harbor."

Sir Frederick, commander of a world-circling British squadron now in San Francisco, bay made his prophecy to a tremendous ovation accorded him by 800 guests at a banquet.

Dr. William H. Downs, spry and skittish at 78, was one of the youngest old Elks at the grand lodge session in Boston yesterday, where he cast his vote for John G. Price of Columbus, O., newly elected grand exalted ruler. The senior past exalted ruler of Lowell lodge went down yesterday morning with P.E.R. John J.

DR. WILLIAM H. DOWNS

Lee and after registering at the Copple House he attended the grand lodge election.

Dr. Downs, who took office as exalted ruler here in 1890, was lionized by many at the convention. Bedecked with badges and hailed by everyone as one of the old-timers of Elksdom, he was kept busy all afternoon shaking hands with old friends and posing for the score of camera men assigned by metropolitan papers to get the sidelights of the big Elks meeting.

The old past exalted ruler is the oldest living past exalted ruler in Massachusetts and is dividing the New England honors with an Elk in Providence, R. I., who served that lodge in 1890 as exalted ruler. The old doctor claims he could beat his Providence rival at billiards any day of the week and perhaps in a foot-race, "or, course, I wouldn't try any broad jumps with him," said the doctor, "but I don't suppose he'd want to anyway." The doctor will meet his Providence rival for the first time tomorrow when the big parade is to be held in the Hub.

NELSON MANAGER FOR LA FOLLETTE

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Senator La Follette made formal announcement yesterday afternoon that his campaign will be managed by Representative John M. Nelson of Wisconsin. The choice was expected. Mr. Nelson has been the outstanding lieutenant of the La Follette campaign and handled the house irregulars in every fight.

Since 1906 Representative Nelson has been a member of the house, elected as a republican, but always a thorn in the flesh of the G. O. P. machine. Nelson is counted on to shoulder much of the load that La Follette's health prohibits him from carrying.

The veteran Wisconsin Senator remains virtually in seclusion at his home here; he has dodged personal publicity ever since the Cleveland campaign.

Patrolmen William P. Liston and John J. Leahy of the liquor squad of the local police department were today commended by Supt. Thomas R. Atkinson for their arrest on July 3 of Ralph Burdgett on the charge of having burglar's tools in his possession. Burdgett was later found to be on parole from the state prison.

The commendation follows:

"Special Order, No. 30.

"Patrolmen William P. Liston and John J. Leahy are hereby publicly commended for the arrest of Ralph Burdgett on the night of July 3, 1924, on the charge of having burglar's tools in his possession and who proved to be a man on parole from the state prison, who later admitted contemplating a felony. The action of the officers in this case is worthy of emulation by every man in the department.

"THOMAS R. ATKINSON, Supt."

The commendation was read at all roll calls today.

FOUND GUILTY OF CRUELTY TO HORSE

Joseph J. Sweeney of Court street, who gave his occupation as a "dealer in anything, no matter how large or small," was fined $25 in district court today for cruelty to a horse.

Lt. Frawley and Officer Murphy of the police department and Asst. Richard Eaton of the Humane society appeared for the prosecution and Mr. Sweeney and driver, a youth named Higgins, were witnesses for the defense.

Testimony of the witnesses brought out the fact that on or about June 12, Higgins started to drive four horses from Court street to Lawrence for Mr. Sweeney.

When near the Lowell cemetery in Boylston street, Lt. Frawley and Officer Murphy stopped the driver and told him one horse was lame. The police then notified Agent Richardson of the Humane society, who made a preliminary examination and found Dr. Eaton examine the horse thoroughly the next day. Dr. Eaton testified that one of its feet was in bad condition.

The driver of the wagon, Higgins, said the horse was not lame when he left the stable and Sweeney testified that after the horse was stopped by the police, he took from its foot a long nail which was the cause of its lameness.

Mr. Sweeney conducted his own case and at the conclusion of testimony offered a lengthy argument as to why he shouldn't be found guilty. Despite his argument, Judge Fisher imposed a fine of $25, which was appealed and Mr. Sweeney held in bonds of $100 for the superior court.

TENANTS DRIVEN OUT BY BLOCK FIRE

Several tenants of a block numbered 453-457 Market street were driven to the street in scanty apparel this morning when fire broke out in the lower floor of the building.

An alarm from box 125 was sounded at 2.04 o'clock and firemen answering this alarm, assisted by police officers, succeeded in getting all the tenants out of the building.

The fire proved to be stubborn and before it was extinguished several hose lines were brought into play. The amount of the damage could not be given this morning but it is believed it will be considerable.

HELD WITHOUT BAIL ON MURDER CHARGE

EXETER, N. H., July 9.—John P. McDuffy was held without bail for the October grand jury when arraigned here today on a charge of murder. He is alleged to have shot and killed Patrolman Albert L. Colson and Arthur C. Bennett when they came to his house on the Fourth of July to quell a disturbance caused by boys.

TWO SHOTS FIRED AT RUMANIAN LEGATION

FOREST FIRES BEYOND CONTROL

BANGOR, Me., July 9.—Forest fires on the Masardis stream back of Bangor were reported this forenoon to be beyond the control of a crew of 50 fire fighters, according to information received here by the Bangor & Aroostook railroad. The fire is rapidly spreading.

According to the railroad officials, the town of Masardis is not threatened at present.

HELD IN CONNECTION WITH STABBING

ANSONIA, Conn., July 9.—Theodore De Bona, 29, was arrested here last night and turned over to the Massachusetts state police as a result of a stabbing affray in a construction camp at Brimfield, Mass. Two men who were stabbed are said to be in a hospital in a critical condition.

The prisoner agreed to return to Massachusetts without requisition papers and the Bay State officers took him to Springfield.

terday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, when local mercury glasses registered a mean relative humidity of 75 per cent. The mean temperature yesterday was 75, while the maximum was 92, as recorded by local glasses of standing in the community.

The weather yesterday was the warmest of the season, and New England folks suffered more than anywhere in the U. S. A. The bathing pool off Pawtucket boulevard was crowded with young and old of both sexes, trying to obtain relief from the intense heat and sweltering humidity; the water was rather cold, but no one minded that. No severe cases of heat prostration were reported during the day.

Weather wisecracks were looking for thunderstorms all day last night, and again this morning, too, for there were showers on all sides of New England, but none anywhere near Lowell. The wind yesterday blew mostly south.

Unsettled weather, with showers and thunderstorms are predicted for tonight and probably tomorrow, and although the expected rains may bring some relief, not much change in temperature is expected tomorrow. If anything, the mercury will climb a little higher than today's recording, so the weather sharps say.

Snu readers who want to know just how this humid temperature blot came from, and here's the answer.

The intense heat and humidity is caused by the presence of a "high" just over New England and a "low" pressure in the Great Lakes region. Both pressures are practically motionless. If the "high" moves sufficiently off to sea today and the "low" does not follow too closely behind, east winds for Lowell and vicinity are not impossible.

HUGHES ASKED TO AID IN SAVING MUIR'S LIFE

NEW YORK, July 9.—Secretary of State Hughes was asked today to aid in the movement for a commutation of the death sentence imposed by a Canadian court on Walter Muir, of New York city. Unless the sentence is commuted, Muir is to be hanged on Friday in Valleyfield, Que., for fatally shooting Henri LaViolette, in a quarrel over a hunting dog.

WOULD REPRIMAND THE DEMOCRATIC CHIEFS

BATON ROUGE, La., July 9.—A resolution voicing the "merited indignation" of the rank and file of the democratic party against the conduct of the national democratic convention was introduced yesterday in the lower house of the Louisiana legislature by Howard E. Brunner of Acadia. The resolution follows:

"Whereas the senate and house of representatives of the state of Louisiana are composed in their entirety of democrats, zealous of the welfare of the democratic party, believing that it is the duty of the party to look for the amelioration of his present unfortunate condition; and

"Whereas the present attitude of the different leaders and their supporters for the nomination by the democratic party for president of the United States now in convention assembled is of such a nature as to merit the just indignation of the rank and file of the democratic party who have at heart not the political advancement of any man or set of men, but the welfare of the party, therefore

"Be it resolved by the house of representatives of the state of Louisiana, the senate concurring, that we deplore the conduct of those responsible for the present unfavorable condition existing in the democratic convention in New York, and call upon the delegates from Louisiana to use their utmost efforts to bring about peace between the warring factions that in this coming presidential election the democracy of the nation may present a united front to the common enemy, and thus bring to our nation that peace and prosperity for which we all so ardently pray.

FOR RESTATEMENT OF COMMON LAW

PHILADELPHIA, July 9.—William Draper Lewis, director of the American Law Institute which is undertaking a restatement of the common law, today told the American Bar association, in annual session here that definite progress was being made and that there had been a steady increase in the realization of the necessity for the orderly expression of the common law.

Work is in progress, he said, on the law of contracts, torts, conflict of laws and agency. Drafts of parts of two topics have been finished he said, and will be presented to council of the institute later to the entire body and eventually to the legal profession as a whole for comment.

Of the three problems encountered by the committees undertaking the work, namely classification and treatment, conflicts, indecisions and the statement of principles in clear and simple English, declared Mr. Lewis, the last was the most difficult to solve. With that agreement on definition of terms, however, work proceeded rapidly.

LAWRENCE MEN ARE DISCHARGED

After a hearing this forenoon before United States Commissioner Richard R. White, the case of Henry J. Thompson, 563 Essex street, Lawrence, charged with interfering with federal officers and destroying evidence, was placed on file. Agent Walter Sullivan testified for the government. The defendant said he was intoxicated on the day in question and did not realize what he was doing, or that the men, Sullivan and Canola, were federal agents.

James Frizzell, also of Lawrence, was heard on a charge of illegal keeping and was discharged.

Warrants were issued for three Salisbury men on charges of interfering with federal agents.
